Cutting Dry Law Fund Off Deficiency Measure Incites Glass

Blaine Expected to Hamper Cruiser Project and Walsh Threatens

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (AP)—A decision today by Republican leaders to kill the first deficiency appropriation bill carrying the controversial $24,000,000 increase for prohibition enforcement drew a threat of a filibuster in the Senate against the second deficiency measure which would carry all items of the first except the dry fund.

Acting Chairman Wood of the House Appropriations Committee announced the plan of the party chieftains to put all provisions of the first deficiency measure except the dry fund item in the second deficiency bill now being drawn. It is then intended to add the $2,427,000 recommended by President Coolidge for increasing prohibition funds as a compromise on the Harris proposal for $24,000,000.

FILIBUSTER EXPECTED

Senator Glass, Democrat, Virginia, declared in the Senate that in the event this program is followed there will be little opportunity of getting the second deficiency bill through. His declaration was regarded as a threat of a filibuster.

Talk of filibuster filled the air today in the Senate with threats also against the Navy Department measure carrying the funds for starting the newly authorized cruiser construction program and against the long-pending Interior Department supply measure. Only seven days remain to the end of the session and leaders realize considerable talk on all of the propositions may block final action on some.

RIVER PLAN DRAWN UP

Five States Back Development

Arizona Holds Aloof While Others Ask Comprehensive Program for Water

Phoenix Men Make Hope for Tri-State Pact Slight by Ignoring Overture

SANTA FE (N. M.) Feb. 20. (Exclusive)—With virtually a week spent in deliberations and conferences over various phases of the possibility of negotiating a tri-State compact among California, Nevada and Arizona, it seems more than ever tonight that the second Santa Fe gathering of Colorado River delegations is destined to go down in history as a failure. To date Arizona has maintained a consistent position, consistent in so far as the negative attitude of her delegation is concerned but highly inconsistent when apparent willingness to attempt to reach an agreement of any nature with California and Nevada is taken into consideration.

One thing was accomplished today, but that was accomplished by Utah and the other upper basin States when the majority of the States represented here announced themselves favorable to a resolution urging "comprehensive development of the Colorado River basin," after the Boulder dam project act has been made effective. Even in this the Arizona commissioners refused to take part because, as they previously had stated, they do not recognize the validity of the Swing-Johnson bill.

TEXT OF RESOLUTION

The resolution, which was drawn by Louis Holther of Utah and Ward Bannister of Colorado, follows:

"Whereas, it is of vital importance that the Boulder Canyon project act be made effective by immediate ratification of the Colorado River compact as provided in said compact and provided in said act and whereas said act contemplates the adoption of a comprehensive plan of development of the entire Colorado River basin and whereas there are in the upper basin States on the main stream and its tributaries various dam sites which may be suitable for flood control, irrigation, power and other purposes, the early use of which sites is essential not only to the development of the upper basin but also to the protection of the water interests of all the Colorado River States; now, therefore, be it,

"Resolved by the representatives of the States now in conference assembled at Santa Fe, N. M., February 20, 1929, as follows: First, that first of all said Boulder dam project act should be made effective by immediate ratification of the Colorado River compact without reservations or conditions. Second, that the upper-basin States should investigate forthwith the sites within their borders, assemble data and confer thereon at a meeting to be called by the Governor of Utah at Salt Lake City, report their findings to the Secretary of the Interior and request him to proceed with dispatch to investigate such sites under the authority of Section 15 of the Boulder Canyon project act with a view to the comprehensive development of the Colorado River basin. Third, to facilitate further such comprehensive development of the Colorado River basin, appropriate legislation should be sought authorizing the Secretary of Interior to formulate and present to Congress a definite plan therefor with the units, in addition to Boulder Canyon project, selected and the order of their development specified. Fourth, that the next major project, following in order the Boulder Canyon project, in the comprehensive scheme of development should be located in the upper basin. Fifth, that the States adopting this resolution and their several and respective Congressional delegations be and hereby are respectfully urged to concur in the proposals of this resolution; and that copies of this resolution be forwarded forthwith to the governors, legislatures and delegations of each said States."

FAVORABLE VOTE

California, Nevada, New Mexico and Colorado voted in favor of adoption of the resolution. Utah commissioners asked to be excused because the resolution had been drawn at their request and Commissioner Whiting of Wyoming asked also to be excused from voting as he wishes to advise with officials of his State before taking any other position here than that of an observer.

GISH GIRLS APPEAL TAX FIAT

Actresses Ask Setting Aside of Ruling They Must Pay Deficiencies Amounting to $61,483

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (AP)—Lillian Gish and her sister, Dorothy Gish Rennie, motion-picture actresses who had contracts calling for combined salaries of more than $1,000,000 in 1926 and 1925, appealed to the Board of Tax Appeals today to set aside the ruling of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue that they must pay deficiencies in tax amounting to $61,483.

In her petition Lillian Gish set forth that she signed a contract with the Metro-Goldwyn corporation in 1925 which called for a total of $800,000 in two years at a rate of $7692 a week. She assigned her contract to the Players, Inc., a Delaware corporation, for "valuable consideration," to which her employers paid $223,073.

In making her tax return Miss Gish did not include the money called for in the contract, contending that she did not receive the money. The commissioner ruled that while she had a right to assign her salary, she received the money and must pay the tax. She deducted $24,000 in 1925 for expenditures of various sorts she held necessary to her work, but the collector reduced this amount to $10,476. She also claimed deductions of $2976 in 1925 for upkeep and depreciation of her automobile, and the Internal Revenue Bureau cut the amount in half.

Mrs. Rennie set forth that she had a contract with Inspiration Pictures for fifteen months at $1500 to $2500 a week and a share of the profits. She also assigned her salary to Players, Inc., who collected $43,500 in 1925. She did not include the amount in her income-tax returns on the ground that she did not receive the money. The collector ruled she received it and assessed a deficiency tax of $7172. She claimed $29,651 as deductions for necessary expenses and the bureau cut the amount in half, holding that the remainder was not substantiated by detailed statements.

HOUSEWIVES GET EDGE AS EDUCATORS

Two Years as Homemakers or Child Raiser Allows Short Cut to Diploma

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 20. (Exclusive)—A real home course was offered today by the State Board of Education. Under a ruling issued by the department, four years of practical housekeeping and child raising will be accepted at three State colleges as the equivalent of two years of university work in preparing to become a high school or junior college teacher in nutrition, home making, child care, cooking or sewing.

With the successful passing of two more years of training at the Chico or San Jose State teacher colleges, or the University of California at Los Angeles, the student will be certified to teach any subject of home making.

Women with a high school diploma and ranging in age from 22 to 45 years are eligible.

VAST LANDS CLAIMED FOR UNITED STATES BY BYRD

Flights Reveal Area Never Before Viewed by Antarctic Explorers; Two Ranges Discovered

BY RUSSELL OWEN

[Copyright, 1929, by New York Times and St. Louis Post Dispatch. All rights for publication reserved throughout the world.]

LITTLE AMERICA (Antarctica) Feb. 20. (Exclusive)—A new territory in the Antarctic has been claimed for the United States by Commander Byrd as the result of his last flights and particularly those of yesterday. Two new mountain ranges have been discovered. The Rockefeller Range is within the territory claimed by the British and known as the Ross Dependency but the other and larger range, peaks of which tower 9000 to 10,000 feet, is apparently outside the limit of the British claims and the beginning of a new land, between the Ross Sea and Graham Land of limitless possibilities. Other peaks to the east of the Rockefeller Range have been seen and everything indicates that Byrd in his flight next season will be able to chart a land greater in extent than the known land of the Ross Dependency and possibly equally majestic.

None of this territory to the eastward ever has been seen by another explorer. Scott, who discovered King Edward Land and the Scott Nunataks was not able to reach the shore. Prestau, Amundsen's lieutenant, reached the Nunataks but failed because of the limitation of his method of travel to sight the Rockefeller Range. Not only 40,000 square miles of Antarctica have been explored, due to the amazing visibility of an airplane, but the Rockefeller Range has been mapped by aero-camera and a sketch of the entire sector been made by Capt. Ashley McKinley of the Army Air Service, and the uncharted sketch of coast line east of the Bay of Whales has been mapped by camera.

MARIE BYRD LAND

This great new land, which has so aroused the enthusiasm of Byrd and the other members of his expedition has been named after a woman who has been little known to the public in connection with Commander Byrd's flight. He has had this in mind for a long time and talked of it one day while walking over the sunlit stretches of bay ice toward the base.

"I have named this land after the best sport and noblest person I know," he said after the flights yesterday. "One who has borne the brunt of all my adventures and to whom the credit belongs for anything I may have accomplished. This new land will be Marie Byrd Land."

The airplanes he and his other pilots have had of it as they have scouted swiftly sometimes at 100 miles an hour over the desolate snow hills of Antarctica, have indicated how important may be the result of the selection of this quadrant of the continent as a field of operations and the strategical value of a base as the Bay of Whales. Wherever they have flown they have found mountains or the suggestion of mountains in the distance. New flights have confirmed conclusions of the former trip, and at the end of yesterday's two flights, one an exploration flight by Byrd and the other a mapping flight by McKinley, the efficiency of this method of discovery was abundantly proved.

FINDS RANGE

On the first flight Byrd made to Scott's Nunataks he thought that he saw high land to the east and on his return he went in that direction and found the Rockefeller Range.

At this time also he thought he saw a mountain far to the east. On his next flight that way he again saw this mountain, more clearly this time, and it became known as his "pet mountain" because of the fascination it held for him. He was sure that high land lay in that direction. When McKinley flew over that way to map the Rockefeller Range the visibility had improved so greatly that he not only saw the "pet mountain", standing out 8000 or 10,000 feet but also a long range to the east-southeast of it, which disappeared over the horizon.

Two peaks also had been sighted due east of the Rockefeller Range—which it must be remembered runs roughly northeast and southwest, beginning at the point about fifty miles south of Scott's Nunataks—peaks which are apparently as far or farther away than the new range to the southeast. And Byrd, who penetrated the long distance to the south yesterday, saw what he believed to be high land at almost the exact point where Amundsen on his trip to the pole reported the "appearance of land." This was about half-way between the Bay of

MAUNA LOA SPITS FIRE

Eruption Rends Flaming Pit

Lava Cones Being Built Up on Floor of Crater by Blazing Fountains

Great Throngs Go to Scene of Spectacular Display; Long Activity Likely

HILO (Hawaii) Feb. 20. (AP)—Kilauea volcano burst into eruption early today and continued unabated as night approached, with every indication of being active for some time.

Reports from the volcano observatory, three miles from the great Halemaumau fire pit, state that the crater is in constant action. Myriads of fire fountains are building up lava cones on the floor of the pit, which was enlarged by the eruption of 1924 from its former width of 1800 feet almost to 3500 feet. The lava level ordinarily 1350 feet below the rim, is rising.

MANY GO TO SCENE

Everyone able to leave Hilo has departed for the volcano, thirty-five miles away, to witness the spectacle.

Earthquakes and avalanches within the Halemaumau pit recently indicated to Thomas A. Jaggar, volcanologist, that the eruption was about to take place. He said today that activity may continue for several days.

No lava was ejected today from the pit, the demonstration being confined to the pyrotechnic display of scores of fountains. These in the night hours cast a beautiful glow on the lofty slopes of Mauna Loa, the volcanic mountain of which Kilauea and its fire pit, Halemaumau, are a part.

PRESSURE CONTINUES

Kilauea is 4000 feet above the sea, fifty miles away, and at an elevation of 13,675 feet. The crater of Mauna Loa has been dormant since its eruption in April, 1926.

After an inspection in the afternoon, Prof. Jaggar said that the lava pressure continues constant. The flaming fountains have built a lake of molten lava about seventy-five feet deep, estimated to contain 150,000,000 cubic feet. Spatter cones are being built up spectacularly.

The eruption, said Jaggar, probably will continue for at least two or three weeks.

Bay City Judge Goes on Strike

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20. (AP)—Police Judge Lazarus today "went on strike" against holding two courts daily and left Department No. Four, which he had handled for the past four months, without a judge.

"It's the Mayor's business, not mine," said Lazarus, alluding to the Mayor's failure to appoint a police judge to succeed Judge Jacks, who was elected to the Superior bench.

WIZARD TO RELIVE EPOCH

Edison Will Celebrate Anniversary of Invention of Electric Light at Shop Now in Ford Museum

FORT MYERS (Fla.) Feb. 20. (AP)—In the same little frame building in which the electric light first burned, Thomas A. Edison will re-create his history-making invention on the fiftieth anniversary of its perfection.

Henry Ford, the electrical wizard's close friend, yesterday revealed that Mr. Edison has agreed to go to Dearborn, Mich., for the anniversary celebration on October 21, next, in the original Menlo Park (N. J.) laboratory, now in Ford's museum. Edison will gather around him the assistants who helped develop the incandescent lamp, and with a brief ceremony will re-enact its creation.

CEREMONY AT MUSEUM

The ceremony will take place in the historical village near the main museum, for which Mr. Ford recently made a gift of $5,000,000 on the occasion of Mr. Edison's eighty-second birthday.

Mr. Ford discussed a wide variety of subjects in a two-hour interview yesterday.

The motor magnate believes conditions in the automobile industry are satisfactory and that there is little danger of overproduction in his own factories, he said, 7000 cars a day being turned out.

FORD AT WORK

During his vacation, Ford disclosed, he is working on automatic machinery for the manufacture of parts used in his cars. He is being assisted by Edison.

"I am trying to make a straight line out of a circle," he said. "We are working 300 men making 140,000 of these parts daily. I am trying to cut this down."

Ford reiterated his confidence in the ability of Edison to find a plant

SILVERTON HOPES FOR AID TODAY

Snowbound Town's Food Runs Low as Railroaders Fight Way in Drifts

DURANGO (Colo.) Feb. 20. (AP)—The supply of eggs, butter and all kinds of fresh meat exhausted, residents of the little town of Silverton, completely cut off from the outside world for seventeen days, are hoping that other snow slides will not come hurtling down into Animas Canyon until at least one supply train has succeeded in reaching them.

Railroad officials tonight announced that with good luck they will break through the drifts that cover the Denver and Rio Grande Western Railroad tracks sometime tomorrow. It is hoped that a supply train will be able to reach the isolated town by tomorrow noon.

Sheriff Dowd of San Juan county stated in a telephone conversation with an Associated Press correspondent tonight that Silverton is completely out of eggs, butter, ham, bacon and all kinds of fresh meats. Even the supply of canned goods is getting very low, he reported.

SOVIET WILL ISSUE BOOKS FOR BREAD

Committee Must Work Out Details of Scheme Aimed at Asserted Speculation

MOSCOW, Feb. 20. (AP) — Bread books, issued by the government, will govern purchase of bread after March 15, the Moscow soviet, or governing committee, decided today.

The presidium, or committee which acts when the soviet is not in session, is ordered in a resolution to work out details governing the distribution of bread under the new order.

The resolution, after stating that the Red capital is amply supplied with baked bread, goes on to say that the main difficulty lies in speculation and in feeding cattle with bread which is cheaper than fodder.

It then says bread books will be given workers in the civil service, unemployed who are registered at labor exchanges, invalids, pensioners, students and craftsmen not exploiting hired labor.

For the working population holding cards prices will remain the same as at present. For all other classes the prices of bread will be raised considerably.

The action follows agitation which culminated in bread lines a month ago.

DENVER (Colo.) Feb. 20. (AP)—Frederick G. Bonfils, publisher and owner of the Denver Post, today telegraphed President Coolidge an offer of $75,000 annual salary to become editor of the Post after completion of his term as President of the United States.

The offer would require President Coolidge to make his home in Colorado.

Will Rogers Remarks:

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It seems to be the nation's pastime now to offer Mr. Coolidge a job. I see today where the Denver Post offered him $75,000. I wonder if Mr. Coolidge wired back "Is that to read it?" It looks like he will become a syndicate writer. Then all he will know is just what he reads in the papers. He will then become a "trained seal," that's what they call a special writer covering an event.

Well, us old-time newspaper men will give him a great welcome, among us, Dempsey, Babe Ruth and myself. I would like to sit in the press stand by Mr. Coolidge's side, covering this next farm relief session of Congress. I bet he would get more laughs out of it than anybody there.

Yours,

BYRD FINDS NEW LANDS AND MOUNTAIN RANGES

Aero-Camera Maps Vast Territory; Each Flight Confirms View for Next Year's Explorations

Whales and the Axel Hyiberg glacier. So it can be seen that in almost every direction, to the east, southeast and south from our base, land has been sighted with the probability that mountain ranges and highland extend as far as the cruising radius of the plane.

HOPEFUL PROSPECT

"The results so far offer a very hopeful prospect for next year's work, as Byrd believes the season is too late for exploration flights and will confine the aviation work to flights for recording by aero mapping of the interesting territory near the base and as much as possible of the region penetrated on past trips of exploration.

To Capt. McKinney, Dean Smith the pilot, and Lloyd Berkner, the radio operator on the mapping flight yesterday, Byrd has given the honor of discovering the new range to the east, though he first sighted the highest peak.

Nothing could show more perfectly the dramatic character of the unexpected in Antarctic exploration than the work of yesterday. Discoveries leap on the aerial adventurers down here in the course of a few hours. The first flight yesterday was planned as a trip to the north to King Edward Land, and in an attempt to push farther in the direction where Byrd was turned back by a snowstorm at his first flight. He is convinced—as was Scott—that land existed as the only explanation of the impenetrable ice field which lies to the north of us on the eastern side of the Ross Sea.

He had gone to the base the night before in the hope of getting off but the weather became overcast and the increasing cold filled the air with particles of ice which caused some beautiful phenomena. As the sun swung down low in the west, just opposite the inlet on which the base is situated, the light from it was so diffused that it became a golden flame that filled the sky. From it fell a spray of gold that splashed the surface of the bay like an explosion of light. On each side of the sun were the arcs like a rainbow and in the center of them, just below the line of the sun, were mock suns. Over the sun was the lower arc of another rainbow. But the conditions which caused this entrancing effect were such that flying was out of the question. The next morning the weather was perfect over the barrier and as soon as the engines were warmed up and the heated oil poured into them they were started and were soon purring rhythmically, the propellers blowing up clouds of powdery snow.

Two planes went on this flight, Byrd with Bernt Balchen and Lloyd Berkner went in the Virginia, which is the Fokker, and Capt. Alton Parker flew the Stars and Stripes over the Fairchild, with Harold June as radio operator. It was cold yesterday, 14 deg. below zero during the hours when the sun was low—and the crews were warmly dressed in furs. The thermometer registered 18 to 20 below during the flight but it was comfortable in the cabin and cockpits. Both planes got off easily with heavy loads and after circling over the camp turned northeast toward the Nunataks, the Virginia leading and Parker flying just above and to one side.

After an hour's flight they ran into heavy clouds which covered the coast and hung across their route. They were heavy low clouds and hung low. Balchen did not think it wise to try to fly under them. He appreciates the danger of this country.

Just before reaching Hal Flood Bay, named after an uncle of Byrd's, he directed Balchen to turn to the southeast and flew on this course until they passed about fifteen miles south of the Rockefeller Range. The planes were in constant communication with the base and the ship by radio and also with the whalers in the Ross Sea. Sometime ago Byrd had told Capt. Arthur Nilsen of the whaler Larsen, which towed him through the ice pack, that he would name a mountain after him and when abreast of the Rockefeller Range he sent word to the whaling captain "Have just passed Mt. Nilsen."

He kept on for some distance to the southeast.

NOTES ON MAP

Byrd's map was covered with notations of the positions, courses and times when he returned. The navigation in itself, with the use of the magnetic sun compass was a good piece of work because of the many changes in course and when he set a position for the Bay of Whales, after dodging over the waste of Antarctic for hours in various directions he hit the bay just south of Framheim.

Past the Rockefeller Range he saw the mountain he had glimpsed once before looking up on the horizon and wrote a note to Balchen: "I think I see land to the east. Let's try it." They flew toward the high mountain for some time without its getting appreciably nearer and then turned south again. The snow surface of the barrier during the latter part of his flight was at least 1000 feet above sea level as indicated by the plane altimeter and both Balchen and Byrd are certain that under it is land. The visibility at the distance from the coast was perfect. The snow surface stretched a glistening white plain for at least 100 miles on each side, only slight differences in color showing where the snow was soft or packed by the wind to a smooth hard crust. Waves ran through it in places and sometimes there would be low but long mounds. But for the most part the surface appeared as though there had been no movement there for ages.

SEES TWIN PEAKS

Again Byrd turned, this time to the south, and kept on this course until he had penetrated more than 100 miles beyond his farthest southern point on former flights.

It was on this course that he saw the twin peaks far to the east and the high mountain later seen more plainly by the McKinley party. When they turned again for home they had penetrated so far to the south that another mountain range could be seen plainly far ahead of them, a dark streak on the horizon. This was undoubtedly the land faintly seen by Amundsen to the east of his polar route. Byrd passed many rolling hills of snow on the way home, hills indicating land and a few pressure ridges. On this one leg of the flight, which was 140 miles from the Bay of Whales, he was able to see at least 100 miles to the south, covering an area of 14,000 square miles of unknown territory.

Both planes landed smoothly at the base after a flight of four hours and fifteen minutes, the last part of the trip having been made with a strong tail wind which enabled them to do the 140 miles in about an hour. Although he had been kept from his original objective by the clouds, he had covered about 400 miles and obtained some tantalizing glimpses of new areas to be explored next year.

Territory which Byrd has claimed for the United States he does not wish to infringe in any way on the British dependency and the new hinterland, the beginning of which he has seen, is well outside the limits of the British claims. He hopes completely to substantiate his claims by further flights.

MAPPING FLIGHT

When the planes had returned McKinley asked permission to make a mapping flight to the northeast along the coast. The tanks of the Fairchild were again filled and with Dean Smith piloting and Berkner as radio operator they took off a few hours after Byrd had returned.

In the meantime the commander traveled back to the New York by dog sled and had ordered the ship out for another attempt to reach the area north of King Edward Land by sea, as the observations from the plane showed that the water close to the barrier was free from ice for a long distance. When he reached the ship the plane had started and Byrd went to the radio room, where the loud speaker made audible the roaring note of the plane's generator pulsating with a beat corresponding to the speed of the engine.

Occasionally it would break and a message would come ticking in and then Berkner would fasten his key down while he worked on his maps and the steady beat of sound would be resumed.

Byrd is much more worried about his men while they are in the air than when he is flying himself. It is possible with this perfect communication by radio to tell when everything on the plane is going well and be sure of keeping in touch with their position to know where they are if they are forced down. He refused to leave the room and ate his supper there.

PILOT TALKS WITH BYRD

The plane went up the coast as far as Hal Flood harbor where it also met clouds. Inland however McKinley could see what he thought were the Nunataks, for he had never been there before and he asked permission of Byrd sitting back in the radio room to turn to the east which the Commander granted. It was fascinating to sit here and see the process by which a plane flying over the bleak interior of Antarctica could be controlled and guided by a man on a ship already moving out to sea bound on another exploration attempt. The closely welded control by radio of the various divisions of this expedition would at once make it notable. While Byrd was eating his supper and listening to his plane he also knew from messages that the plane was communicating with the Bolling, bound south again with another cargo, and with a short-wave station in San Francisco. Such is modern exploration.

What McKinley and the others in the plane thought what they saw from the distance were Nunataks turned out to be the Rockefeller Range from which could be seen the Alexandra Mountains to the northeast. McKinley made a strip map of the Rockefellers and also sketches of the mountains and areas covered during the flight. While flying over the Rockefellers those in the plane could see the new range of mountains more than 100 miles to the east-southeast, a range headed by a very high peak with a lower peak to the south and what appeared to be a high ridge disappearing into the southeast.

OTHER MOUNTAINS SEEN

There also were indications of other mountains on the horizon. Those in the plane estimated the height of the largest peak at 2000 to 20,000 feet. After mapping this area the plane returned to the coast and an oblique strip map was made of the uncharted coast line northeast of the Bay of Whales. The map was made from the sea at an elevation of 5800 feet.

While the ship was finding its way out of the bay through the frost smoke caused by the cold wind from the barrier striking the warmer water the plane appeared flying a mile high over the bay, headed back for the base. The flight lasted five hours and forty-five minutes.

This effort will probably end all exploration work this year as the thermometer is going down rapidly and it will be only a short time before the bay freezes.

Mr. Hoover began today his meetings with congressional leaders with a breakfast party and his guests reported that bacon and eggs were served.

Two-thirds Vote Needed for Conviction by Senate

ices rendered. A parallel case would be for a man to come to a member of the Legislature, state to that member that inasmuch as the member had influence with certain other members he should like to pay him a sum of money, but that payment being unethical, it should be considered as simply a gift."

On the point of obstructing justice, Mr. Little pointed out that Judge Hardy worked with defense lawyers and hired and instructed the detectives, testifying he did this because he was seeking the truth. In support of Mrs. McPherson's contention that she had been kidnaped, while at the same time he was receiving reports from his investigators who indicated that facts in the Carmel incident were being concealed and that the supposed kidnapers either were dead, in prison or in Mexico.

"CANNED NEWS"

Mr. Little also said that "canned news" was being offered the newspapers on the instructions of Judge Hardy. He cited Judge Hardy's interview with Wallace Moore, the Santa Barbara newspaper man who stopped the Ormiston car which contained a veiled woman, when Judge Hardy is said to have pointed out to Moore the dangers of "false identifications" and the seriousness of the charge of perjury. Moore later was a witness in the case against Mrs. McPherson.

Adjournment then was taken until the afternoon session and Mr. Little and Mr. Sewell remained at the desk with the files to answer questions of members.

Mr. Clowdsley, who did not sign the report calling for impeachment, submitted an individual report as explanatory of his position in which he severely castigates Judge Hardy but contends that in his opinion the evidence is not conclusive enough to warrant impeachment.

"The investigation most certainly shows that the constitution should be amended to prohibit judges from practicing law in or out of court," Mr. Clowdsley's opinion reads.

He maintains that because the constitution provides that a judge shall not practice law "in any court," and Judge Hardy did not appear as attorney of record in any of the McPherson litigation, the evidence is not strong enough to gain a conviction. His report says, however, that Judge Hardy acted foolishly and in a manner so unbecoming a member of the judiciary that he should merit popular disapproval, and that his activities are open to censure.

ACCEPTANCE DEFENDED

Assemblyman Coombs, who served in the Twenty-seventh Legislature, forty years ago, made a rambling speech of nearly an hour in which he discussed the impeachments of past centuries and other lands, the general tenor being that Judge Hardy was justified in accepting the $2500.

Mr. McGuinness of Siskiyou then said he had confidence in the committee and hoped the Assembly will have no sympathy for "money-grafting hypocrites who operate in the guise of religion."

Mr. Adams of Livingston said he would go farther; that while he wasn't so sure of voting to impeach Judge Hardy he was willing to vote to impeach or imprison "the woman at the bottom of this mess."

"Her filthy money got Hardy into this trouble," he added. "The Assembly should vote against impeachment so as to relieve the Senate of the presence of this asserted evangelist."

Mr. Clowdsley, the only dissenting member of the committee, then explained that his opposition meant that he doubted if the evidence was strong enough to convict, while declaring that he had no brief for Judge Hardy's actions.

PLAYS "RESERVED SEATS"

Mr. Hornblower than took up the discussion, and brought in, besides the other matters, Judge Hardy's action in issuing cards of admittance to the Hickman trial, which the speaker termed "reserved seats for the show."

He read to the Assembly and explained the significance of the many letters passing between Judge Hardy and various figures in the McPherson investigation, which tended, he said, to show that Judge Hardy's activities were not consistent with his office.

"If I were in litigation," said Mr. Sewell, in closing the debate, "I would do my utmost to employ a judge as counsel, not so much because of his legal knowledge, but because of his influence. Shall the Assembly vote to permit this situation to exist?"

"When judges start pandering their influence for money it is time to call a halt.

"Ninety-five per cent of the people of Los Angeles believed this woman had perpetrated a gigantic hoax, and yet we find a judge of the Superior Court acting as her chief counsel, assisting her in her trouble with the law and that is ten times more serious than the acceptance of the check.

"There is testimony here to show that no step was taken by Mrs. McPherson's lawyers without consulting Judge Hardy, that detectives were at Carmel to suppress evidence, that Judge Hardy went to Santa Barbara, seeking to intimidate a witness."

EVANGELIST EXCUSED

The committee last night formally served notice on Cromwell Ormsby, Mrs. McPherson's attorney, that her presence was not desired. Mr. Ormsby, who has been very active about the capitol since the Legislature reconvened, has been here for the ostensible purpose of winning her release from subpoena, but after receiving the committee's letter said he feared he will be unable to get in touch with Mrs. McPherson in time to prevent her visit to Sacramento.

In some quarters the opinion is expressed that the sudden move of the committee last night in voting for impeachment was occasioned by Mr. Ormsby's activity. Mr. Hornblower frankly said that he is wearied of being "kidded" about Mrs. McPherson.

Mr. Little, when it was pointed out that the committee when discharged will lose jurisdiction over Mrs. McPherson, and will be unable to obtain her presence if she cares to leave the State, said the committee does not need her testimony.

"She is a witness for the defense, not the State," he said. "If the case goes to trial before the Senate we prefer to cross-examine her."

ROLL CALL

The roll call on the impeachment resolutions was as follows:

MRS. McPHERSON SAYS SHE'S "SHOCKED"

OAKLAND, Feb. 20. (Exclusive) Aimee Semple McPherson, Los Angeles evangelist, en route from religious meetings in British Columbia to Sacramento to testify in connection with her $2500 "love offering" to Superior Judge Hardy, expressed herself as "shocked" today when she learned of the vote for impeachment of the Los Angeles county jurist.

"Impeached!" she echoed. "I'm shocked to think any body of men could make such a decision. The whole business is much ado about nothing.'

"Judge Hardy never gave me any legal advice. He is my dear friend and admired counsellor. I feel he is being done a great injustice.

"It would seem that both of us are the objects of considerable criticism. I hope that Judge Hardy wins his fight for he certainly has right on his side.'

Expressing pleasure at learning of the engagement of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, the automobile magnate said he hoped the famous flyer would give up flying himself.

"He is too valuable to risk his life," Ford said. Incidentally, the only two flights Ford has ever made were with Col. Lindbergh.

PLANES IMPERFECT

Discussing aviation, Ford expressed the belief that airplanes "are far from perfection" and that aircraft of the future would be a combination of lighter-than-air ships, the helicopter and present type planes.

The manufacturer reiterated his previously expressed views on prohibition, declaring that the United States would "see real enforcement in the next two or three years."

"The grafters," he said, "eventually will be weeded out of the dry-enforcement forces."

Golf, Ford asserted, is causing more heart trouble than any other one thing.

HABITS SIMPLE

"I own a golf course," he said, "but never play. The American people drag themselves over the courses at slow speed, then, completely fatigued, sit down and eat hearty meals.

"My favorite form of exercise is running or brisk walking, but I always rest before meals."

Mr. Ford said that at 65 years of age he often runs several miles a day and exercises vigorously upon arising or retiring. He said that almost everyone eats too much.

"Peace is a matter of education," the magnate said in turning to another subject, "and Americans are too well educated to participate in another war."

FAILURE LOOMS AT RIVER MEET

California Concession Offer Proves Fruitless

Utah Plan Gets Approval of Most of States

Utah, however, to make construction of dams at Dewey and Flaming Gorge concurrent with the consummation of the Boulder dam project failed.

In discussion of the Utah proposal Delph E. Carpenter, Colorado commissioner, set forth what he believes should be the attitude of the upper-basin States and the reason why his State cannot approve the plan. In substance, he said:

"First, there should be a four-State, upper-basin compact concluded and ratified, then an orderly development of the upper-basin projects under this compact. There should be a status quo as to the Boulder dam. The all-important item at this time is for the upper States to protect themselves against rapid development in lower-basin States by prompt approval of the compact and wide issues should not be permitted to distract our attention from the one great item, imperative to self-preservation. If we do not ratify promptly we still subject ourselves to monopolistic appropriations in lower-basin States which will prevent all expansion of development of basin.

"The question now is not what structure we may build but whether we will ever be able to build any at all, and in seeking local advantage we suicide as to all four States."

CALIFORNIA OFFER

Earlier in today's session before the upper-basin States resolution was considered, Commissioner W. B. Mathews of California once more opened the way for the Arizona commissioners to offer some idea of what kind of a proposition they wish to entertain to become a party to any kind of a compact.

"We are here to settle a question which involves seven States," said Mathews, "and I do not see how Arizona can fail to come into a seven-State compact. I am sure that California is willing to make any reasonable concession toward that end. The waters of the Colorado River system belong to seven States. While we could enter into a six-State agreement and thereby ratify the Swing-Johnson bill, I do not believe that six States can adequately settle a problem involving seven."

The only answer to this came from Commissioner Charles Ward of Arizona, in which answer conference observers seem to think they find a veiled threat of "endless litigation in event a tri-State compact is not agreed on."

Commissioner Ward's reply is translated as meaning that California and Nevada would best be careful not to cast aside the seven-State compact for a six-State agreement. He was careful to set forth his opinion, however, that even if Arizona signs no compact she still has a right to the waters of the Gila and Colorado rivers in such quantity as she sees fit to use.

In reply to Arizona's contention concerning the Gila River, Mr. Mathews pointed out that Imperial Valley for some time past has been using the waters of that stream and, in the opinion of many authorities, has perfected a right to a portion of those waters. And again Arizona made no reply and allowed the door of discussion to be closed, making still graver the existing doubts that she will become a party to any compact.

FILIBUSTER MAY IMPERIL BILLS

cosin, an opponent of the cruiser program, blocked an attempt by Chairman Hale of the Naval Committee to get up the Naval Supply Bill.

BLAINE BLOCKS BILL

Later in the day Senator Swanson, of Virginia, the ranking Democrat on the Naval Committee, said he wanted a "test" to determine if there was a filibuster against the naval measure by asking unanimous consent to take it up immediately.

With a smile, Senator Blaine again objected. The Wisconsin Senator did not deny Swanson's query about a filibuster and Senator Glass, Democrat, Virginia, remarked he was certain there was going to be a filibuster against the bill. Chairman Hale of the Naval Committee then announced he would move tomorrow to displace the pending resolution of Senator Edge, Republican, New Jersey, authorizing a survey of a Nicaraguan canal, for the Navy measure.

GLASS SEES TROUBLE

During his discussion of the prohibition appropriation Senator Glass said he never had indulged in a filibuster, but observed that "it is going to be very difficult to enact another deficiency bill" without the $24,000,000 item.

Later Chairman Wood of the House committee said he had been informed of the remarks of the Virginia Senator and declared Glass would have an opportunity to filibuster if he so desired.

"Well, he will have a chance to do it," Wood said in explaining the decision to transfer all items but the prohibition proposal from one bill to another.

During the Senate discussions on the appropriation bills Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, warned he would require considerable time to discuss the conference report on the Interior Department bill which contained a House provision to authorize the Secretary of Interior to condemn any privately owned lands in public parks.

CRAMTON BLAMED

Walsh's announcement, which is regarded as another filibuster threat, was followed by a declaration on his part that Representative Cramton, Republican, Michigan, is the man responsible for insistence upon the land condemnation provision in the bill. He said responsibility for failure of the bill must rest on Mr. Cramton.

BRITAIN ADMITS NEW ARMS PLAN

Navy Question Again to be Put Up to Washington

Chamberlain Upholds Views Given by Ambassador

England's Policy Declared to be Modified

LONDON, Feb. 20. (AP)—Sir Austen Chamberlain, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, today confirmed in the House of Commons the fact that Great Britain is considering a new line of approach to the United States on the question of naval disarmament.

He also took occasion to uphold the correctness of the public statement which Sir Esme Howard, British Ambassador at Washington, made last week to the same effect and in support of intimations emanating earlier from authoritative sources in London. Sir Austen said that the Ambassador had expressed personal views and had acted without instructions from the Foreign Office, but it was authoritatively understood that the diplomat's outline of the probable course of future events was prompted by the earlier advices from this capital.

The Foreign Secretary spoke in response to questions propounded by members of the House, some of which intimated that there was a conflict between Sir Esme's statement and a communique issued the next day by the Foreign Office. He denied this and said that the Home Office pronouncement was put out to correct misunderstandings which arose from varying interpretations of the Howard statement.

He gave no intimation of the trend of the new British thought on naval questions, but indicated the important and far-reaching changes which are taking place in the British policy on disarmament as well as the question of defining "freedom of the seas." He did this by revealing that the dominions are sharing in the government's study of these problems.

Replying to a specific question, he said that Britain has no intention of issuing invitations for a new disarmament conference. Boiled down to its elemental content, Sir Austen's statement of today was virtually a repetition of previous announcements that all questions regarding relations with the United States are being diligently studied by the government here.

HUGE NEW RAIL MERGER ASKED

Van Sweringen Proposals Follow B. and O.

C. and O. Plans to Take Over Many Other Lines

Two Major Unification Deals Up to Commission

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (AP)—Two attempts to bring about huge scale railroad consolidations in eastern trunk line territory have been initiated before the Interstate Commerce Commission. The first was that of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, which yesterday asked the commission to approve steps it may take to expand its present system by the acquisition of a half a score of other trunk lines. The second came today and was made by the Van Sweringen interests.

Even the vast size of the previous railroad amalgamations projected by the Cleveland group was exceeded in today's proposals, which named for complete or partial concentration not only the several important rail systems commonly identified as Van Sweringen property, but also a half score other lines, some now owned by hostile and opposing railroad organizations.

MERGER AS PROPOSED

Specifically, the commission was asked to find that the public interest will allow the "grouping or unification" of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, a main Van Sweringen stem, with the Erie, Nickel Plate, Pere Marquette and Hocking Valley systems, all now Van Sweringen owned; while in addition should be added the Wheeling and Lake Erie, only partly Van Sweringen owned, and five lines now entirely independent, the Virginia, Lackawanna, Bessemer and Lake Erie, Pittsburgh and Shawmut, and the Pittsburgh, Shawmut and Northern. The single rail system to be thus created would operate roughly 13,000 miles of line and represent a capital investment of $2,500,000,000.

The Baltimore and Ohio requested permission to purchase the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh, the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton, the Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville, the Wabash, the Ann Arbor and the Buffalo and Susquehanna railroads. It also asked permission for complete acquisition of the Western Maryland, the Reading, the Central Railroad of New Jersey and the Lehigh and Hudson River.

OTHER PROPOSALS

As to the Pittsburgh and West Virginia lines west of the Ohio, the Van Sweringen group is slated to take a third interest, in partnership with the New York Central and the Baltimore and Ohio. The Detroit and Toledo Shore Line is suggested for half and half division between the new merger and the Baltimore and Ohio.

Coupled with the specific listing of larger roads is a declaration that the Chesapeake and Ohio, if allowed to proceed with so extensive a linking, will stand ready to acquire, if the commission thinks it advisable, every short line railroad in the territory covered, excepting such short lines as might be assigned to other systems.

The commission also was requested to approve the acquisition by the Baltimore and Ohio of a quarter interest in four other railroads: The Lehigh and New England, the Montour Railroad, the Pittsburgh and West Virginia, the Pittsburgh, Chartiers and Youghiogheny and a half interest in the Detroit and Toledo Shore Line railroads.

The petition said that with the completion of the purchasing program outlined the Baltimore and Ohio will operate 13,814 miles of trunk line railroad with a capital investment of $2,192,000,000.

AWAIT DECISION

"The applicant believes it impracticable if not impossible to submit terms and conditions on which these properties would be acquired," the Van Sweringen petition said, "until the commission first determines to what extent such acquisitions will be in the public interest and prescribes rules and regulations under which the applicant may proceed to contract for the acquisition.

"If the commission will determine to what extent the applicant may unify these properties into one system, the applicant believes it will remove railroad properties in the eastern territory from the field of speculation, bring about the financial stabilization of those railroads, and result in bringing into fruition the national policy of railroad consolidation. The applicant believes it can acquire, and will undertake to acquire, to the extent indicated by the commission, the properties it proposes to bring into a united system, and will submit from time to time, for approval of the commission, terms and conditions."

RECASTS RAIL MAP

While the program outlined contemplates the general recasting of the eastern rail map on the principle of creating four systems in the country's northeast quarter, it is expected to signal a major controversy among the railroad groups concerned. The Baltimore and Ohio now has petitioned for a grouping not conflicting with the Van Sweringen plan, but the New York Central and Pennsylvania may advance more or less diverging plans. It is significant that the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh, now Van Sweringen-owned, is not enumerated in today's petition for inclusion, but a statement accompanying the petition said that this line might be allocated to the Baltimore and Ohio and New York Central.

Since O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen of Cleveland began in 1916 the acquirement of extensive rail property, a Federal statute has advanced the program of consolidating the 161 Class 1 rail systems of the country into eighteen or twenty giant mergers. The Van Sweringens, though turned down by the commission in an original attempt to link up several of their roads, obtained approval for fusing the Pere Marquette with the Chesapeake and Ohio, and without the commission's approval, built up the Nickel Plate into a sizeable system by the inclusion of several smaller lines. Much of the rail mileage they have acquired was recently swung into common ownership through the formation of the Alleghany Corporation.

The proceeding filed today terminates a long series of railroad negotiations which are commonly understood to have resulted in disagreement on many points between the representatives of the great rail systems who have participated.

PAGAN PIGS DIE UNREGENERATE

"Absent Treatment" Works on Other Sick Animals, but Hogs Kick Bucket

CHICAGO, Feb. 20. (AP)—"Absent treatment" as a means of curing hogs of cholera is before the Circuit Court for investigation.

Mrs. Mary A. Lee of Beloit, Wis., wants the court to enjoin Mrs. Elizabeth Carter, a Chicago psychologist, from collecting $1500 in notes given by Mrs. Lee for "absent-thought treatment."

The treatment, Mrs. Lee said, was successful in curing her after she had suffered a nervous breakdown. It proved equally efficacious when her pet dog became ill. A team of horses, fretting from harness sores, got well under the long-distance thought treatment, the court was told. But all the thought treatment Mrs. Carter was able to provide failed to keep the hogs alive after they got the cholera, Mrs. Lee asserted.

FENN BILL FIGHT SET FOR SENATE

Three Hours Put Aside for Debate Monday Night

Filibuster on Measure for Reapportioning Seen

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (Exclusive)—The Fenn reapportionment bill giving California and other growing States increased representation in the House of Representatives to which their populations entitle them will be debated for three hours in the Senate at a special night meeting next Monday, under an unanimous consent agreement negotiated today by Senator Curtis of Kansas, Republican floor leader.

This limited discussion will do little toward shoving the bill into position for a final vote and hopes that it may be put through the upper house before the March 4 adjournment are fading rapidly. It has passed the House.

Indeed, this three-hour period may constitute the full extent of a Senate consideration of the measure, although Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, who is directing the fight for it, will seize every opportunity to get it again before the Senate in the final week of the session. His best chance remains to offer it as an amendment to the census bill which it is presumed administration leaders will try to have passed so that proper preparations for taking the 1930 enumeration may go forward.

SAYS HE'S NOT DELUDED

"I am not deluded into thinking the reapportionment bill can be put through the Senate with three hours of debate, or three times three hours," Senator Vandenberg said today. "My best bet still lies in waiting for the census bill to come up, and offering it as a rider.

"I will not be discouraged nor should advocates of reapportionment throughout the country if the reallocation of House seats is not accomplished in this Congress. The census bill must pass either now or at the special session in the spring. They cannot avoid it. And it will not be allowed to pass without a vote in the Senate on reapportionment."

The place which the Senate steering committee has given reapportionment on the preferred calendar is hardly one where it would be reached in the jam of the last ten days of the session, even if it were not faced by vigorous opposition from Senators whose States would lose seats in the House.

There are signs that a well-organized filibuster already has set in against the reapportionment measure. There seems no other accounting for obstructionist tactics employed by Senator Harrison of Mississippi and Swanson of Virginia, Democrats, and Senator Dale, Republican of Vermont, to hold back legislation standing in the way of getting at the reapportionment bill.

FILIBUSTER SHOWS UP

There is another menace in a filibuster which broke openly today against the naval bill carrying appropriations for starting the cruiser construction program. This is being led by Senator King, Democrat, of Utah, who started it off this afternoon with a long speech on Philippine independence. He is being aided chiefly by Senator Blaine, Republican insurgent of Wisconsin, and Senator Blease, Democrat of South Carolina. The latter is also opposed to reapportionment.

Senator Vandenberg said he is of the opinion that the House can be depended upon to pass a reapportionment bill again in the forthcoming special session, if the Senate is not driven to action in this Congress.

"This flouting of the Constitution can't go on much longer," he declared, "and it would certainly stop in this Congress if it were not for the legislative situation which always applies at the tail-end of the so-called 'short' session."

Democrats Plan Four-Year Party for Minnesota

ST. PAUL, Feb. 20. (AP)—Minnesota Democrats have decided to organize their political affairs in the State with the purpose of having "a four-year party instead of a six-weeks party."

The plan for keeping the organization active in the period between Presidential campaigns was discussed by leaders last night. A call was issued for a State meeting to be held in Minneapolis April 13.

Speakers indicated that a program will be sought which will aim at the renomination of Alfred E. Smith of New York for President in 1932.

MILWAUKEE MAYOR CHRISTENS VESSEL

HAMBURG (Germany) Feb. 20. (AP)—The Hamburg-American Line's new 17,000-ton motorship Milwaukee was launched today by Mayor Hoan of the Wisconsin city, assisted by Mrs. Hoan, who christened the ship with a bottle of champagne to which an American flag had been tied. The official party was increased by a large crowd of natives of Milwaukee living or traveling abroad. They gave the Mayor an ovation.

PARK AIR FIELDS ISSUE DEBATED

Leaders Gather With West to Discuss Question

Roads and Others Ask Flying Barred in Preserves

Aviation Supporters Express Views at Session

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (Exclusive) — Congressmen, government officials, railroad men, national park concessionnaires, aviators and officials of aviation companies and representatives of nature organizations gathered here today at the request of Secretary of the Interior West to confer on whether airplanes shall be admitted to the national parks. This question soon resolved itself into two queries—how soon and under what regulations aerial transport companies may take visitors to the parks. At the close of the session a committee, consisting of Secretary of the Interior West, Representative Cramton of Michigan and Horace Albright, Director of the National Parks, was appointed to carry on the work started at today's conference.

In his opening speech Secretary West stated that seventeen years ago another Secretary of the Interior was faced with a similar problem, that of admitting automobiles in Yosemite and other national parks. In that year only 1100 persons visited the park. Last year more than 131,000 automobiles, carrying more than 400,000 persons, rolled through the gates of Yosemite. The problem confronting the national parks department today is even more complex than that of the motorists, which has had some amazing results. Don Tresidder, vice-president of the Yosemite Park and Curry Company, said that the huge inflows of visitors so overtax the seven square miles of park available for buildings that the only relief from overcrowding is the general adoption of skyscraper architecture.

RAILROADS' OBJECTIONS

There is little likelihood that planes will increase the number of visitors to the Yosemite, as its air currents near the park "floor" are treacherous and dangerous, but there are other parks which conceivably could be flooded by plane-borne visitors, particularly in the Southwest. Many planes now are "freighting" passengers over West Coast parks without making any attempt to land, while the Scenic Airways, a commercial plane service, is flying paying passengers over the Grand Canyon and other southwestern parks.

The principal opposition to landing fields for commercial planes within park boundaries was raised by the railroads, which feel that their investments within the parks and at the entrance to the parks might not be sufficiently protected if the new form of transportation is given what they consider an advantage over them. Opposition to planes flying over the parks in general was raised by representatives of nature organizations, who feel that airways laid out over wilderness areas of the park would defeat the purpose for which these lands were laid aside—to preserve its primitive state.

President Carl Gray of the Union Pacific Railroad, stated the case for the railroads, which was accepted by most of the other representatives of the roads. He said that the development of the north rim of the Grand Canyon and of two parks in Utah by his road was done at the request of business men and government officials of the State. No bus franchise other than that granted to the Union Pacific to the parks has been given by the State in order to protect the investment of the railroad, and the railroad has in return given up certain lands and leases to make Brice Canyon Park possible. He feels that planes operating between parks and from point to point in the parks might jeopardize the road's investments and hopes that special pains can be taken by the committee to prevent this. He also objected to the government's granting landing fields to plane companies inside the parks on the grounds that they are not transportation pioneers and that such a grant would be discriminatory. He asked that the committee be especially wary on this point. His views were concurred in and amplified along the same line by representatives of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, Great Northern, Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, Southern Pacific and Santa Fe.

R. S. Yard of the National Park Association earnestly pleaded that no landing field be granted in any of the parks as he fears encroachment on park lands by plane companies if they once get a foothold. Dr. J. C. Merriam of the Carnegie Institution urged that the committee look ahead and make provision for the protection of wilderness areas a hundred years from now. Paul Hanna of the American Nature Association asked the committee to dovetail the action and functions of various carriers as far as possible before issuing any regulations.

PLANE ADVOCATES SPEAK

On the other hand support of the movement to allow planes within the parks was given by Col. Paul Henderson, of National Air Transport and Transcontinental Air Transport, who said that passenger carrying by plane lines in this country is on the increase and that one of the through routes will begin passenger-carrying activities from New York to Los Angeles this summer. Parker Van Zant and G. Hall Roosevelt of Scenic Airways told of the success they have had on the Grand Canyon passenger service, but it remained for Assistant Secretary of Commerce MacCracken to clear the air in regard to regulation of aircraft over and outside the parks. He stated that in his opinion an airport inside the park's boundaries would be easier to beautify and would detract less than parking spaces for cars and would cut up the park less than a network of roads. He also drew on his personal experience to illustrate points in favor of sightseeing from the air, particularly in regard to Rainier National Park. He promised co-operation from the Commerce Department to regulate flights within or outside the parks.

No attempt was made at today's conference to make distinctions between the functions of air and land transportation facilities or do more than outline in a general way the work before the committee and to hear the pros and cons of the situation, yet the necessity of making adequate provision in the immediate future for commercial aircraft in the parks was apparent to the members of the conference.

HOUSE PUTS POLITICS ASIDE TO HONOR ITS DEAD MEMBERS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (AP)—House members forgot politics and legislative quarrels today while they joined in paying homage to their dead colleagues of House and Senate in the first group memorial exercises ever conducted in that chamber.

Varying their former custom of conducting a memorial service on Sundays for individual members who have passed on, they took a regular legislative day to honor the memory of their recent dead and Democrat and Republican alike bowed their heads in memory of eleven members of the Seventieth Congress.

As the reading clerk finished the roll call of the dead, orators of the two parties raised their voices to pay their tribute. The two speakers were Representatives Eaton, Republican, New Jersey, and Garrett of Tennessee, the Democratic leader who is rounding out his last term in the House.

The eleven honored were Senator Frank R. Gooding of Idaho and Representatives William N. Vaile of Colorado, Martin B. Madden of Illinois, Thaddeus C. Sweet of New York, Thomas S. Butler of Pennsylvania, Henry R. Rathbone of Illinois, Louis A. Frothingham of Massachusetts, Thomas L. Rubey of Missouri, William A. Oldfield of Arkansas, Charles L. Faust of Missouri and Edward J. King of Illinois.

The exercises began with a prelude of sacred music by the United States Marine Band Orchestra at 11:30 o'clock, and at noon Speaker Longworth called for order, and the chaplain, Dr. James Shera Montgomery, began his customary invocation.

"Lead, Kindly Light" was sung by a male quartet, and as the words of the familiar hymn died away the chaplain read a scriptural selection and voiced a prayer for the dead. Then the clerk of the House called the role of deceased members and the House observed a period of devotional silence.

CURTIS WILL QUIT SENATE ON MARCH 3

Letter of Resignation Sent to Governor of Kansas and Dawes

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (AP)—A letter of Vice-President-elect Curtis to the Governor of Kansas resigning his seat in the Senate, effective March 3, was read today to the Senate.

The resignation of Senator Curtis, who is Republican leader of the Senate, thereby becomes effective the day before he assumes office of Vice-President.

Senator Watson of Indiana, the assistant leader, will pilot the party on the closing day of the session, and it is regarded as certain that the Indiana veteran will be chosen the leader of his party in the Senate to succeed Curtis.

Senator Curtis addressed a letter to Vice-President Dawes inclosing his letter to Gov. Reed of Kansas. Mr. Dawes read the letter to the Senate at the close of the session today.

GUARD FORMS NEW INFANTRY REGIMENT

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 20. (AP)—Formation of a new infantry regiment of the California National Guard, with headquarters at Fresno, was announced today by Adjt.-Gen. R. E. Mittelstaedt. The new unit, to be known as the One Hundred and Eighty-fifth Infantry, will represent a coalition of withdrawn units from the One Hundred and Sixtieth and One Hundred and Eighty-fourth Infantry. Among companies affected are those located at Fresno, Oakdale, Turlock, Hanford, Modesto, Visalia, Santa Ana and Pasadena.

REPARATION WORK SPLIT TO SPEED UP

Subcommittee System Adopted for Digging Into Delicate Questions

PARIS, Feb. 20. (AP)—The "second Dawes committee," taking a leaf out of the records of the Paris Peace Conference, has adopted a system of subcommittees to dig into the delicate question on which the committee's work has been somewhat bogged. The committee has not developed yet into anything like the famous "big four," but at the rate of progress which has prevailed thus far further concentration may be necessary.

The enlarged subcommittee of five which had been charged with finding some method of procedure to permit the committee to go ahead reported today. It required forty-five minutes to present its findings, but they evidently were short of final since the committee extended its mission and adjourned until Friday to give it time to prepare a further report.

The American delegates remain among those absent on this subcommittee which, it was said semi-officially, justifies no conclusions other than that Germany and her creditors have naturally the most direct interest in the matter and are properly left to thresh out among themselves questions that are not a strictly technical order. The American members, however, are constantly consulted by members of the subcommittees on important matters.

COAL CASES MAY LOSE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (AP)—It was indicated by Chief Justice Taft in the Supreme Court today that the lake cargo coal cases might be dismissed on the ground that no question for settlement by that tribunal had been presented.

SMART women at the winter sports colony at brilliant St. Moritz are well acquainted with the beauty salon of Mme. de Neuville, in the Palace Hotel. This chic studio de beauté is a rendezvous for society women who take extra precautions to guard priceless complexions from the cold winter winds of this famous Swiss resort. Presided over by Madame's daughter, the lovely Madamoiselle Marza, this salon is well known to women from all over the world. Mme. de Neuville, herself, heads the Zurich establishment, a tremendously chic salon decorated in jade green and varnished red.

"The one great truth about skin that women do not know," says de Neuville, "is the rapidity with which a poor complexion can become a lovely one . . . Much depends upon how the skin is treated at home."

What Mme. de Neuville Tells Her Patrons in St. Moritz and Zurich

"We advise all our clients to use the following home method," says E. De Neuville. "First, they must use Palmolive Soap, because this soap definitely helps the beauty expert in his work of complexion improvement."

"Palm and olive oils, as expertly combined in Palmolive Soap, have a most healing effect and yet provide the deep cleansing which is the very foundation of beauty.

"In addition to Palmolive we prescribe the use of Lotion Camphor 240, Lotion Printiniere for sensitive skins and 3 of our cremes—"

Other Specialists Agree

When Mme. de Neuville stresses "the bad results of improper home cleansing" she is echoing the opinion of every famous beauty specialist in Europe. No matter where one travels, one finds the same enthusiasm for a treatment which originated in America. Seiler, of Geneva; Pessl, of Vienna; Elise Bock, of Berlin; in England, Madame Jacobson; in Paris, Massé, Vincent, Payot, the exquisite Lina Cavalieri—here are just a few of the scores of celebrated names endorsing "Palmolive cleansing by one means—and one means only, the use of Palmolive Soap!"

American experts, too, warn against the danger of leaving the pores clogged with dirt and make-up. They join foreign specialists in advising twice-a-day cleansing with the soap blended of palm and olive oils.

This Treatment, Twice-a-day

This 2-minute treatment recommended by both European and American experts is so simple, so effective: Lather with both hands make a rich lather of Palmolive Soap and warm water. Massage it gently into the skin, permitting it to penetrate the pores, to free them of all impurities. Then rinse, first with warm water, then with cold. An ice massage is invigorating.

After this treatment, a touch of cold cream for dry skin. Day cream or a good astringent on oily skin, before powder and make-up.

If you have not yet discovered the advantages of Palmolive Soap, you will appreciate the advice of these distinguished leaders in beauty culture. Try the Palmolive treatment tonight. Then you'll see why this is the beauty soap of the world.

HOOVER TO RULE ON IMMIGRATION

President-elect and Coolidge Confer for Hour

Brown May Get Commerce Instead of Postal Seat

Long Talk on Foreign Affairs Held With Kellogg

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (Exclusive) — President-elect Hoover and President Coolidge spent an important hour of uninterrupted conference at the executive office this afternoon and while neither of the participants talked for publication it is certain that no proclamation for the operation of the provision for foreign origin effective July 1 in the National Immigration Act will be issued by President Coolidge while he is the Chief Executive.

It is said that the proclamation by President Hoover based on new and later calculations will be issued the last of March or the first of April. It is known that Hoover desired that this portion of the Immigration Act be eliminated by Congress but as the extra session will be limited to two things—farm relief and advances on agriculture tariff schedules—there is no possibility of taking this action until the regular session of Congress next December.

TILSON SKETCHES WORK

Fresh from his Florida vacation President-elect Hoover is crowding into the twelve days before he takes the oath a great many important conferences with Senate and House leaders as well as other friends and Federal executives. Last night Floor Leader Tilson gave the incoming executive a blue print of possible legislation at this session and what might be expected at the special session. The House and Senate at the special session probably will be asked to enact a bill to permit President Hoover to have a commission further study and report to the Congress at the opening of the next regular session in December, next, plans for an intensive reorganization of all Federal executive departments and commissions along the line advocated by President Harding for a complete reorganization to save overlapping duties.

It is recalled that the partial shifting of bureaus which took place while Mr. Hoover was himself Secretary of Commerce brought bureaus from the Department of Agriculture under the jurisdiction of the Hoover department. The assignment of Brown to the Secretaryship of Commerce and associating with that post the work of government reorganization would therefore be following precedent. It is generally assumed that the reorganization task will be affiliated with the portfolio.

NEW MAY BE RETAINED

Cabinet forecasts usually have placed Brown as Postmaster-General, but if he is switched to Commerce and assumes the responsibility of recasting the distribution of bureaus in the various departments, it is likely that Postmaster-General Harry New will be retained in the new Cabinet until he has completed his work of extending to all the countries of the Western Hemisphere the distribution of mail and parcel post by airplane. He has been a pioneer in that field and under new authority from Congress can complete this elaborate program in a comparatively short time.

Shrewd Washington observers on Cabinet selection see in the presence last night at the Cabinet dinner given by Secretary of Labor Davis to President and Mrs. Coolidge of William M. Doak that the latter is to be his successor. Secretary and Mrs. Davis are planning to take the entire Davis family on an extended trip around the world after March 4.

TALKS TO KELLOGG

This afternoon President-elect Hoover had a long conference with Secretary of State Kellogg, who expects to leave official life in Washington March 4. International matters of importance were discussed —principally the Mexican situation and the Paris conference on German reparations.

One of the most important callers will be at the Hoover home tonight to confer on legislative and executive policies during the remainder of this session of Congress and the special session. This visitor, who will be the Hoover spokesman in the House, is Franklin Fort of New Jersey and who also had much to do with the preconvention campaign of the Republican winner and who is now also the secretary of the Republican National Committee. Other leaders will be called in for conferences from now on, morning, noon and night.

MEETING WITH PORTES GIL PROPOSED

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 20. (AP)—A proposal that Herbert Hoover and President Portes Gil have a good-will meeting at El Paso some time after March 4 was said today to have been made to United States Ambassador Morrow by the El Paso Chamber of Commerce.

It is understood that the Ambassador referred it to the Department of State in Washington.

PUBLISHER REACHES ATHENS

ATHENS, Feb. 20. (AP)—Van Lear Black, Baltimore publisher, arrived here this afternoon from Naples, Italy. The next hop on his flight to Cape Town will be to Cairo, Egypt.

SLAYER SPRINGS TRAP HIMSELF

Executioner Falters as Four go to Gallows in Zagreb, so One Adjusts Rope

ZAGREB (Croatia) Feb. 20. (AP)—Four bandits were hanged here publicly today, one of them placing the rope around his neck and springing the trap himself when the executioner faltered.

Executions are almost unprecedented in Jugo-Slavia, despite the fact that the criminal code provides for the death penalty. The last execution in Croatia took place thirteen years ago. Today's executions were at the instance of Gen. Zivkovitch, who recently became Premier.

Murder, brigandage and banditry were among the charges for which the four self-confessed murderers went to the gallows.

STEWART TEARS INTO OPPOSITION

Statement Flays Adherents of Young Rockefeller

'Holier Than Thou' Attitude Charged and Assailed

Fiery Message Mailed to Company Stockholders

CHICAGO, Feb. 20. (AP)—Col. Robert W. Stewart rips into adherents of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., who are trying to oust him as head of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, in a statement mailed to stockholders tonight.

He charges his opponents with assuming a "holier-than-thou" attitude toward the "great majority of the stockholders of the company" and with initiating a "rule or ruin policy bent on obtaining control of the company regardless of consequences."

That anyone still should suppose there is any "moral issue" involved in the struggle between Rockefeller and himself for control of the company he characterizes as a "naive idea" and challenges the assumption "that divine guidance is vouchsafed to my opponents alone."

SECOND STATEMENT

The statement of the Indiana company's chairman follows close on the heels of a statement from his camp in which it was held that Mr. Stewart now has in his possession "proxies of a great majority of the stockholders and rapidly is nearing a working majority of the stock." It also is asserted that the Stewart "proxies include thousands of revocations of proxies originally given Mr. Rockefeller, Jr."

Today's broadside is directed at a seventy-two-page document issued the 10th inst. by Winthrop W. Aldrich, brother-in-law and attorney of Mr. Rockefeller. It assails both Aldrich and Ivy Lee, New York press agent, and denounces the seventy-two-page document as a "slay," "slander" and a "deception."

"I cannot believe that Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., ever gave his approval to the publication of such slander," Col. Stewart declared.

ROCKEFELLER GONE

"He sailed away to Egypt at the very beginning of this campaign and possibly the above-named men (Aldrich and Lee) may conceive that any odium which may arise over shady tactics pursued by others may be attributed to their overzealousness and not reflect on Mr. Rockefeller, Jr.

"I had hoped this contest would be kept on a high plane and have done so in fact rather than in promises. It was my understanding that such, too, was the hope and intention of Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., for whom it was stated that he did intend to keep it on a high plane, that he published his letters of disapproval of me merely that the public might know his attitude, that he simply was offering other stockholders the opportunity of joining him if they saw fit and that he would not enter into any 'unseemly scramble for proxies.'"

"Then Mr. Rockefeller sailed for Egypt.

ACTIONS ASSAILED

"Mr. Aldrich and Mr. Ivy Lee apparently did not understand the matter as he did. After saying he would embark on no 'unseemly scramble for proxies,' it surely must be without his knowledge or consent that others in his name have embarked on a campaign of misrepresentation; that they, in a very wild scramble for proxies, indeed, have brought the whole force of the Rockefeller millions to bear to intimidate and coerce wherever possible individuals and financial institutions and all of the companies which the Rockefeller interests dominate, in order to defeat the present management of the company."

Referring to the Aldrich document, Col. Stewart declares it was without doubt the climax "to as malicious a purpose as ever was conceived."

IRRELEVANCY ASSERTED

The document dealt, Col. Stewart asserts, "with matters such as the leasing of government oil reserves, matters regarding Secretary Fall, matters concerning this thing and that thing, and a dozen things with which I had no more to do than Mr. Rockefeller, Jr. What was the purpose of this maze of irrelevancy unless it was to give to the careless reader the impression that I did have something to do with them—that I somehow was guiltily involved, when, as a matter of fact and of record, there never has been one word of testimony introduced anywhere even intimating that I had any connection with them.

"If there had been any such testimony in existence do you not suppose it would have been printed in full, in black type and with explanatory notes in the Aldrich masterpiece?

"HOLIER THAN THOU"

"By what right is a 'holier than thou' attitude assumed toward the more than 25,000 employees of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana who are solidly behind me; toward the great majority of the stockholders who are behind me; toward the members of the board of directors of this company who have known me for years, have worked with me for years, and who have expressed without qualification or equivocation their confidence in me?

"I deny that divine guidance is vouchsafed to my opponents alone. I deny that they have any corner on morality, in business or otherwise. I deny their piety—and I use the word in all reverence and veneration—is any greater than the piety of the thousands of clean-living, clean-thinking men and women who know me and are supporting me.

"RULE OR RUIN"

"The stockholders of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana are confronted by a 'rule-or-ruin' policy initiated, with or without his approval, by the employees of Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., a minority stockholder, bent on obtaining control of this company, regardless of consequences."

Mr. Stewart reviews his two trials at Washington, in which he was acquitted on charges of contempt and perjury, concluding, "only the malice of such men as Nye and Morris, whose leadership Mr. Rockefeller, Jr., has so naively accepted, could have created such a situation." The statement contains more than 5000 words.

RADIO BILL HITS SNAG IN SENATE

Commission Administrative Life Threatened

Commerce Secretary May Get License Power

Copeland Promises to Block Measure as It Stands

(Copyright, 1929, by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (Exclusive)—The legislative snag radio has struck in the Senate may cost the Federal Radio Commission its administrative life and throw the Federal licensing authority back into the hands of the Secretary of Commerce.

Certain of a majority in favor of the bill to extend the commission for one more year, leaders like Senators Dill and Watson, are determined to get the measure enacted before the adjournment of Congress March 4. The chief and only outspoken opposition comes from Senator Copeland of New York, who opposes the commission form of administration and regulation. The House passed the bill Tuesday.

Characterizing the present commission as "a political football," Senator Copeland today announced his intention of fighting the bill to a finish, unless it is agreed to terminate its administrative authority no later than October 1, 1930. It would be a relatively easy matter for a determined filibuster by only one Senator to prevent passage of the measure, and Senator Copeland frankly says he will not allow the bill to come to a vote in its present form.

"I object," he said, "to placing the development of this giant institution, the most marvelous in the history of mankind, in the hands of political appointees from various sections of the United States. To prevent confusion and give time for reorganization, I am willing that the commission should function until next July 1 or perhaps October 1. But after that the authority should go to the executive branch of the government, and the commission should be given the status of an appeal board, as contemplated in the original radio act.

"President-elect Hoover has been in radio from the beginning. He is peculiarly well adapted to handle the radio situation. If a communication commission is later desired this might be established as an interdepartmental agency but not with political appointees."

As the bill now stands, it is back on the calendar and can be called up only by unanimous consent. Senator Watson, chairman of the committee which held hearings on the bill and reported it unanimously, is confident of its passage and said that enough votes could be mustered to override the opposition.

Hearings on the qualifications of the two engineers appointed to the vacant posts on the Federal Radio Commission have ended, and considerable doubt prevailed today whether either or both would be confirmed in the jam of business during the closing days of the session. The chances, however, appear to be in their favor. Little or no opposition has cropped up against Arthur Batcheller, a Republican, Federal radio supervisor at New York, and the only opposition to Prof. C. M. Jansky, Jr., seems to be based on doubt about his party affiliations.

It is believed that the experts, who are practically all legal advisers to their governments, are almost certain to discuss the problem of advisory opinions when they study revision of the court statutes.

Officials here feel that these experts will attack the question of whether requests for advisory opinions require a majority or a unanimous vote of the Council and will devise a formula which will open the door to American membership in the court.

BRITISH WITHHOLD COMMENT ON LETTER

LONDON, Feb. 20. (AP)—Pending examination of the text of the American note to the powers on the question of the American attitude to the World Court, official comment is withheld in London.

The general reaction in government circles, however, is that any proposal which would tend to remove the difficulties existing between the United States and Europe would be welcomed most cordially and would receive careful and earnest consideration from the British government.

FLOOD VICTIMS ON ROOFS

ATHENS, Feb. 20. (AP)—The Rivers Struma and Maritza have overflowed, inundating thousands of acres. Six Thracian villages are isolated and the inhabitants are living on roofs of their homes.

VATICAN FACES WORLDLY WOES

Holy See, Now That It Has National Status, May Have to Consider Matter of Passports, Licensing of Automobiles and Immigrant Quotas

ROME, Feb. 20. (AP)—Passports, automobile licenses, and immigration quotas are some of the things hitherto inconsequential at the Vatican which the ecclesiastical authorities may have to consider seriously now that the Holy See has a national status.

It is suggested that persons residing within the Vatican grounds should now have a passport from the Vatican rather than the Italian government. Until now the Pope has given his nuncio passports which have been honored abroad but the policy never extended much beyond that.

A licensing system for Vatican automobiles, hitherto unnumbered, is in prospect, while someone has raised the question as to how many immigrants to the United States the Vatican might be allowed each year. It is pointed out that if commensurate with the number allowed San Marino, another small state, the Vatican would be assigned an American quota of one-fifth an immigrant every year, or one every five years.

PRESS WARNED BY PORTES GIL

Mexican Newspapers Given Official Censure

Statement of Bishop Cited as Fomenting Strife

Matter Denied Clergy Had Part in Bombing

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 20. (AP)—President Portes Gil, through acting Secretary of Interior Canales, warned the Mexican press today that it had overstepped the bounds of the government's tolerance. Further offenses, it is said, will be severely punished.

The Mexico City newspapers, Excelsior, El Universal and La Prensa, are mentioned specifically in the warning, which was conveyed to the papers today in the form of a statement signed by Mr. Canales, "by decision of the President."

The specific act held against the three papers was the publication Tuesday morning of the statement of Bishop Miguel De La Mora of San Luis Potosi, in which the bishop denied that the Catholic clergy had anything to do with subversive movements in Jalisco, or with such acts of violence as the bombing of the Presidential train on the 10th inst.

It is stated also that the newspapers have overstepped the bounds of liberty allowed them by the government on several occasions.

The warning terminates: "This time for once and for all, the government declares that either the directors or those responsible for any publication which excites or tends to excite alteration of public order or foment rebellion will be energetically punished, because thus they deliberately violate the law and are not properly using the liberty which the government offers them, but are guilty of the most unpatriotic abuse of freedom."

Of Bishop De La Mora, the statement says that the government considers him in open rebellion, "since it is not even known where he resides, and that he is one of the probable directors of the armed movement of Catholic fanatics in San Luis Potosi."

The statement declares that any aid rendered the Catholic prelate in any way, by newspaper publicity or otherwise, cannot be taken by the government as other than supporting "the action and the crime."

NEW CHAIR MADE FOR HOOVER

Coolidge Will Put Cabinet Dais Among His Souvenirs

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (AP) In accordance with White House tradition, President Coolidge has had made a duplicate of the chair in which he has sat at the head of the Cabinet table, which will become the property of his successor, Herbert Hoover.

The custom is for the outgoing President and members of his Cabinet to take with them as reminders of their terms in office the chairs in which they sat at Cabinet meetings, and for the President to provide his successor with the chair in which he will preside.

TWO SACKS OF DOPE CONFISCATED IN NORTH

ABERDEEN (Wash.) Feb. 20. (AP) Opium with an estimated retail value of $100,000 was seized by customs officers and Coast Guard men here today. Two men, who brought the narcotics in two gunnysacks from the Canadian-American shipping Company freighter, City of Victoria, escaped.

GOVERNOR LAYS LEIS ON HAWAII

People Meeting Demands of Self-Rule, He Says

Farrington Finds Unusual Prosperity in Islands

New Tax Plan Advocated in Legislature Message

HONOLULU, Feb. 20. (AP)—Gov. Farrington, addressing the opening session of the fifteenth territorial Legislature here today, said:

"Each passing year brings new evidence that the citizens of Hawaii are fully capable of meeting all demands of American self-government. Our citizen population rapidly is becoming stabilized in union of thought and interests for the territory and the nation regardless of the part of the world from which its alien antecedents originated. The people of Hawaii have set a new pace in human equalities."

Hawaii, the Governor asserted, is "enjoying the largest measure of prosperity known in recent history of the islands, supplemented by generally good health."

After stating that the changing conditions make desirable modernization of the taxation system, Farrington added:

"A major issue before the Legislature is therefore authorization of a scientific method for the valuation of real and personal property so that the burden of taxation may be evenly distributed. The program of equalization should include the readjustment of the territorial income tax."

"I recommend a Lucky in place of a sweet. Toasting has taken out every bit of harshness in the Lucky Strike tobacco. All that remains is the splendid Lucky flavor—an excellent substitute when your appetite craves a sweet but your figure must be considered."

ELSIE DE WOLFE

Note: Authorities attribute the enormous increase in Cigarette smoking to the improvement in the process of Cigarette manufacture by the application of heat. It is true that during 1928, Lucky Strike Cigarettes showed a greater increase than all other Cigarettes combined. This surely confirms the public's confidence in the superiority of Lucky Strike.

PAN-AMERICAN PLAN APPROVED

House Solid in Backing Move for Highway Survey

Vote Provides Co-operation With Latin Nations

Proposed Continental Road Link Called Feasible

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (Exclusive)—By unanimous consent the House of Representatives approved a resolution by Representative Cole of Iowa, providing for the co-operation of the United States with the other countries of the Pan-American Union in a study of the proposed Pan-American highway, and a report to Congress on its feasibility and prospective route. The measure now goes to the Senate for confirmation.

If the Senate approves and the President concurs in this action the Secretary of State will have at his disposal $50,000 to be expended in co-operation with the governments of Central and South America in the first field study of this international project that for decades has engaged the attention and fired the imagination of the political and economic leaders of the several countries affected.

NO LONGER DREAM

In informed circles the scheme of a continuous highway linking the nations of North, Central and South America no longer is considered an ephemereal dream, according to testimony at the hearing before the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, when the resolution was up for consideration. With the advance of the science of road building, no obstacles greater than those already overcome in building existing links of the highway, it was testified, bar the way to the realization of the task.

SUPPORTERS APPEAR

Wilbur J. Carr, assistant Secretary of State; Dr. L. S. Rowe, director-general of the Pan-American Union; Thomas H. MacDonald, chief of the United States Bureau of Public Roads, and Pyke Johnson, executive director of the Pan-American Confederation for Highway Education, appeared before the committee in support of the measure following a statement by Representative Cole, author of the resolution.

Representative Cole, a close student of Pan-American affairs, sketched briefly the history of the movement, and reminded the committee that his resolution is in support of the suggestions and recommendations of President Coolidge in line with previous expressions of interest by Congress and that action by the committee and the House should be in conformity with the expressions of the international conference of American States at Havana, Cuba, last May.

MASONS MEET COOLIDGE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (AP)—Members of the conference of Grand Master Masons of the United States, which is meeting here, were received by President Coolidge today at the White House. The Chief Executive posed for a photograph with them.

Charge accounts may be arranged.

Freight prepaid to all shipping points in the United States and Hawaii.

W. & J. Sloane guarantee merchandise exactly as represented. For this reason it is wise to choose first the store, then the furnishings.

A LONG life enjoys (among other virtues) the advantage of watching fashions change. One learns to distinguish between lasting excellence and a fad of the moment . . . When the hectic, glorious California of '49 was being written and talked about, New York had already taken note of a very fine "carpet store" down on Broadway, by name W. & J. Sloane . . . Came the troublous days of 1860; W. & J. Sloane were purveyors of fine furnishings alike to the Northern "four hundred" and the Southern gentlemen. In the "golden nineties" W. & J. Sloane was a national institution importing and manufacturing fine furniture, fabrics and rugs . . . and giving a complete decorating service. Things French were the fu-rore of the 1890's and what a name W. & J. Sloane made for themselves by bringing the best of foreign courts to Fifth Avenue mansions!

Through alternate national upheavals and calm prosperity W. & J. Sloane have for eighty-six years clung to the highest of standards in home furnishings. Authenticity of design and excellence of workmanship have proven a rule that permits no exception . . . A long life has made history for W. & J. Sloane . . . their Los Angeles store benefits from this experience . . . You are invited to inspect their particularly fine collection of Oriental Rugs . . .

FIVE MEN DEAD IN RAIL WRECK

Hundred and Fifty Others Hurt in Illinois Mishap

Four So Seriously Injured They May Not Survive

Coaches Leave Tracks and Go Over Embankment

PEORIA, (Ill.) Feb. 20. (AP)—Five miners were killed, four so seriously hurt they may die and about 150 others suffered less severe injuries in a train wreck today. Four cars of an eight-coach train of the Peoria Terminal Railway Company plunged over a twenty-five-foot embankment near Hollis, five miles south of here.

The train, carrying about 750 miners to work at the Crescent coal mines, fifteen miles south of Peoria, was proceeding at the rate of twelve or fifteen miles an hour, miners and railroad officials say, when one of the coaches was thrown off the tracks by what was believed a broken rail and broken fishplate, the iron bar connecting the rails.

PILED IN DITCH

One car after another tumbled down the embankment with their loads of from sixty to seventy-five miners each until four cars were piled in the ditch, some of them almost upside down, others on their sides. A fifth car left the tracks and slid part way down the bank, but remained upright.

In some of the coaches were coal heaters and one car was set afire by an overturned stove. The blaze was extinguished but not before a miner was burned, probably fatally.

The homes of many of the men are near the scene of the wreck, and within a few minutes scores of wives, mothers and children were rushing frantically to the scene, some facing the 5 deg. below zero weather without stopping to don wraps.

MUCH CONFUSION

The first of the injured were taken to hospitals in Peoria by passing motorists. This fact added to the confusion of those hunting for relatives. One hysterical woman heard the name of her husband called as among the dead, only to find him alive and only slightly hurt later.

Tonight forty injured men still were in hospitals. About 100 others had been treated for minor injuries and taken to their homes. Those killed were William Brown, Lester Jones, George Wilkinson, Cecil Walker and Charles Luthy.

ONE DEAD AS DRIFT DERAILS TRAIN IN NORTH

SWEETGRASS (Mont.) Feb. 20. (AP)—A Great Northern passenger train engine and several cars jumped the track, killing the fireman, when the train rammed into a four-foot bank of snow, which had drifted across the tracks near here today.

Paul Greening of Great Falls, Mont., was killed, and the engineer of the train, whose name was not learned, was slightly injured. None of the passengers was hurt.

The cars, with the exception of the engine, remained upright and were pulled back on the track, the train proceeding on its way two hours behind schedule.

CARDINAL GROWS WORSE

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 20. (AP)—Cardinal Vico, prefect of the sacred congregation of rites, who has been gravely ill, took a turn for the worse today and his relatives were summoned to his bedside. The cardinal is 82 years of age.

How come Heart-Leaves don't bite your throat?

. . . this veteran of the tobacco fields explains it

"Uncle Peter" knows tobacco secrets from sixty years in the fields

HEART-LEAF quality throughout . . . in both Domestic and Imported Tobaccos

Eat a Chocolate, light an Old Gold . . . and enjoy both

"When Mother Nature rears up a tobacco plant with its big family of growing leaves, she gets like most mothers . . . a little bit partial.

"'Just look at those no 'count top-leaves,' she thinks, 'gummy and woody, no matter how much sun I give them. And look at the ground-leaves, they get frizzled and burnt by the sand, no matter how hard I try. But the heart-leaves grow silky-smooth, and bright as a ten dollar gold piece.'

"So, to the heart-leaves, Mother Nature gave the quality of making a thrilling, throat-easy smoke.

"OLD GOLD buys only the heart-leaf quality. Chooses only the golden beauties from the heart of the plant. I reckon that's why OLD GOLDS don't bite your throat. Why you can smoke them from sun-up to sun-down!"

MILLIONS GONE UP SALT CREEK

Senator Hurls New Charge of Oil Deals Fraud

Rottenness Can be Uncovered Robinson Declares

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (A.P.)—Charges of frauds against the government amounting to more than $1,000,000,000 through the Salt Creek, (Wyo.) oil fields leases were made in the Senate today by Senator Robinson, Republican, Indiana.

Coincidentally, chairman Nye issued a call for the Lands Committee to meet tomorrow to consider a resolution extending the authority of the committee to inquire into the leases during the approaching recess.

"I undertake to state," Robinson declared, "that the government has been defrauded out of hundreds of millions of dollars in the Salt Creek region; that the rottenness can be uncovered and much of the property reclaimed."

WANT BELL EMPLOYED

Senator Robinson recommended that the Lands Committee employ as its counsel in the proposed renewed inquiry Robert C. Bell, former assistant Attorney-General, who has charged fraud in connection with the original leasing.

Thomas Sterling, former Republican Senator from South Dakota, and the present counsel of the committee in its sixth-month inquiry into the leases, yesterday reported that there is insufficient evidence on which to base charges of fraud. An attempt is expected to be made in the committe tomorrow to dispense with Sterling's services.

Bell has charged that the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, through the Mid-West Refining Company, a subsidiary, has a monopoly of the Salt Creek field. The Salt Creek leases were let during the closing days of the Wilson administration and early in the Harding regime.

WALSH ATTACKED

The Indiana Senator also made an attack upon Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, for his proposed censure of the Interior and Justice departments in their handling of the Sinclair contract for the Salt Creek royalty oil. He declared that the Salt Creek leases were allowed under the leasing act of 1920, "sponsored by the Senator from Montana."

The Walsh censure resolution was the first object of Robinson's attack today and he declared that the conclusions drawn by the Montanan from his inquiry into the renewal of the Sinclair contract and the investigation by the Department of Justice leading to its cancellation are "thoroughly erroneous."

Robinson declared that Senator Walsh must have been "more or less familiar with the option clause" under which the contract was renewed a year ago by former Secretary Work of the Interior Department. Because this option clause did not conform to the specifications for bids, the Department of Justice last fall declared the contract void.

MANY CRIMINALS SMUGGLED IN AS SAILORS

SPEZIA (Italy) Feb. 20. (Exclusive)—How Italian criminals escape the Italian and the American authorities and enter the United States under the guise of sailors, thus furnishing excellent recruiting material for the Chicago gangs, is revealed in the trial here of Giannini Giovanni, charged with wholesale smuggling of Italian riffraff to America.

Giovanni, who is agent for a sailors' agency here, was accustomed to visit all the ships entering the port and arrange to furnish any sailors needed. Then he collected amounts ranging from $52 to $263 from gentlemen of highly uncertain character for the privilege of taking certain jobs until America was reached when the so-called "seamen" scurried quietly ashore.

The story of the British boat Gerty revealed one of Giovanni's exploits. He supplied this boat with twenty-three men for different capacities all totally ignorant of their supposed duties. One of them was seasick during the entire voyage. The master of the ship discharged this inefficient crew and shipped a fresh lot at Gibraltar whence the Italians were returned home. This caused the disclosure of Giovanni's scheme.

TARIFF SOUGHT TO AID FARMER

House Committee Taking Up Free Schedule

Duties Asked by Federation on Products

Crowd of Witnesses Causes Time Cutting

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (A.P.)—Entering the home stretch of its exhaustive hearings on tariff revision, the House Ways and Means Committee today took up the free list, the last of the fifteen schedules in the law, and heard appeals for duties on an extensive list of farm products and manufactured articles.

A total of 288 witnesses, the largest number to appear on any one schedule since the hearings began January 7, last, are listed for testimony on the free list, forcing the committee to adopt a five-minute rule in order to conclude its consideration by the end of the week.

The most sweeping proposal presented by more than a score of witnesses today was that of Chester Gray, Washington representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation. He recommended tariffs on short and long staple cotton, hides, broom corn, bananas, copra, vegetable oils and seeds, and other commodities and asked that agricultural implements, fertilizer and grasses and fibres used in making binder twine, be continued on the free list.

INTEREST THREE-FOLD

The interest of the federation in the free list, he said, is three-fold, namely to protect more adequately producers of certain farm crops which are now admitted free, to avoid undue increase on farm costs should certain articles now free be made dutiable and to increase the revenue to the government.

"Tariffs have receded to an inferior position in producing necessary revenue to operate the Federal government," Gray declared.

"Agriculture looks upon tariffs as methods to protect, or in other cases merely to equalize the cost of production, which the farmers in the United States must meet as compared with those abroad. However, if tariffs can be made effective in obtaining revenue by transferring from the free list to the dutiable list of some commodities which are directly competitive to American farm crops, it is entirely justifiable that use be made of this facility."

DUTY PROPOSED

The farm bureau head proposed a duty of 75 cents a bunch on bananas; $35 a ton on broom corn; from 6 cents to 24 cents a pound on cotton ranging from one and one-sixteenth of an inch in length and under to one and five-eighths of an inch and over; specific rates on cattle hides, kip skins and calf skins with a minimum of 45 per cent ad valorem; 45 per cent on vegetable oils and seeds; 2 cents a pound on tapioca, 5 cents a pound on raw horseradish and 50 per cent ad valorem on manufactured horseradish.

"Cotton is coming within recent years to suffer from foreign competition," Gray said, "and will suffer more in years to come unless duties are placed upon it."

Importations of bananas reach 360,000,000 bunches annually, he said, adding that these compete directly with every fruit and berry produced by the American farmer.

PRICE INCREASED

"Farmers do not subscribe to the argument that a duty on hides will be of no benefit to them," he continued. "The by-products of the meat industry such as hides, hair, horns and tankage, constitute a very valuable portion of the animal carcass. If these by-products can be sold to better advantage, competition of one sort or another will require the purchasers of our meat animals to reflect the advantage obtained on the by-products in the price given to the producer for his animal on the hoof."

Copra importations, mostly from the Philippines, were listed by Gray at 451,000,000 pounds. The duty, he said, is necessary in order to make effective the proposed duty on cocoanut oil.

Other articles on which duties are proposed are sugar, machinery, cream separators and Bibles.

COTTON DUTY URGED

Urging a duty on long-staple cotton, Representative Swing, Republican, California, said American producers cannot compete with Egyptian and Peruvian cotton of the type. He suggested a rate of 10 cents a pound on staples of one and one-eighth inches and over and said if the American textile manufacturer is to be protected certainly the growers and farm hand should receive like treatment.

Representative Douglas, Democrat, Arizona, also urged protection for long-staple cotton, but suggested a sliding scale to assist raisers of varying lengths.

Evidently recalling his conflict with Swing over Boulder Canyon, Douglas, when he took the stand, said: "This is the first time that Representative Swing and myself are in agreement."

OBJECTION RAISED

On cross-examination, Douglas told Representative Garner that if Egyptian cotton were shut out, American Pima cotton easily could be substituted in the manufacture of automobile tires and other merchandise.

Protesting against the proposed duty, former Senator Lippett of Providence, R. I., appearing for cotton manufacturers, declared it would exclude a raw material that is not produced in this country, cannot be produced here, and is obtainable only from Egypt.

The imported cotton, he said, is smoother, softer and more brilliant than American staples and is highly essential to the New England industry.

TWO MORE ADVANTAGES
that work for the truck-buyer

Straight Rating

clarifies the question of what a given truck and body will actually handle with year-in, year-out efficiency. Avoids the vagueness, hedging, and hidden penalties of the old "one ton", "two ton", etc., rating terms. It is based on maximum allowable total gross weight of any General Motors Truck. From this subtract exactly known chassis and body weights—the answer is clear, exact. A guarantee takes on new meaning. Tire equipment, accurately determined in advance, gives utmost mileage, top-economy.

No "Excess Allowances"—but Extra Value, Built In

No unsound allowances are made on trade-ins, as far as General Motors Trucks are concerned. Actual used truck value is determined by impartial, fair appraisal. The buyer is free to consider real value in a new truck—is not confused and misled by haggling and "hoss-trading" methods. List prices of General Motors Trucks contain no "water". They share fairly, with buyers, the advantages of unusual facilities, wisely used.

INVESTIGATE WHAT GENERAL MOTORS HAS BEFORE YOU BUY

He's a big western boy

The Neighborhood Service Station Operator is a Big Part of the West's Industrial Structure

He lives here in your neighborhood; he built his hopes on his investment here; he works long hours; he runs, smiles and serves at every beck and call—this service station operator. We all know him. He's the helpful part of every community. His job is almost civic. He's the information bureau, the traffic regulator, the school children's road chaperon. He's the convenience man for all community needs. His cheer is the bright spot of a day's buffeting surge of motor traffic. This bright spot must be a white spot of good business. It is the keystone of one of the West's greatest industrial structures. The progress of the great Pacific Coast Empire does not depend on the wealth or success of a few isolated, individually held fortunes. Our success depends on the cumulative success of a great number of deserving small successes. And success breeds success.

Patronize, co-operate with, and support your neighborhood service station operator. If you make an orphan of him, you tear into the "service" structure of your community house. Don't do it; build this, your, community.

DISCIPLINING OF DOCTORS URGED

Need for National Licensing Policy Stressed

Medical Educational Body in Chicago Session

Californian in Address Before Physicians

CHICAGO, Feb. 20. (AP)—Disciplinary measures for the licensed practitioner and the necessity for a national policy in issuing licenses to physicians were stressed today at the annual meeting of the Medical Educational Association.

Discipline of the licensed physician was declared of vital importance by Dr. P. T. Phillips of Santa Cruz, Cal., president of the California Board of Medical Examiners.

Violations of the code of ethics warranting revocation of licenses he listed to include habitual intemperance, betraying a patient in a professional way, and advertising fake cures.

Dr. Hugh Cabot, dean of the University of Michigan medical school, declared the family doctor is a thing of the past.

"The public demand for specialists, despite the high fees of these specialists, has placed the popularity of the old family doctor on the wane," he said. "As a physician I have time and again told my patients that they did not require X-ray or other treatments lately evolved by science, but in most cases my advice has been disregarded. This highbrow idea has been responsible for increasing medical fees."

Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Leland Stanford, Jr., University, urged the adoption of a national policy in the granting of physicians' licenses.

"It is impossible," he declared, "for a physician living in one State to move to another without being confronted with new problems on how to qualify himself as a practitioner."

Dr. Wilbur also declared licensed practitioners in their campaigns against quacks have built up a public sympathy for the unlicensed practitioner.

(Copyright, 1929, by the New York Times.)

LONDON, Feb. 20. (Exclusive)—Gleeful cries of "pronounce it" in Commons this afternoon greeted the attempts of Sir Robert Thomas, Liberal member from Anglesea to obtain for the village of Llanfairpwllgwyngyllgogerchwyrndrodwllllandysiliogogoch (consisting of fifty-eight letters) the services of a Welsh-speaking postmaster. It was stated that Mr. Crick, the English postmaster sent there knew no Welsh while many of the villagers knew no English. As a consequence Mr. Crick resigned his post and returned to a job in the navy.

Postmaster General Mitchell-Thomason admitted doubt existed in regard to the precise spelling of the name, which is known among tourists as "Llanfair Houn" for short. Sir Robert urged Crick's successor should at least be able to pronounce the name of his postoffice.

Utah Senator Introduces Bill to That End

Creed Keeps America from Promise, He Charges

Measure Proposes Forming of Isle Constitution

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (AP)—Independence of the Philippines was demanded in the Senate today by Senator King, Democrat of Utah, who then introduced a bill to that end.

The Senator charges that American sovereignty over the islands is being maintained to permit "exploitation by American capitalists."

Despite "our solemn pledge to withdraw sovereignty as soon as possible," Senator King declared, "our flag still flies over the islands notwithstanding their desire for complete independence."

"The greedy eyes of the capitalists are turned toward the Philippines as they have been turned toward Cuba, Haiti, and the Latin-American countries. Our wealth is flowing across the seas as our capitalists seek economic conquest of peoples not under our flag.

Senator King's bill would authorize the Philippine Legislature to call a general election of delegates to a constitutional convention which would formulate a constitution for an independent republican government. Upon its ratification and the election of officers, the President of the United States would be empowered to proclaim independence.

SALISBURY (Eng.) Feb. 20. (AP) Lady Lodge, wife of Sir Oliver Lodge, scientist and research worker in psychical fields, died at their home near here today. Sir Oliver was at her bedside.

Lady Lodge, who came of an old Scottish family, shared her husband's views on spiritualism.

"I did not make any arrangement with my wife to communicate with her after she passed over," said Sir Oliver. "But I am sure that she will do something to speak to me. She was quite ready to go after her long illness, but I shall hear from her again just as I have from my son, Raymond."

SPAIN ENDS. LIFE OF ITS ARTILLERY

Dissolution Carried Out With Minor Disturbance; Units Merged With Others

MADRID, Feb. 20. (AP)—Spain today carried out dissolution of its artillery corps, apparently without disorder except at Segovia, where cadets made a demonstration. Troops throughout the kingdom were confined to their barracks in order that there might be no interference when officers of other branches relieved the artillery of their commands.

The corps, dissatisfied because Gen. Primo de Rivera, an infantry officer, had displaced it from its previous high ranking position in the army, was held responsible for the recent bloodless revolt at Ciudad Real and similar insubordinations. King Alfonso by royal decree dissolved it and merged its units with the other forces.

The War Ministry today ordered captains-general throughout Spain to forward all petitions (presumably for restoration to active service) presented by heads and officers of the artillery who have been transferred to the reserves or retired.

An official statement tonight said all communications received by it indicate that dissolution of the corps was carried out satisfactorily. It said that the government felt constrained to refuse to permit the press to comment or to publish the names of those affected because it is desirable that the artillery corps be reborn without stigma.

TRADEMARK VALID IN ALL AMERICAS

Nineteen Nations Agree on Protection for Maker of Registered Goods

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (AP)—Representatives of nineteen republics of North and South America signed today an Inter-American trademark covenant, characterized by representatives of the State Department as "the broadest and most scientific commercial convention ever negotiated between nations of the New World."

Only two American nations, Argentina and Salvador, abstained from the pact. They sent no delegates to the conference.

The agreements provide that manufacturers of any of the ratifying nations may register their trademarks with all the nations at once, avoiding formalities now required by individual countries. Protection of trademarked articles from fraud and unfair competition and establishment of a central registration bureau at Havana are provided.

Blaze Razes Fox Film Camp in Mountains

TUCSON (Ariz.) Feb. 20. (AP)—Fire late today almost completely destroyed the camp of a company of the Fox Film Corporation at Lincoln on the properties of the Buckeye Mine and Milling Company in the Tucson Mountains near here. It was estimated by G. G. K Rudolph, production manager, that the loss to the film company will amount to between $10,000 and $15,000.

It will be necessary to retake a considerable amount of film, Rudolph said, to replace that which was lost in the blaze. The cause of the blaze is undetermined. It started in the dark room of the camp and quickly spread to near-by buildings.

Cabins occupied by R. J. Flaherty, director; Juan Sedillo, leading man of the company, Leon Shamroy, cameraman, and Gregg Whitespear, property man, and his assistants were destroyed completely together with all their personal belongings.

CHICAGO TURNS TO VIGILANTES

Business Men of City Name Crime Committee

Aid Pledged Prosecutor to Clear Up Murders

Official Warned Slackness Will Cost Job

CHICAGO, Feb. 20. (Exclusive)—Business men and civic leaders of Chicago today took action to help the authorities solve the Moran gang massacre and prevent further killings and other acts of violence to the end that the city's good name shall not suffer further. It is announced that a committee of five is to be formed to work with the State's Attorney's office toward this goal.

The business men met pursuant to a call stating that the massacre was a civic as well as an official problem. They called on State's Attorney Swanson to be present and he came.

REPORTERS BARRED

The Illinois Manufacturers' Association called the meeting, which took place at the Union League Club. Representatives of the Association of Commerce, the Chicago Crime Commission, the Illinois Vigilance Association, the Hamilton Club and other clubs were present, but press representatives were barred.

State's Attorney Swanson said after the meeting that he had been delegated to make a statement for the public. The conference had brought out a full discussion of the shooting of seven men against a wall in a garage at 2122 North Clark street last Thursday, he said. The business men, he explained, want to be of assistance to the authorities in tracing down the killers and preventing other murders. The committee of five will represent the civic organizations in all dealings with the Prosecutor's office.

It was admitted that the police department had been severely criticised at the meeting, but Prosecutor Swanson would not give his opinion on whether the censure was deserved or not.

FUNCTION UNCERTAIN

Asked what help they could give him or what help he needed, he said that was a matter for the committee of five to decide. The prosecutor declared he had been given no instruction or advice.

From other sources it was learned that one speaker had said:

"God forbid that 1000 men be added to the police force to be contaminated by the present membership."

Another speaker was quoted as having said to Mr. Swanson:

"You are going to stand or fall on what you do with the police force of this city. The policeman on the beat who winks at a law violation is guilty of malfeasance. The only way to overcome crime in Chicago is through a militant prosecutor."

CHICAGO GANGSTER ROUTS FEDERAL AGENTS

CHICAGO, Feb. 20. (AP)—Federal agents who raided the home of Joe Saltis here today, were routed when the gang chieftain appeared, pistol in hand and ordered them from the place. They returned a few minutes later with police reinforcements and seized a quantity of liquor, 200 slot machines and two large automobiles. A man who gave his name as "Bates" claimed ownership of the contraband and was arrested.

Saltis was released from jail here yesterday.

Leadville Too Moral, Judge in Poorhouse

LEADVILLE (Colo.) Feb. 20. (AP)—Leadville, which in its heyday was one of the wildest and woollist of mining towns, has so reformed that one of the two justices of peace elected here last November has gone to the poorhouse and the other hasn't had a case for two months.

John Griffin, justice of the peace, has taken up his abode in the County Poorhouse after he had testified that during January his total income was $3.

Since the grand sweep made by the Federal government that resulted in the indictment of twenty-six residents of Leadville, including most of the town officials, on charges of conspiracy to violate the prohibition law, there has been very little law-business.

BANK RAIDERS CAPTURED

Constable Employs Football Tactics When Bandit Starts Shooting; Shot Punctures Hat

FRESNO, Feb. 20. (AP)—Five shots from a .45-caliber revolver in the hands of Walter Swartz as Constable John Swan of Del Rey grappled with him, ended a two-hour hunt this afternoon for two men who, it is said, earlier had robbed the First National Bank of Dey Rey of $321.

The climax of the hunt came when Swan, Deputy Sheriffs Lawrence Collins and H. W. Hollingsworth, E. H. McLean of Del Rey, and two local newspaper men, approached Swartz's ranch near Clovis.

FOOTBALL TACTICS USED

As machines neared the ranch, Fred T. Heins, Swartz's asserted accomplice, was seen in the vineyard about twenty feet from the garage door. Swartz appeared in the garage door as the cars stopped in the driveway and when Constable Swan walked toward him, Swartz pulled a revolver from his coat pocket. As he pulled the gun, Swartz made a dive for him grappling with him and throwing him back inside the garage. Five times Swartz shot, one bullet puncturing the rim of Constable Swan's hat les than half an inch from his head, two kicking up dust in the floor of the garage and two going through the roof.

In the meantime, Deputy Sheriff Hollingsworth had covered Heins with a shotgun and Deputy Sheriff Lawrence Collins went into the garage to aid Swan. Swartz then surrendered.

MONEY RECOVERED

In the pocket of Swartz's coat was found $350. Heins at first denied any knowledge of the robbery, but after being questioned out a suit of his clothes in the garage in which was found $441, leaving only $30 unaccounted for. Both men admitted their parts in the robbery, although Heins was sullen and at first refused to give his name.

The robbery occurred about 2:45 p.m. today when Swartz and Heins, police assert, walked into the Del Rey bank from the Second-street entrance. Swartz approached the window and Heins went to the other. Swartz demanded of Frank Hamm, assistant cashier who was at the window, "give us what you've got." Hamm replied that they did not have much money and handed over what was on the counter. Swartz then ordered Hamm and Miss Nannie Rasmussen, the bookkeeper, to stand against the wall and the two men walked out.

Today's robbery is thesecond experienced by the local bank recently, the first being on November 21, last, when V. V. Doty of Fresno obtained $440, which was recovered an hour after the robbery when he was arrested in Fresno as he returned an automobile which he had rented for the occasion. Doty pleaded guilty to a robbery charge and is now serving a term in San Quentin penitentiary.

JURY ACQUITS RAY KILGORE

Slayer of Mother's Illicit Lover Exonerated

Freed Youth Says Future Life Will Justify Verdict

Mother Not in Courtroom as Jurors Make Report

EL CENTRO, Feb. 20.—After deliberating four hours and fifteen minutes a jury of nine men and three women tonight found Ray Kilgore, 22-year-old Stanford graduate, not guilty of murder in the confessed slaying of Francis A. Bartley, Imperial rancher and clandestine lover of the defendant's mother.

The jurors retired at 4:26 this afternoon and reported at 8:35 that they had reached a verdict. Superior Judge Finney was called to the courtroom and received the verdict at 8:57 o'clock. It was said that five ballots had been taken to reach agreement.

FRIENDS REJOICE

Pronouncement of the acquittal precipitated a celebration in the crowded courtroom by relatives and friends of the Kilgore family, which consists of the father and mother and nine children. M. R. Kilgore, the father, and two grown brothers of the defendant, John and Byron, heard the verdict given. The youth's mother, who took the stand and bared details of her ill-fated romance with a former neighbor to save her son, was not in court tonight. Neither was Mrs. Bartley, widow of the slain man, present.

YOUTH'S STATEMENT

Young Kilgore, after hearing the words which restored his liberty, made the following statement:

"I want to say to the jury and to all residents of this county that my conduct in the future will fully justify the verdict rendered."

The jurors retired this afternoon with impassioned words of oratory from both defense and prosecution ringing in their ears.

Declaring that Kilgore shot and killed Bartley during "the heat of a sudden passion that was provoked by the knowledge that the man had been guilty of improper relations with his mother," Defense Counsel Edgar Hervey, in his final plea before the jury today, declared that the defendant was justified under the law and should be cleared of the charge of murder.

HOME TIES STRESSED

"In any land where the honor of woman is recognized, where the virtue of a mother is prized and where the sanctity of home and fireside is revered, no jury would convict a man who defends that honor and virtue and sanctity," Hervey concluded.

The defense attorney placed the entire blame for the clandestine love affair between Bartley and Mrs. M. R. Kilgore, mother of the defendant, on the slain man. It made no difference, he said, whether Bartley was shot from ambush or not, because the rancher had used the guise of a nineteen-year friendship to win the affections of the boy's mother.

YOUTH EXCORIATED

Dist.-Atty. Elmer Heald made the closing plea for the State. He followed Hervey at 10 o'clock this morning and continued his argument following the noon recess. Heald denounced Kilgore as a "coward who had killed from ambush and was attempting to escape penalty by proclaiming his mother's shame."

The fatal shooting occurred on December 23, last, after the son had intercepted a love letter written by his mother to Bartley. It was mailed from Mar Vista, where the Kilgore home is now located, to a neighbor rancher near Imperial for delivery to Bartley. The rancher's wife, however, obtained the letter and returned it to Mar Vista with a notation that her husband was not in a habit of acting in such capacities.

UNWRITTEN LAW PLEADED

Upon its return to the Kilgore home, the mother unaware of the nature of the missive, asked Ray to open it and read it to her. As a result, the mother made a full confession to her son regarding her relations with Bartley. The son drove to the valley with a shotgun and killed Bartley in a pasture of the latter's dairy ranch. He surrendered to the Sheriff here. The prosecution demanded the death penalty, charging that the rancher was slain from ambush. The defense pleaded the unwritten law.

ALL CITIES TO SHARE GAS TAX

Question, Long Cause of Feud, is Thought Settled in Orange County

SANTA ANA, Feb. 20. — The old Supervisorial quarrel over how to spend the county's annual income of $300,000 from the gasoline tax, which resulted in a breach several years ago between the First Supervisorial District, comprising the city of Santa Ana, and other districts of the county, is in the prospect of an amicable settlement through which all incorporated cities of the county will participate in benefits of the fund, it was learned today.

Under the existing policy, adopted at the time of the break between former Supervisor S. H. Finley of the First District and the opposing faction, headed by Supervisor William Schumacher of the Third District, the entire gas-tax money is expended on county roads outside of incorporated cities.

The break in question came when the majority of the board demanded that the fund be distributed between the four Supervisorial districts outside of Santa Ana, and that Supervisor Finley, who previously had directed the expenditure of a fifth of the money, no longer control any of the fund, since the First District had no county roads to maintain.

According to Supervisor Charles H. Chapman, who succeeded Col. Finley at the beginning of the present year, a plan now is in the making whereby Santa Ana and every other incorporated city in the county can participate in the expenditure of the gas tax.

Under the plan contemplated by the board, said Chapman, each incorporated city of the county would designate two of its main-traveled through streets, one running north and south and the other east and west, which streets would be eligible for improvement from the county gas-tax fund. Twenty-five per cent of the cost of all future improvements upon such designated streets would be paid from the county fund under the proposed plan, it is said.

At the time of the original break between Supervisors over the gas-tax policy, Supervisor Schumacher, then chairman of the board, took the stand that Santa Ana should not share in the gas tax unless other cities of the county could have a share. The break was precipitated by Col. Finley's attempt to obtain an appropriation of $20,000 from the gas-tax fund toward the paving of South Main street, Santa Ana.

LEGION BENEFIT NETS GOOD PROFIT

ONTARIO, Feb. 20.—Members of the drum and bugle corps of the local post of the American Legion wanted new uniforms as they are to compete in the State drum and bugle contest at the National Orange Show this week. So they transferred Legion Hall into a Yukon wildest rendezvous, swished the members into Dan McGrews and Lady Lous, opened up a bank and began panning for gold.

They panned enough in the two nights of the days of '49 show, so it was evident today the drum and bugle corps will be all dolled out in the classiest uniforms made when they compete for the State title.

CITY EMPLOYEES GIVEN BANQUET

MONTEBELLO, Feb. 20—Thursday evening the five Councilmen and the City Manager of Montebello will entertain as their guests all of the city employees which will number about fifty-five, at a 6 o'clock dinner to be held at the Masonic Temple Building. This dinner is given in appreciation of the fine work done by the department heads and employees during the past year.

Mayor William H. Cook will preside as toastmaster of the evening. City Manager Rowan of South Pasadena will be the speaker of the evening, and his address will deal with city management and city employees. A splendid entertainment will conclude the program.

ELECT OFFICERS FOR VENTURA LEGION

VENTURA, Feb. 20. — Dr. G. C. Coffey was elected to be the first permanent commander of the newly formed Poinsettia Post of the American Legion last night, at a meeting to elect officers to succeed those who have served through the period of temporary organization.

Other officers are Jack Eimers, First Vice-Commander; Ray Weigle, Second Vice-Commander; Paul Wallace, Adjutant; Fred Newcomb, Chaplain; Burch Meade, members of the advisory board. The charter night celebration or the post will be held March 6, next.

PASADENANS SEEK MUSIC

Leaders of Civic Organization Propose to Form Symphonic Orchestra With Local Talent

PASADENA, Feb. 20.—With the objective of establishing a symphonic orchestra in this city, representatives of civic groups met last night at the Public Library and appointed a committee to effect a permanent organization.

Miss Junia Wolff, chairman of a special committee from the Tuesday Musicale, which inaugurated the civic orchestra movement, acted as chairman and appointed the following to serve as an organization committee: Frank H. Sellars, chairman; Mrs. Walter Putnam, Mrs. A. J. Wingard, Franklin Thomas, Mrs. Henry A. Everett and Henry Edmond Earle.

The committee hopes to secure financial support to permit the holding of five winter and three summer concerts.

"Any musician desiring to play with the new orchestra," said Miss Wolff, "will find an open door. Talent of every sort will be welcomed, and those not already affiliated with musical organizations in this city may arrange for an audition by telephoning either Mrs. Walter Jayred or myself."

In view of the plan to erect a municipal auditorium in the near future, the new organization is planning to hold its concerts in that building to obviate the necessity for building a symphonic hall.

It was proposed last night that all rehearsals of the orchestra be held in the Pasadena Junior College auditorium so that school pupils may hear classical music without expense.

CORONER TO INVESTIGATE

Suspicious Circumstances Surround Recent Death of La Jolla Woman

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 20.—An investigation was ordered today by Coroner Schuyler C. Kelly into the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Hall, 33 years of age, mother of two children, who was found dead in her home in La Jolla, 7421 Olivetas street, apparently the victim of gas poisoning.

Unusual circumstances surrounding the death, Coroner Kelley said, led to his decision to order an investigation.

The woman, fully dressed and wearing her hat, was found dead in bed. The covers had been pulled over the body of the woman and her arms were underneath the bed covering, Kelly said.

Discovery of the death of the young woman, a member of the Theosophical Institute at Point Loma, was made by her mother, Mrs. Mary L. Foster, who lives near by.

Mrs. Foster telephoned her daughter early today and when unable to get a response she became alarmed and hurried to her daughter's home.

When she arrived Mrs. Foster broke into the house and found the body. A gas heater was turned on and had filled the room with gas fumes, Coroner Kelly said.

The absence of suicide notes and of any other evidence to substantiate the theory that the woman intended to take her own life indicated to Kelly the possibility of foul play.

The dead woman was the mother of two boys, Jack, 8 years of age, and George, 7, both of whom attend school at the Theosophical Institute.

An autopsy has been ordered by Kelly.

Vote on Bonds to Buy Airport

FULLERTON, Feb. 20. — Preparations were under way today for the calling of a bond issue election amounting to approximately $21,000, for the purchase of 26.6-10 acres of land adjoining the municipal airport on the west for landing-field purposes following unanimous approval of the plan by the City Council at its meeting last night.

Legal action enjoining the city from carrying out its contract to purchase the property from F. Paggi on the basis originally planned left only the alternative of a bond issue the Council decided.

The City Attorney was instructed to prepare the necessary resolution for presentation at the next meeting, March 5, to start proceedings.

Action approving the calling of a bond election followed the presentation of a communication by the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce.

The letter from the chamber explained that that organization was highly desirous of having a Class A landing field for Fullerton, and that in addition such a project would provide a location for aviation industries several of which desire to establish plants here.

The letter recommended the bond election as apparently the only possible way in which the matter could be handled at this time.

CHINESE GIRL WEDS; LOSES CITIZENSHIP

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 20.—Nora May Jein, 22 years of age, one of the few Chinese girls of Santa Barbara who is an American citizen and entitled to vote, by reason of being born in California, is to renounce her citizenship for love.

Yesterday, with Jung Yoke Quong, 34 years of age, of Los Angeles, she appeared in the County Clerk's office to apply for a marriage license. As soon as she is wed she will become a Chinese subject, as her husband-to-be was born in the Orient and cannot be naturalized.

Once she has become a Chinese subject she cannot be naturalized as long as she is married, but in event the marriage is terminated, for any reason, under the law she may apply and be accepted for naturalization, the County Clerk says.

SALVATION ARMY ASSIGNMENT

INGLEWOOD, Feb. 20.—Ensign Philip Lawton, for a number of years attached to the San Francisco headquarters staff of the Salvation Army, has been assigned to duty in charge of the Salvation Army Corps here and will enter upon his new duties at once.

Ensign Lawton and Mrs. Lawton have taken a home at 424 West Regent street. The ensign and his wife succeed in the local field Capt. Ivy G. Thirkettle and Lieut. Ethel M. Taylor.

School Bus in Collision

BRYN MAWR, Feb. 20.—Norman Tharp, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Delbert, Alabama street, was cut about the face, and four other school children badly hurt today when a Redlands school bus was hit by an automobile. The pupils, en route from their homes in the Bryn Mawr and Mission districts to Redlands schools, were thrown from their seats by the collision. Glass from the shattered windows caused minor injuries. Norman Tharp was thrown to the floor of the bus and the impact fractured his right arm.

The school bus, in charge of C. A. Nelson of 639 Judson street, was traveling east on Brookside avenue. At Lakeside avenue it was struck head on by an automobile driven by Mrs. Jeanette Stuart of 1816 South Western avenue, Los Angeles. The motor car tore along the side of the bus, causing damage to both machines which was estimated at $200.

OPPOSE BUILDING APARTMENT-HOUSE

PASADENA, Feb. 20. — In the belief that the erection of an eight-story apartment building on West Colorado street, opposite Carmelita Park, would spoil the appearance of the western entrance to this city, the City Planning Commission will urge the Board of City Directors to refuse to grant James W. Neill a special building permit, it was announced today.

Neill declared that the plans for the proposed apartment embody the design of outstanding European structures, that the building would be a great asset to this city, and that if his petition for a permit is denied, he will carry the matter to the California Supreme Court.

A minority of the Planning Commission, Carl G. Wopschall and H. L. Miller, favor Neill's project, but they were outvoted by the five other commissioners.

STEALS NOTHING BUT HENS WITH PEDIGREE

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 20. North Hollywood has a chicken thief that knows his onions when it comes to chickens. When he pilfers hen roosts he passes up the ordinary chicken and takes only the high-priced, prize stock. According to police this thief made three raids, carried off a few chickens and yet his loot was valued at $200. Among losers are Mrs. Raymond Crosby and Clifford Powers of Blix street, and Thomas Lundy of La Maida street. All lost the pick of their specially prized stock. Police say the thief is an expert in the matter of judging poultry and in the methods he uses to jimmy into hen coops.

FIREMEN BURNED BY CHEMICAL APPARATUS

ENCINO, Feb. 20.—Theodore Gibson and Elroy Forrer, Encino fire department members, were burned about the eyes when a fire extinguisher they were handling in fighting a blaze at 17626 Ventura Boulevard exploded. They were drenched with the acid chemicals that came from the machine. Both men were treated at the Van Nuys Emergency Hospital. The fire was caused by a defective wood stove.

SCHOOL BOND ELECTION

SOUTH GATE, Feb. 20.—An election to vote on bonds for the Tweedy school district has been called for March 29, and a school trustee is also to be selected on this date to take the place of Jacob J. Hohn, president of the board, whose term of office expires within a few weeks. The amount of the bond issue has not yet been announced, but will be decided within the next few days.

LONG BEACH, Feb. 20. — Appointment of Patrolman George T. Brown to be sergeant of police was announced today by Chief of Police J. S. Yancy. The appointment is to fill a vacancy due to the promotion of Ralph C. Miller to be lieutenant of police.

Boys' Prank Nearly Causes Train Wreck

VENTURA, Feb. 20.—Because they "wanted to see sparks fly," four El Rio youths are believed to have placed rocks on the Southern Pacific tracks near El Rio Sunday, causing the front wheels of the engine of the crack Los Angeles-San Francisco flyer to jump the rails, it was revealed here today.

A serious wreck was narrowly avoided when the engine ran down the railroad ties, finally getting back on the track when it came to a "frog" in the tracks.

Names of the youths thus far have been withheld by the Sheriff's office at the request of the special investigators sent out by the Southern Pacific.

When the train hit the rocks Sunday it left the tracks for a distance of forty feet.

Police Raid Hoboes' Camp

UPLAND, Feb. 20.—It was house-cleaning time today, and a band of hoboes who have been making themselves at home along the Santa Fe tracks were the unwilling movers.

Members of the police department for the second time this year broke up hobo housekeeping.

An old rusty stove and rust-eaten pot and pans, which comprised the hoboes' kitchen, were hauled away and destroyed. Where the stove came from is a question puzzling police. The camp became such a popular rendezvous at Christmas time that a house-cleaning crusade was staged but it was not long until the knights of the ties returned, with another stove, and the rust-wrecked utensils.

CITIZENS SIGN RECALL PETITIONS

LONG BEACH, Feb. 20. — Sufficient signatures to a petition asking that an election be called for the recall of Councilmen W. L. Evans, N. P. Alexander, E. L. Taylor and R. M. Hicks had been obtained this afternoon, sponsors of the campaign announced. Unofficial check of the petitions in the City Clerk's office indicated that the requisite number of signatures had been obtained. Plans to continue taking signatures until March 2, next, the expiration of the thirty-day period for signing, were announced by the campaign leaders.

Separate petitions asking that an election be held to recall Mayor Oscar Hauge and Councilman J. J. Darton have obtained only a fraction of the necessary signatures as yet. They were filed some time after the original petition.

Under the city charter, the Council must call the election when a specific percentage of the vote cast at the last general municipal election has been obtained in signatures.

ENCINO CLUB FILES BANKRUPTCY PAPERS

ENCINO, Feb. 20.—A voluntary bankruptcy petition has been filed in the Federal Court for the Encino Country Club by Victor H. Norman, president, following a resolution adopted by other officers of the club on the 15th inst. The Encino club is one of the show places in San Fernando Valley and in times past has enjoyed a large attendance and wide popularity. Its financial difficulties in recent months have been a matter of regret to many prominent valley residents, for the club buildings and spacious grounds and golf links are among the most beautiful in Southern California. It is hoped that the club will soon emerge from its troubles as it has been for a number of years the meeting place of leading valley organizations and civic luncheon clubs and societies.

TAKES LONG TIME LOOKING FOR JOB

VAN NUYS, Feb. 20.—Since last July 17 Mrs. Burton Connors of 14808 Gilmore street has waited for her husband to come home. Now she has asked the local police to find out what's keeping him. She told the officers that she had been married for a short time and was getting on nicely when Connors left home to look for a new job. Since then he has never come back.

PASADENA, Feb. 20.—The entry list for the seventeenth annual dog show of the Pasadena Kennell Club which will be held on March 8, and 9, next, will be opened tomorrow, according to Dr. Frank Porter Miller, president. Nearly 1000 dogs from the homes and kennels of every dog lover and dog fancier in Southern California, are expected to be place on exhibition in the show.

Plans for the event indicate that it will surpass that of last year, which was the largest show of its kind ever held on the Pacific Coast.

For the first time since 1921, cash awards will be made, as well as trophies and ribbons. Prize money totaling $2000 will be given to the owners of winning exhibits.

The show will be given under canvas at the auditorium site, Green and Garfield streets.

INDORSE TARIFF ON FOOD PRODUCTS

VENTURA, Feb. 20. — Indorsement of the efforts of the California Almond Growers to obtain a higher tariff on almonds has been given by the board of directors of the Ventura Chamber of Commerce and a copy of the resolution today was sent to Congressman Arthur M. Free by Secretary John B. Wallace.

Congressman Free also was asked to oppose the admission of fresh tomatoes duty-free from Mexico. Texas and Arizona tomato growers, who have been supporting California in its demands for higher tariff on nuts and citrus fruits, are opposed to the removal of the duty on fresh tomatoes and the directors of the local chamber felt that California cannot expect their aid unless California is willing to cooperate.

A resolution was also passed indorsing the Boggs bill, which would prohibit peddlers and hucksters from selling their products on the rights of way of the State highways.

PARENTS' DUTY TO CHILDREN

Speaker Outlines Great Task at Educational Conference

VENTURA, Feb. 20.—Characteristics of a progressive parent were outlined this morning by Mrs. Tam Deering of San Diego, associate editor of the Parent-Teacher, in an address before the public-welfare conference of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, which held a one-day session at the high-school auditorium today.

Open-mindedness, alertness, capability of definite thinking, capability of analysis of situations, knowledge of where to find information, how to weight it and how to adapt it to personal use; a sense of humor; ability to wait; ability to study the rhythm of a child, which is different from that of an adult; ability to say "I don't know;" ability to balance the mental ration of the child; and last, a progressive parent must be a "reading parent," were the high points of Mrs. Deering's address.

Mrs. Blanche T. Reynolds, Ventura county superintendent of schools, gave two talks, one on the "county unit bill and what it means to Ventura county schools" and the other on "migratory schools." In the first talk she explained the measure which would provide for election by the people of one county board of education for each of twenty-nine counties, and for the larger counties of boards for from two to twenty districts.

"In her second talk she told of how schools for migratory crop workers' children were conducted and revealed that 55 per cent of the children in these schools in the county last year were residents of the county.

Mrs. Earl Morris of Santa Ana, retiring manager of the National Bureau Program Service, spoke on "Leadership and Programs," explaining in detail the amount of preparation a meeting leader must go into, including that of arranging for material and speakers and laying general plans, and reported that above all the leader must have poise.

The conference concluded this afternoon with addresses by Superior Judge Edward Henderson of Ventura on "Useful Citizenship," Mrs. W. A. Price of San Diego on "The New Tools of Leisure," and E. B. Leffert of Los Angeles on "Safety in the Home, School and Country."

Gilbert, hotel proprietor of Bishop, faces a charge of manslaughter following the verdict of a Coroner's jury at the inquest into the death of Mrs. Rosa Catlow of Saugus on the Ridge Route, Sunday when the car in which she was riding was struck head-on by one driven by Gilbert.

The verdict of the jury at the inquest held today at Paschall & Gault's mortuary here, was that Mrs. Catlow came to her death from injuries in the accident, caused by Gilbert's driving at an excessive rate of speed. Mrs. Catlow's husband and two children were injured, as was Mrs. Harvey, Gilbert's companion.

Eye-witnesses testified that Gilbert swerved out of the line of traffic to pass other cars and met Catlow's car head-on.

PROFITS OF GAS UTILITY HIGHER

Southern Counties Company Reports for Year

Increase in Net Over 1927 Given as $6958.21

Per Share Income is $49.36 on Common Outstanding

Southern Counties Gas Company reports net profits of $1,241,046.69 after all charges for the year ended December 31, last, equal to $51.26 a share on 24,210 preferred shares outstanding, as against $1,234,083.48, or $49.36 a share on 25,000 preferred shares outstanding in 1927, according to the yearly statement released yesterday at the annual meeting. After preferred dividends there is available for common stock $1,095,786, or $36.52 a share on 30,000 shares outstanding, as compared to $1,064,088, or $35.48 a share on 30,000 shares outstanding in 1927.

Gross revenues of the company increased $192,068 over the 1927 total and aggregated $7,167,086.77. Operating expenses and maintenance increased from $3,740,169.80 to $3,961,563.89. Net earnings available for interest, depreciation, amortization, dividends and surplus totaled $2,658,324.17, as against $2,608,064.06 in 1927.

STAFF UNCHANGED

No changes were made in the personnel of the officers or directors, it was announced after the annual meeting.

Franklin S. Wade, president, in his annual report to the company's stockholders, described the past year as one of normal progress. While there was an increase of 3048 consumers, he pointed out, the gross income was only $192,000 greater than for 1927. This relatively small growth, according to Mr. Wade, was due primarily to unusually warm weather during the early spring months of the year, which had a decidedly unfavorable effect on gas sales for domestic heating. Sales of gas for industrial uses were also affected unfavorably by a slackening in some lines of industrial activities and competition from fuel oil was severe, Mr. Wade's report stated.

Early in 1928 the company called and retired all of its outstanding 5½ and 6 per cent bonds. Funds for this purpose were obtained by the sale on favorable terms of $12,000,000 of 4½ per cent bonds due in 1968. On April 1, last, all of the outstanding 7 per cent stock was called and an equal amount of 6 per cent stock issued in its stead.

ASSETS GAIN

Total assets as shown by the balance sheet of December 31, last, were $26,539,550.83, as compared with $23,865,972.75 in 1927. Current assets were listed at $2,210,715.39 and current liabilities, $1,945,793.30.

TWO TOOL MERGERS MADE

E. M. Smith, of Emsco Group, Effects Another Series of Industrial Combinations; Details Later

BY EARLE E. CROWE

E. M. Smith, who has risen in a few short years to a commanding position in the oil well supply business in the western States, and has lately become a factor among foreign manufacturers, will shortly announce the details of two more industrial consolidations of his making. The new companies, which will operate as separate concerns, are the National Tools and Metals Company, and the Western Forging Company.

Western Forging Company represents the combination of the Emsco Press Forging Company and the Western Drop Forge Company. The new company will have a capitalization of $3,500,000, and will do an annual business of about $2,000,000. Los Angeles investment bankers will underwrite an issue of new securities.

ECONOMIES POSSIBLE

Plants of the two constituent companies are adjacent, and it is possible to work out a number of important economies, some of which are already in effect. Total plant area runs about five acres of ground. About 200 men are employed.

Western Forging, it is understood, is the only drop forge company on the Pacific Coast, and numbers among its customers some of the largest manufacturers operating in the West. Caterpillar Tractor, for example, is one of the important customers. Makers of airplane engines on the Coast are also purchasers of products made by Western Forging.

National Tools and Metals Company, the other consolidation effected by Mr. Smith, is a union of the Standard Machine Company of Los Angeles and the Pacific Metals and Welding Company of Torrance. The plants have already been consolidated and manufacturing activities centralized at Torrance, where the former Pacific Metals Company has a four-acre plant.

Manufacture of hard metal facing used in building up the cutting edge on drilling tools is the specialty of this consolidated company. Mr. Smith's research experts are utilizing for this purpose a metal called angelite, a diamond substitute. Angelite, by a secret process, can be applied to surfaces through electrical methods at a cost 75 per cent less than other diamond substitutes, the company claims. Hard metals capable of efficient performance in drilling wells through difficult formations are in heavy demand, and the Smith company expects that its product will show a steady increase in sales.

SMITH PRESIDENT

National Tools and Metals will have a capitalization of $500,000, owned by Mr. Smith and some of his associates. Mr. Smith will be the president and M. G. Brumbly, vice-president and general manager. The latter was formerly with the Rotary Disc Company, which was sold to Byron Jackson recently by the Smith group.

Officers of the Western Forging Company will be Mr. Smith as chairman of the board, and G. E. Moreland, formerly the head of the Western Drop Forge Company, president.

While the two new companies are distinct from Emsco Derrick and Equipment, the largest company Mr. Smith operates, the affiliations undoubtedly will prove of advantage to all units in the Emsco group. Emsco Derrick sells oil-well supplies in all parts of the world, operates factories in Los Angeles, Houston, Tex., and St. Albans, Eng., and is one of the largest manufacturers in the industry.

Quiet Tone on London Market

LONDON, Feb. 20. (Exclusive)—The stock market had a quiet tone today, with business on a small scale. The industrial group moved irregularly, with tobacco issues in supply. Artificial Silk Securities had a steadier tone, while textiles were easier. The rubber list was in better demand, while oils moved irregularly. Wireless issues were firm and Ford Motors, Ltd., was quoted at £3 8s.

The gilt-edge division had a steady tone. Foreign issues were firm. Canadian Pacific had a strong tone. Home rails generally were steady, and Argentine rails were easier.

ALFALFA PRICES UP

Top Grades Reported Highest of Any Recent Year

Continued cold weather necessitating heavy feeding in many areas was a strengthening factor in the hay market during the week ending the 16th inst., although larger receipts caused a decline in price at some points, according to the weekly hay market review of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

Alfalfa prices have continued their upward trend and the average price of No 1 alfalfa at principal markets continues above the high point of any other recent year. Prairie prices have also advanced steadily with the demand for this hay strengthened by the scarcity of good-quality hay of other classes, particularly alfalfa.

PLAN AFOOT TO CONTROL OIL OUTPUT

Movement for Study of Situation Announced by National Institute

NEW YORK, Feb. 20. (AP)—The American Petroleum Institute announced today the formation of a committee of executives of about eighty oil companies to study means of controlling production. The committee is called "the committee on world production and consumption of petroleum and its products."

E. B. Reeser, president of the institute and also president of the Barnsdall Corporation, in a letter to the committeemen, said, "It is well known that most of the important oil fields throughout the world are producing an amount of crude in excess of the consumption in markets geographically tributary thereto. This overproduction has developed such an acutely serious situation that the most complete cooperation lawfully possible is essential to prevent its further development and attendant waste."

The committee is headed by R. C. Holmes, president of the Texas Corporation, as general chairman. It is divided into four regional bodies, K. R. Kingsbury, president of the Standard Oil Company of California, is chairman of a Pacific Coast committee. George S. ## NEW IDEA OF BROKER LOANS

Economist Says Volume Unimportant Compared With Listed Values and Gain Forecast

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

(Copyright, 1929, by the North American Newspaper Alliance)

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—It is both pointless and unscientific to be talking about the size of brokers' loans in themselves. For after all, the amount of the loans is not so important as the percentage of these loans to the total value of the stocks listed on the New York exchange.

Andre Mertzanoff, economist of the American Radiator Company, after a close study of the brokers' loan situation, says the percentage of the total market value in brokers' loans was higher four years ago than today.

At the end of 1925, it was 9.12 per cent; at the end of 1926, 7.35 per cent; for 1927, 7.66 per cent, and at the end of 1928, 7.90 per cent. The present value of the stock listed on the New York exchange, according to this economist, is $67,472,000,000.

Not only does he believe that the market value of all stocks will increase, but he predicts that the rate of increase will be larger in the future than in the past. Why? Because of the newly acquired desire of the American people to invest in stocks, rather than in fixed interest-bearing securities.

During the last four years the market value of listed stocks has increased an average of 24 per cent, and thus the natural thing to expect is an increase in brokers' loans.

Says Mr. Mertzanoff: "An increase in brokers' loans is synonymous with prospering America, while conversely reduction means depression with all its ravaging and devastating evils."

Then he caps the climax by saying he believes 1929 will see an increase in brokers' loans of approximately one and a quarter billion dollars.

"The best anaylsis yet made of the brokers' loan problem," one of the leading bankers of America said to me, referring to Mr. Mertzanoff's study.

Something curious about statistics, insists an English writer. From them, one discovers that the cost of living has gone up only 64 per cent since 1914 in England, but everybody spending money there knows the advance is at least 100 per cent.

Before the war no Englishman with a substantial income would live in an apartment-house. He liked a private house, expansive green lawn, fresh country air. No joint lifts or joint reception rooms for him.

But things are different now. The well-to-dos are moving into the cities. Modern English apartment buildings include all of the up-to-date equipment, with rents from $500 to $1000 a room a year. The families, however, with incomes of from $3000 to $6000 a year seem to be moving away from the cities and into the country, and buying modern houses.

In considering the cost of living in England, imported foods remain the cheapest item, while clothing relatively is much higher. Still, the higher grades of clothes are cheaper than in the United States. A first-class English suit costing $45 in 1914 costs about $65 now, while the same suit would cost $100 in the United States.

Yet the vast majority of Englishmen are not buying $65 suits. How can they? More than 1,300,000 persons are living on the government dole. This seldom reaches $1.50 a week. Naturally the standard of living for hundreds of thousands of them is just a bare existence. Hoping, maybe, a bit of luck will come their way.

Europe's large wheat harvest and the good crops in other parts of the world are probably the cause of the impressive decline in the amount of wheat sent abroad from the United States during 1928. The total export was 96,291,000 bushels, valued at $119,887,000. This was just under 50 per cent less in value than in 1927, and 8 per cent less in quantity.

To complete the picture one must know that in 1928 the wheat flour shipments abroad totaled 11,843,000 barrels, valued at $73,835,000, as compared with 12,833,000 barrels, valued at $85,322,000 in 1927, a decline of 13.5 per cent in value and 7.6 per cent in quantity.

Canned foods, on the other hand, exclusive of canned meats, showed

STOCK TRADING TOTAL SHRINKS

Turnover for Day Is Mark of Year

Values Generally Higher at Closing Bell

Sharp Gains Recorded in Few Favorite Issues

NEW YORK, Feb. 20. Although the day's trading fell below 3,000,000 shares for the first session this year, the market closed higher on the stock ticker. Under the lead of favorable industrial developments. About a score of issues advanced points, with steels, automotive and oil shares making conspicuous gains.

Call money ruled at 6 per cent, in contrast to 7 per cent, the highest rate of the previous week, as some of the banks got no loans from the Federal Reserve Board, in keeping with the board's policy of reducing credit facilities in the stock market, which would appear to have the desired effect, as bankers' acceptances declined all reserve banks, with the exception of the recent increase of $400,000,000. This would tend to relieve the pressure from New York.

Wall Street likes the substantial drop in the brokers' loans when the announcement was made yesterday afternoon, because it indicates that the Reserve Board is satisfied with no less than a decrease of about $600,000,000 in the last week and that it is expected that in the next few weeks, at least, will be enough to bring about the desired result.

NEWS BEHIND

The day's news behind the 2,000,000 per cent stock dividend of the Ingen's Eastern Railway Corporation plan, which, according to the Baltimore and Ohio yesterday; announcement that improvement in loadings in the week end

NEW YORK, Feb. 20. (AP)—Although the day's transactions below 3,000,000 shares for the full session this year, prices were higher on the stock market today under the impetus of a number of favorable industrial developments. About a score of issues rose 2 to points, with steel, merchandising, automotive and aeronautical shares making conspicuous progress.

Call money renewed at 6 per cent, in contrast to 7 yesterday, but got no lower than 6. Despite little prospect of appreciable improvement in credit rates for several weeks, as seasonal demands of commercial requirements rise in March. The Federal Reserve Board, in keeping with its policy of reducing credit available for stock market, announced that it would approve increases in the bankers' acceptance holdings of all reserve banks, to compensate for the recent increases of New York. This would tend to withdraw funds from New York.

Wall street looks for substantial drop in Federal reserve brokers' loans when the weekly announcement is made this afternoon, but the opinion is held that the Reserve Board will be satisfied with no less than a reduction of about $500,000,000. The net last week was but $101,000,000, but it is expected that three or four weeks, at least, will be required to bring about the desired reduction.

NEWS BULLISH

The day's news included a 4 per cent stock dividend by Woolworth; the filing of the Van Sweringen's Eastern Railway consolidation plan, which conforms with the Baltimore and Ohio plan, yesterday; announcement of further improvement in freight loadings in the week ended last

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Feb. 20. (AP)—Quiet strength characterized today's curb market, which witnessed the establishment of at least a dozen new high records during orders were distributed over a fairly broad list, but trading was largely professional in character. Small speculators showed a disposition to keep out of the market until after the holiday. Governors of the exchange voted to close on Saturday as well as Friday.

Credit conditions were somewhat easier today although the Federal Reserve board's approval of an increase in the buying rate on bankers' acceptances outside of New York is expected to result in a reduction in the volume of out-of-town funds sent here for loans on brokers' collateral.

A brisk demand for Cities Service common, which advanced nearly 6 points to a new high at 113¾, featured the public utility group. American and Foreign Power warrants, Electric Bond and Share issues, International Utilities and United Gas Improvement also made substantial gains, but American Gas and Electric and American Super Power B were conspicuously heavy.

Chain store and merchandising shares presented several points of strength. Metropolitan Chain Stores ran up 7 points to a new high at 59 and Retailers all but a point of its gain. Kobacker and Lerner Stores also moved into new high ground, and Ross Stores jumped 4 points on a couple of sales. Isaac Oliver fell back 8 points on profit-taking.

Auburn Auto continued its spectacular advance by soaring 12½ points to a new high at 185 but it lost 4 points. Firestone Tire jumped 9 points and Hart Parr advanced 6½ to a new high record at 78¾. Other issues to reach new high ground include Nichols & Shepard warrants, Murphy Co. and Fort Manufacturing, the last-named responding to the announcement of dividends on a $2 annual basis. Central Atlantic States Corporation advanced to within a small fraction of its year's top.

Singer Manufacturing broke 54½ points to 570 on one sale.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Feb. 20. (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board's approval of the increased bankers' acceptance buying rates in New York for all reserve banks put a further damper on trading in the bond market, and sales today slumped to the lowest level since December 20, last. Sales totaled $7,562,000 compared to $6,478,000 yesterday.

The market ruled steady, but some selling pressure was exerted against the utilities. Rails as a group improved under stimulus of the Van Sweringens following the lead of the Baltimore and Ohio in filing an application for an eastern trunk line merger.

International Telephone convertible 4½s rallied to close fractionally higher. Utilities Power and Light closed fractionally lower. North American Edison 5½s and 5s A improved.

Anaconda Copper 7s wound up the day with a net gain of a point at 204 after selling down to 202 under realizing sales. The 6s were firm at around 105. Allegheny Corporation 5s and American International 5½s also improved, while General Refractories 6s rose 3½ points in sympathy with strength in the stock. Weakness was displayed by the oils. Standard of New York 4½s and Transcontinental 6½s yielding to pressure. White Eagle 5½s however, advanced in response to good earnings reports.

Trading in the rails was on a small scale and the price changes were mostly fractional. B. & O. convertible 4½s were slightly lower, but the line's other issues improved. Chesapeake and Ohio issues were steady, with trading around yesterday's closing levels.

The foreign list was quiet. Pirelli 7s were fractionally lower. United States government obligations were mixed.

Associated Gas and Electric 5½s with a gain of 3½ points featured the irregular trading in curb bonds.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. To expedite transmission the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Nervousness over the future course of the market was again reflected by a small volume of trading yesterday on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange. With stock dealings curtailed and traders hesitant, no price changes of importance took place and an irregular list was presented at the close.

Subscription rights to Crystalite stock were traded for the first time and transferred at 5. The common stock held to 46. Claude Neon fell off 3-4 to 59 1-4 and Electrical Products of Washington gained 1-4 to 27. All airplane stocks showed a fractional improvement, although trading was quiet and slow.

Samson Tire and Rubber closed off 3-4 to 23 1-2 and Diamond Electric 1 point to 44. District Bond moved up 3-4 to 40 1-4 and Pacific Mutual Life 1 1-4 points to 90. In the oil list Bandini Petroleum slumped to 7 7-8 and recovered to end at 8 1-2, off 3-4. Hancock added another 1-4 to finish at 47 1-4. Universal Consolidated dropped 10 cents to 24, while Buckeye advanced 3 cents to 46.

Sales totaled 132,626 shares, valued at $730,776.

STEEL INDUSTRY KEEPS HUMMING

February Production Mark Held in Prospect

Mill Operations Reported as Nearing Capacity

Revival of Pig Iron Buying Also Forecast

CLEVELAND, Feb. 20. (Exclusive) Iron Trade Review this week says: Rising steel prices are the sequel to record-breaking steel production. Bars, plates and shapes this week have been advanced $1 per ton and cold finished bars $2, following the recent increase of $2 in strip and sheets by some producers. Higher prices for semifinished steel continued under consideration.

With most important consumers protected for the first quarter and some deliveries against contracts inevitably falling into the second quarter, the new levels for the present will apply chiefly against small pick-up business. Producers, however, expect the general price structure to harden and specifications to be further stimulated.

RECORD FORECAST

Major interest of consumers continues in specifications against current contracts, and in numerous instances expansion of these commitments, rather than in fresh buying.

Specifications have broadened in the past week and give further backing to the expectation for a record steel output this month. The shortage of semifinished steel continues acute in the Mahoning Valley and to a lesser degree at Chicago. One Mahoning Valley maker has passed by 5000 tons of sheet need for which developed in the past fortnight. Some automotive parts interests unable to obtain full finished sheets, are turning to wide strip.

NEAR CAPACITY

Steel making in the Mahoning Valley is short of 100 per cent only to the extent repairs are necessary to open hearth furnaces. A stack is to be lighted at Gary this week, making twenty-eight out of the thirty-six steel works stacks in the Chicago district active and stepping up the ingot rate there to 95 per cent. Pittsburgh mills are averaging close to 90 per cent. Steel Corporation's subsidiaries are operating at 90 per cent this week, a gain of 2 points. Independents are at 86 per cent, also up 2 points, and the entire industry is 88 to 89 per cent.

Pig iron, relatively inactive for many weeks appears to be heading into a buying movement. A Western Michigan melter has closed on 30,000 tons for the remainder of the first half, the bulk to be shipped by water from Lake Erie furnaces. The week's sales at Cleveland mounted to over 53,000 tons.

Higher asking prices on finished steel not yet being reflected in quotation-making sales the Iron Trade Review composite of fourteen leading iron and steel products stands unchanged at 36.25 for the fourth consecutive week.

PROFITS OF GAS UTILITY HIGHER

Surplus was given at $3,013,723.90

Gas main mileage was increased from 2399.81 to 2569.13 during 1928 and storage capacity in cubic feet, not including line pack, increased from 8,157,000 to 9,163,000. Number of meters in active service totaled 129,866, as against 121,890 at the close of 1927.

Sales of gas appliances amounted to $599,000 in 1928, as compared with a total of $388,700 in 1927, and the net merchandise profits were $54,600 in 1928, against $28,800 in the preceding year.

The company's present and future supply of natural gas, Mr. Wade stated, has been materially strengthened during the past year by the discovery of an important field in an entirely new area about eleven miles north of Santa Barbara. The wells here give evidence of long life, and, owing to the fact that the proven area lies practically in the hands of one company, the field will not be adversely affected by overdrilling. The conservation program, in effect in the Ventura field throughout 1928, has lessened the waste of gas in that field and insured a longer lived supply, while the discovery of a prolific deep sand in the Santa Fe Springs field has also added to the amount of gas available, according to Mr. Wade.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Feb. 20. (AP)—The bearish pressure that has been exerted during the past two weeks is subsiding to some extent. Inquiries are more frequent and a few concerns are receiving large volumes of business. The improvement is mostly on fine domestic wools. Medium grades of domestic are slow and prices show some easing.

The Role of the Dollar in European Stabilization

IN Bucharest on February 6, 1929, the Roumanian Chamber of Deputies voted bills sanctioning the issuance of securities amounting to $101,000,000, for the purpose of stabilizing the Roumanian Leu and for the further economic development of the country.

Similarly, by legislative act, one after another of the countries of Europe have returned to the gold standard during the past seven years. But only with material external assistance could the formal acts of these various governments have accomplished stabilization.

American Bankers have provided the leadership in many of these programs. American capital has been, to a great degree, responsible for Europe's present sound money position and prosperity. In this work America has written a bright and lasting chapter in the economic history of the world.

Blair & Co. have been privileged to assume the leadership in an important part of these accomplishments. Associated in foreign government financing which has totaled $1,213,804,500 since 1920, this house has made available great sums of American capital destined for economic stabilization.

Blair & Co. occupied a prominent position in the group of American Bankers which negotiated the stabilization loan to the Republic of Poland in 1927. It also occupied a similar position in connection with the recently issued Kingdom of Roumania Stabilization and Development Loan of 1929.

inst., and more favorable weekly steel trade reviews. Iron Age said steel production this month would probably equal, if not exceed that of January. American Metal Market pointed out that production is at 90 per cent of capacity, and that the 10 per cent of idle capacity is largely in Bessemer plants and in plants remote from the area of heaviest pressure for deliveries.

The New York Stock Exchange reported that total member loans on the 1st inst. amounted to 9.48 per cent of the market value of all listed stocks, compared with 9.54 on January 1. The total value of listed stocks increased $3,688,344,112 to $71,060,397,412, but this was due to increased listings, as the average market value of shares decreased $1.13 to $87.96. Governors of the exchange voted to close on Saturday after Washington's birthday.

WRIGHT AERO UP

Wright Aero mounted 15 points to 286, in contrast to its high record of 299. Express shares also surged ahead, Adams and American selling up about 10 points each. International Silver sold close to its high, mounting more than 14 points. Crosley Radio jumped 15 points to a new high at 109.

Bethlehem Steel advanced more than 4 points to a new high at 95 3-8, and United States Steel touched 177 in a like gain. Packard Motors mounted 10 points on announcement of its production program for its new Diesel air-cooled airplane motor. Nash, Chrysler, and Studebaker also were in demand.

Abrahams and Straus led the merchandising group with a 12½-point jump, while Grand Stores, Interstate Department Stores, and Fllenes made substantial advances. General Refractories, General Cigar, Commercial Solvents, International Match preferred, Lambert, Union Tank Car, Motor Products and Western Union were well bought.

Among the soft spots were Atlantic Coast Line, Chicago and Eastern Illinois preferred, and Mathieson Alkali, which lost 3 to 4 points.

Commodity markets were generally firm, wheat reaching new highs for the movement on bullish crop and weather news. Corn improved, but cotton was practically unchanged.

In the foreign exchanges, sterling was steady, while the Canadian dollar reduced its discount from more than ½ of a cent to about 1-3.

a most favorable increase; in fact an increase of more than 27 per cent in quantity and quality over 1928. The total shipped amounted to 710,000,000 pounds, valued at a little more than $75,000,000.

A word about fresh fruit. Twenty years ago little was shipped abroad—that is, apples in boxes, pears, berries, grapes and citrus fruits. In 1928 the value of fresh fruits exported was $56,165,000, a slight decrease under 1927, but only citrus fruits and apples in barrels declined. The rest increased.

Wheat Futures Sharply Up on Bullish Mart

CHICAGO, Feb. 20. (Exclusive)—Speculative interest in the wheat market is increasing rapidly due to prospects of one of the greatest crop scarcities in recent years. The bulls had the assistance of more encouraging news with exporters and millers free buyers of futures at Winnipeg, and that market showed more strength than Chicago. Mills were on the buying side at Kansas City and exporters took May at Minneapolis. July wheat here sold at a new high on the crop, touching 136½. May at 133¾ equaled the best price of the season. The finish was fractionally under the best figures due to profit-taking and selling against offers, with net gains of ¼@1⅝. March being 128¾, May 133¼, July 135⅜@135¾. Winnipeg closed 1@1⅛c higher.

A liberal short interest had apparently been built up in corn as the result of the recent reactionary action of the market and buying by local operators and shorts advanced prices 1@1⅛c over the early low with the close ⅝@⅞c higher, March being 93⅝, May 90¼. Oats gained ⅝@1¼c with March leading, the latter finishing at 50¾@50½, May at 53½, while March rye was ½c lower at 112⅞, May up 1⅛ at 114⅜.

While the grain trade as a whole has been very slow to claim damage to the new wheat crop either in the United States or Europe, houses with eastern connections and foreigners were buyers here, and Winnipeg reported that liberal sales of flour had been made to the Pacific Coast. Reports that the flour was to go to Russia were denied by Winnipeg interests who should be in a position to know. Government weekly crop summary said there was apparently no serious or widespread damage to the winter wheat crop in this country.

Argentine wheat at the present time is monopolizing the European trade and prices asked are well below a parity with grain from the United States and Canada. Owing to ice-bound continental ports, it is feared some Argentine grain for orders will be diverted to the United Kingdom and Liverpool closed ⅛@⅜d lower. Buenos Aires was unchanged for the day.

A leading local professional was on the buying side of corn, and with short covering prices were readily advanced, with the upturn checked by selling against offers. Activity in wheat tends to restrict commission house interest. The advance was in the face of purchases of 60,000 bushels to come here from Kansas City at the widest discount on the crop, No. 2 mixed bringing 2c under May, or about in line with the local spot market. The spot basis was unchanged with country offerings limited. Exporters bought some corn at the Gulf to fill old sales, and there were claims that Italy was after grain for immediate shipment at the seaboard. Buenos Aires closed ⅛c lower.

Buying of oats to close spreads with corn, and purchases by commission houses more than offset selling by the East, and the market showed a stronger tone with March leading. The government weekly report said that some damage had been done to winter oats in the South by freezing weather and field work in the Southwest continues to be delayed. While March rye was easy, the May was stronger with some buying by houses with foreign connections.

Despite the strong tone to the hog market the market for lard was rather easy and the close unchanged to 2½c lower. Liverpool was unchanged for lard and 3d higher on bellies.

Interest in bellies was limited with prices unchanged, while a fair business was on in ribs at lower prices. Cash trade was about fair.

Merger Brews of Northwest Flour Mills

SPOKANE (Wash.) Feb. 20. (AP) The Spokesman-Review says this morning that negotiations are under way for a $4,000,000 flour mill merger, embracing plants of the Montana Flour Company and the Martin Grain and Milling Company of Cheney, Wash.

The Montana company has four mills with a daily capacity of 4000 barrels, together with forty-seven elevators scattered throughout the State.

The Cheney plant has modern equipment with a 1000-barrel daily output.

The paper says that investment bankers, headed by the Chase National Bank of New York, are reported to be promoting the venture with the Spokane and Eastern Trust Company handling details in Spokane.

Clarence D. Martin, Mayor of Cheney and manager of the Martin plant, the Spokesman-Review said, confirmed the reports that consolidation plans were being considered.

OIL NEWS

BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY

Several deep tests at Santa Fe Springs continue to hold the attention in the oil industry, with interest centered on the test to be made within a few days in the Richfield Oil Company's Elliott No. 2 in the northwest part of the field. This well drilled to 7195 feet and cored ninety feet of sand. The water shutoff was given a test last night.

The Associated Oil Company continues to drill ahead in its Clark No. 2, near and to the southwest of the Richfield well. The Associated well is down 7702 feet, which is the deepest hole ever drilled in the field, and the drill is in gray sand. This well went through a sand believed to have been the same as the Richfield is in now.

The California Eastern Oil Company yesterday drilled through the sand in its Brunson No. 2, located just west of Norwalk Road and near the Getty No. 19, another deep test. The Brunson No. 2 is drilling at 6625 feet. It went through ninety feet of cored sand into water, according to reports.

The Getty No. 19, which picked up an oil sand at 6380 feet and drilled to 6605 feet, continued yesterday to make 1300 barrels of oil and 1500 barrels of water. It is virtually conceded now that the water is from near the bottom of the hole, although cores failed to indicate its presence.

Permits Granted

Santa Fe Springs led with four new wells for which permits were granted during the past week by the State Mining Bureau, according to the weekly report. Lawndale was second with three permits, a total of twenty-two were granted.

At Santa Fe Springs notices were filed for the Bandini Petroleum Company's No. 17 well, the General Petroleum Corporation's No. 232 well, the York-Smullin Oil Company's Wickman No. 4 and the General Petroleum Corporation's No. 146.

Lawndale notices were for the Barnsdall-Rio Grande combination's Bonney-Wright No. 1, the Union Oil Company's Johnson No. 1 and the Shell Oil Company's Ozenne No. 1.

Other notices filed were: Southern Oil Company's Yorba Linda-Day No. 1 at Richfield, Richfield Oil Company's Rosecrans No. 2 at Rosecrans, McMillan Petroleum Corporation's No. 9 at Signal Hill, Pico Dome Oil & Gas Company's No. 1 at Newhall, Shell Oil Company's Taylor No. 38 at Ventura avenue, Exeter Oil Company's No. 1 in Santa Barbara county, Standard Oil Company's Gerber No. 1 in Santa Barbara county, System Oil Company's No. 1 in Santa Barbara county, Union Oil Company's KCLC No. 2 in Kern county, Mineral Mountain Mining Company's No. 1 in Kern county, Shell Oil Company's Rodgers-Jones No. 1 in Kern county, Mohawk Petroleum Company's Towell No. 1 in Los Angeles county, Pacific Eastern Production Company's 8-KCL-B in Kern county, General Petroleum Corporation's Glide No. 25 at Poso Creek, and the Standard Oil Company's No. 61 at Kettleman Hills.

Deep Buckbee Test

The Union Oil Company is preparing to make a production test in its Bell No. 38 at Santa Fe Springs today, at a depth of 6020 feet. The well has cored 392 feet of oil sand formation and is completed in the Buckbee zone and this is the deepest test made in that zone in the Santa Fe Springs field.

The company put its Bell No. 39 on production yesterday afternoon and started the flow into the tanks, but the quantity of the output had not been gauged last night. It is a Nordstrom zone well, finished at 5356 feet.

The Bell No. 35 drilled to 5850 feet and casing was being run last night, preparatory to a production test. The company's Howard No. 9, in the same field, is cemented at 5325 feet and will be tested for production this week.

At Signal Hill the company's Long Beach Community No. 21 is being reamed for the oil string and will be tested for production soon.

Standard Finds Sand

A slight cut of oil has been found in the Mascot No. 1 of the Standard Oil Company in the Midway field at a depth of 3275 feet. Sufficient sand and oil has not been picked up to determine if it is the Robinson sand or just what the formation may prove to be.

The well is being drilled on a 160-acre lease held by the Mascot Oil Company, on which the Standard contracted to drill the deep zones for a share of the oil. There are several shallow producers in the vicinity of the well.

Santa Fe Summary

Production from the deep zones at Santa Fe Springs during the past week went to an average of 176,000 barrels a day, according to a summary of reports. The shallow zones are producing at the rate of 27,000 barrels, a total of 203,000 barrels from the field daily.

The deep production is coming from ninety-five wells, while 145 are drilling, thirty-two are deepening, thirty-two are standing idle, thirty rigs are going up and seven new locations were approved during the week. There are 112 new completions in the field and eighteen were completed or recompleted during the past week.

Richfield Wells

The Richfield Oil Company is preparing to make production tests in two Santa Fe Springs wells today. The Howard No. 3, finished reaming yesterday and is 5789 feet deep. The Pettifils No. 1, drilled at 5911 feet and has been reamed. It will be given a test today.

Test Wildcat Soon

The Elwood Consolidated Oil Company will start landing casing tomorrow in its Elwood No. 1, located about three miles north and east of the Elwood field. The well has been drilled to 3302 feet and has developed a strong gas pressure. About twenty-six feet of oil sand has been cored. It is calculated that a production test can be made in the well within ten or twelve days.

Continental Reaming

The Continental Oil Company started reaming its Franklin No. 1, located two miles south of Carpinteria, yesterday, preparatory to landing casing. The well is 4006 feet deep and the very heavy gas pressure is being held back by many tons of hematite.

PAN AMERICAN BANK OF CALIFORNIA

BLUE BLOODS of the equine world occupy the center of the tan bark ring, at the Ambassador Auditorium this week. It is the occasion of the eighth annual Los Angeles National Horse Show.

Entries valued at $2,500,000 from famous stables all over the United States are competing in the 124 different classes of events. 15 national championship titles, $40,000 in cash prizes, and a large array of gold and silver trophies and ribbons are at stake.

Contrary to general opinion, horses of all types are more than holding their own today, in spite of the motor car, truck and tractor. According to the U. S. Bureau of Census, the importation of draft horses from Europe in 1927 was the largest in eleven years. At present, there are over five times the number of saddle horses in this country compared with the number five years ago. The rapid spread of riding, hunting and polo clubs account for this increase.

California has long been the stamping ground for all types of horses. Latest figures show the value of horses in the state to be $21,302,000. And their number and value are increasing rapidly.

In the immediate vicinity of Los Angeles, the value of saddle horses in private stables and first class riding academies runs into the millions of dollars. During the recent polo season at Midwick the three hundred ponies quartered there are said to have been worth approximately $2,000,000.

A Constructive Development

So in sponsoring this event, the Los Angeles National Horse Show Association is stimulating a development that adds millions of dollars of taxable wealth to the State, gives employment to many persons, besides encouraging healthful, outdoor recreation among a large and increasing number of people.

Allied with this movement also, is the Bridle Path Associations of California which have for their particular purpose, the development of a comprehensive system of bridle paths and trails so that more people may discover the real delights of outdoor California on horseback. This organization is sponsored by a large number of prominent equestrians, and is working towards some very definite objectives.

The work of the various horse associations is worthy of support. As bankers, we believe that any movement which encourages sane and healthy recreation, gives employment to a number of people and increases values, is a constructive force in a community. And the principles of sportsmanship and fair play which are inculcated among members of these associations, are pretty apt to be characteristics of their business dealings as well. In the operation of our own institution, we feel that the policies and business methods of the Pan American Bank will appeal to these people who are actuated by principles of friendliness and fairness, themselves.

MOTHER IN APPEAL TO KIDNAPERS

Mrs. Murphy Publishes Touching Plea for Child; Police All at Sea

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20. (AP)—The fifth day of investigation into the mysterious disappearance of little Doris Virginia Smith-Murphy closed tonight and police had little to show for their work except an ever-increasing list of theories. Newspaper criticism of methods used in the search has grown general and Federal postal officials and State narcotic investigators have joined hands with the city authorities.

Postal authorities gave the case their attention when several notes signed "K. K." purporting to be from the kidnaper, were received by parents of the little girl. Narcotic agents began an investigation when new clews pointed to drug addicts as possible factors in the kidnaping.

Late today Mrs. Helen Murphy, Doris's mother, addressed an appeal "To those who have taken my daughter." She asked all newspapers to publish it in what seemed to her a last desperate hope that the kidnapers may be moved to return her daughter.

"For God's sake, return her," the message said. "I cannot stand this grief much longer. Surely you realize how much I am suffering and grieving for her. Please, please phone police where my baby can be found.

"MRS. MURPHY."

Sutcliffe Case Detective Held

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20. (AP)—Frank Tharp, manager of the William Burns Detective Agency here, was arrested today on a charge of assault to commit murder in connection with the stabbing of Carl Bengston, young musician, by Walter J. Sutcliffe, Los Angeles hotel man.

Sutcliffe with two other detectives from the Burns agency face similar charges as a result of the attack. Bengston was stabbed by Sutcliffe recently when the latter found him with Mrs. Sutcliffe in a downtown hotel room. The detectives, it is charged, aided the husband in the attack. Tharp was released on $1000 bail.

DESCENDANT OF GOV. PICO WEDS HERE

Grand-daughter of State's First Executive Becomes Retired Capitalist's Bride

Mrs. Cathalena Tedro Pico Bell, 51 years of age, a descendant of one of California's early distinguished families, and Charles Marion Morrow, 75, a retired capitalist of Los Angeles, were married secretly on Monday, it was announced yesterday.

The couple went quietly to the Marriage License Bureau Monday to obtain their license and while at the Courthouse met Superior Judge Crawford, a life-long friend of the capitalist and his bride. He suggested that the marriage take place immediately, they consented, and Judge Crawford performed the ceremony.

The bride is a grand-daughter of Pio Pico, first Governor of California and a well-known figure in the early history of the State. She is the daughter of Maj.-Gen. Jose Ramon Pico, who died at San Francisco in 1905.

Morrow is well known in the West. He formerly operated one of the largest cattle ranches in Arizona. He came to Los Angeles ten years ago.

Morrow and his bride have been close friends for more than thirty years. He attended each of his bride's two previous weddings. They plan a honeymoon trip to Wyoming and New York. They will return to Los Angeles and begin an around-the-world tour from here.

STREET NAME CHANGED

ONE DEAD IN TRAFFIC RUSH

Pedestrian Killed in Midstreet, Another May Die; Motorcycle Officer and Horse Driver Hurt

Fatally injured by an automobile, J. W. Singleton, 55 years of age, of 3310 West Seventy-first street, died yesterday a few hours after being taken to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. While crossing Sixth avenue at Fifty-fourth street he was struck by a car driven by Mrs. Laura Ingalls of 5760 Sixth avenue, wife of Dr. Wayne Ingalls. She reported that Singleton was crossing diagonally and in midstreet turned back, dodging in front of her car. Singleton suffered a basal skull fracture.

West Richardson, 70, retired, of 4866 Hillsdale avenue, was crushed and otherwise injured when struck at Locke street and Huntington Drive. The car was driven by Agnes Stewart of 1025 Doran street, South Pasadena. The injured man was treated by Dr. Specrs of Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. Richardson's chest was crushed, and one wrist was fractured. He was removed to Lincoln Hospital, where his condition is reported as critical.

County Motorcycle Officer Ray M. Lawrence, 27, of 2641 Blanche street, Pasadena, is in the General Hospital with a broken leg, suffered yesterday when he collided at One Hundred and First street and South Vermont avenue with an automobile driven by Bud Hall of 3920 Willow street, Inglewood. ## COUNCIL TO LEASE OLD HALL SITE

Bids for Parking Station Rental Called for, but City Free to Sell

The City Council yesterday decided to lease the old City Hall site for a parking station for a period of five years. The lease will provide, however, that it can be canceled by giving the lessee sixty days written notice, thus leaving the city free to sell the property. Mayor Cryer is desirous that the property be sold to obtain funds for the erection of a police administration building in the Civic Center area.

The Council yesterday approved the notice inviting bids for the lease of the property. These bids are to be opened at the regular meeting of the Council on the 28th inst. Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check or a satisfactory bond for not less than $1000 as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into the lease if it is awarded to him.

RECORDS OF LASKER PUT UNDER LENS

Details of Book-keeping Studied as Three Civil Suits Come to Trial

Intricate details of the bookkeeping of the Lasker Finance Corporation were the subject of inquiry in Superior Judge Schmidt's court yesterday where A. I. Lasker, recently convicted in criminal courts, was defendant in three civil suits involving $299,862.

The Motors Acceptance Corporation was plaintiff in two actions, one seeking to recover $189,329, and the other to foreclose a trust deed for $3500.

The Lasker Finance Corporation, under its new management, is in another action demanding more than $100,000 from its former president.

Lasker was convicted of falsifying records, after charges against him had been dismissed by former Dist.-Atty. Keyes. He now is facing charges of having bribed Keyes to obtain dismissal of his cases.

FORMER LUCY BANNING DIES

Once Belle of California Passes Away in Italy; Body Will be Brought Here for Burial

The body of Lucy Banning Ota, California belle of decades gone by, who died yesterday in Florence, Italy, will be brought here for burial in her homeland, friends here believe, they said yesterday. But, they pointed out, it may be weeks before the body arrives. It is thought that her sister, Mrs. Mary Banning Norris of Paris, will accompany the body as well as Setsuza Ota, Japanese husband of the dead woman. Mrs. Norris and Mr. Ota were at the bedside when death came. Mrs. Norris hastened there from Switzerland, where she was wintering, on first word that her sister had been stricken with influenza and pneumonia.

Mrs. Lucy Banning Ota

News of the death was received from Mrs. Norris and Ota yesterday by Dr. Rebecca Lee Dorsey, Mrs. Ota's personal physician, who has made her home at the Lucy Banning residence, 503 South Commonwealth avenue, for three years; by Mrs. Mary Hendricks, a cousin of the dead woman, and by Ward Chapman, her attorney. The cablegram stated simply: "Lucy died at midnight, February 20."

LETTER TO FRIEND

She had celebrated her fifty-third birthday anniversary in Florence but nine days before and had been taken ill. But a short time ago, Dr. Dorsey received a letter from Mrs. Ota when she was in Venice in which she wrote:

"I am in this dreamland city. It and everything with us is so restful and so peaceful. Everything is so lovely and so delightful and we wish that you were with us."

The letter was written a few days before the birthday anniversary. On the 13th inst. came a cablegram that Mrs. Ota was seriously ill. The next day another message said she was worse and that there appeared to be no hope. Five days of suspense elapsed and then came a cablegram stating "no hope." The next day the death message came.

The nearest relatives here are Mrs. Hendricks and Capt. William Banning, a half-brother. Hancock Banning and Joseph Banning, now dead, were half-brothers.

Death came one year, one month

MINING EXPANSION PLANNED

Leaders Outline Four Ways to Develop Southland Resources to Supply Market Demands

Plans to develop Southern California's mineral resources to the point where local mineral deposits can supply the market demands were outlined at a noon meeting yesterday in the University Club of the southern mineral committee of the California Development Association.

Nine leaders in Southern California mineral circles met with Walter A. Schmidt, president of the Western Precipitation Company, as chairman, and adopted a program based on four major lines of action.

These four means for furthering mineral development outlined by Schmidt are as follows:

FOUR METHODS

Through co-ordination of various agencies and mineral groups to furnish expression and action on legislation affecting mineral development in this region and throughout the State.

Through greater co-operation on the part of the State Division of Mines and Mining and the universities in California, and greater co-ordination with the State Division of Mines and Mining, the United States Geological Survey and the American Mining Congress in making special mineral surveys.

Through conducting an economic survey of Southern California minerals, principally nonmetallic, to determine those channels of the market which offer greatest opportunity for increased production.

Through a plan of publicity to present to the public and to the trade authentic and interesting information on the minerals California produces and their relation to industry and commerce.

COMMITTEES TO BE NAMED

Special committees will be chosen to carry out the four major leads of the program, Schmidt announced. Fifty more mineral leaders of Southern California will be selected and with the executive committee which met yesterday will form the mineral council of the California Development Association.

The completed council will meet within the next thirty days and will invite as honored guests three State heads of the mineral industry, F. G. Stevenot, State Director of Natural Resources; W. W. Bradley, State Mineralogist, and G. Chester Brown, manager of the California Metal and Mineral Products Association. Reports on preliminary work of the committee's program also will be made at the pending meeting.

In commenting on the adopted program Schmidt stated that Southern California's increasing population is resulting in greater requirements of various minerals by the industries of this region, and predicted that Southern California will

KEYES AND CODEFENDANTS GET 1-TO-14-YEAR TERMS

Plea for Bail and New Trial Denied; Getzoff Temporarily Freed; Two Start Appeal Fight

Asa Keyes, former District Attorney of Los Angeles county, late yesterday was sentenced by Superior Judge Butler to serve from one to fourteen yars in San Quentin penitentiary.

At th same time, Judge Butler also sentenced E. H. (Ed) Rosenberg and Ben Getzoff, each convicted with Keyes of conspiracy to give and receive bribes, to a similar term in prison.

Attorneys for Keyes and Rosenberg immediately filed notice of appeal to a higher court in behalf of their clients, but Getzoff told the court that he desired ten days in which to file an application for probation, indicating that he will not join the others in a legal battle for a new trial.

GETZOFF RELEASED

Keyes and Rosenberg were denied release on bail pending their appeal. Getzoff was released from jail when it was shown that his physical condition is such that further immediate incarceration might result in death. His final appearance in court was made in a wheel chair.

Sentencing of the three convicted men, coming after Judge Butler had denied motions for a new trial for them despite two days' argument by defense counsel, presented a moving scene.

Keyes stood before the bar of justice and heard the sentence pronounced on him without a perceptable quiver, but his wife, Mrs. Lillian Keyes and daughter, Elizabeth, seated behind him were in tears. They kissed the prisoner as he again was led back to jail.

Getzoff, the Spring-street tailor, was a broken figure of a man as he was called on to arise for sentence. His face worked with nervous tension, his legs shook and he clung to the counsel table with both hands. Deputy Sheriffs Ostraff and Bryant moved to his side to support him.

ROSENBERG STOICAL

Ed Rosenberg received his sentence without expression, but the jail pallor on his face deepened.

The words of the judge pronouncing sentence broke absolute silence in the courtroom, despite the fact that every available seat was taken, the silence attesting to the tense drama witnessed by the audience.

As vigorous as had been their arguments for a new trial, Defense Attorneys William Beirne, Paul Schenck and Le Compte Davis then tried to convince the court that Keyes and Rosenberg should be released on bail pending the outcome of their appeal to a higher court.

Keyes's record of more than twenty years as a public servant, Rosenberg's mother, father, wife and twin babies were brought to the attention of the court. Tears came to Attorney Davis's eyes as he discussed the plight of Rosenberg, youngest of the convicted men.

Dist.-Atty. Fitts, however, resisted the release of the men on bail.

"The rule, both as to law and to custom, is that convicted men should not be admitted to bail," he said. "Keyes has been found guilty of a most heinous crime—a public officer derelict to his duty—and I see no reason why any exception should be made in this case. The only time when there is an exception to the rule is when there is some extraordinary circumstance."

DENIES RELEASE

In denying the release of the men on bail Judge Butler said:

"I deeply sympathize with the defendants—I have not so stated before, but I will now—but I feel I would not be doing the right thing if I granted this motion for bail. Sympathy is one thing, and the relentless rule of the law another.

However, after the three men were sentenced and court adjourned, it was brought to the attention of Judge Butler that Getzoff was in a serious physical condition resulting from chronic stomach trouble and the shock of his conviction. Chief Deputy District Attorney Stewart said the District Attorney's office would not object to his removal to a hospital. Court was reconvened. Dr. Benjamin Blank, County Jail physician, went on the stand and testi-

GASOLINE MAY GO TO TEN CENTS

Major Companies Make Another Slash in City; Independents in Panic

Another cut in the cost of gasoline by several major oil companies yesterday brought a 2-cent reduction throughout Southern California and many dealers predicted that 10 cent gasoline is in sight. The highest price charged for motor fuel in Los Angeles yesterday was 16½ cents a gallon and many signs were displayed offering it at 14½ cents.

At a few of the stations near busy traffic corners gasoline was selling at 13 cents a gallon. The general reduction was effected when several of the large companies began selling contract gasoline to dealers at 12½ cents with a 2-cent rebate.

Some of the refiners are letting it go at 7½ cents a gallon, not including the 3-cent tax. Officials of the Standard Oil Company of California held a conference during the day and announced a wholesale quotation of 11½ cents a gallon, while the General Petroleum announced a wholesale price of 12½ cents.

SEE CRITICAL WAR

Officials of all the major companies admitted the price may be lowered during the week in what they describe as one of the most critical price wars in the history of the industry. Independent service-station operators are caught in the middle of the fight and many of them declare they face extinction unless the Federal government takes some action.

Demands for an investigation of the industry have been made by the independent dealers. Douglas Campbell, secretary of the Federal Protective Association, declared that a mass meeting of dealers will be called for some night this week to discuss means of forcing an investigation.

The decided cut of prices in Los Angeles had its immediate reflection in other Southern California cities. In San Diego the Texas Oil Company and the General Petroleum Company dropped the price to 11 cents wholesale, with possibility of a further decrease. Independent dealers there declare they are facing ruin unless some governmental action is taken. They charged the major oil companies are forcing the gasoline controversy in order to drive independent dealers out of business.

ALL MEET CUT

In Santa Barbara and in Redlands the price cut was met by all of the dealers, and in smaller communities where gas has been selling for 20 cents a gallon the prices were reduced to 18 cents.

Appeals have been made to the State Legislature and to the Federal government by dealers in a number of cities.

PRICES IN NORTH REDUCED; SCHEDULE FOR COAST VARIES

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20. (AP)—Gasoline prices slipped in San Francisco and at many Pacific Coast points today as various companies cut wholesale prices. This afternoon the retail price in San Francisco garages had dropped to

COMMUNAL LAW TEST SET

California Separate-Income Statute to be Taken to Supreme Court by Revenue Bureau

"The Bureau of Internal Revenue at Washington has instructed Collector Welch at Los Angeles that arrangements have been made for a test case of the California community property law before the Supreme Court of the United States," says an announcement at the local offices made yesterday.

"Pending adjudication, husband and wife may, in filing separate returns, report one-half of the income from community property acquired on and after July 29, 1927. They can report one-half of salary or fee earned by husband or wife on or after July 29, 1927. Division of the income from community property acquired prior to July 29, 1927, will not be allowed, whether it be from real estate, stocks, bonds or commercial enterprises."

LAW EFFECTIVE 1927

July 29, 1927, is the date on which the California law went into effect. It was intended by its author, Ida May Adams, to define community property in such a way as to permit husband and wife to make separate income tax returns and so pay a total less than that which the husband paid as sole taxee under the former law. Millions, it was asserted, would be saved under the new law.

Miss Adams has protested to the Washington authorities against limiting the separate return of husband and wife to community property acquired on and after the 1927 date. She telegraphed:

"The Department of Internal Revenue in permitting separate returns from taxpayers in Washington and Idaho and other community property States has always treated all income from community property as community income and has never before segregated income as of before and after dates the various State community property laws became effective. This undue discrimination against California means millions to California taxpayers and appears unwarranted."

CALIFORNIANS ADVISED

In previous articles on the subject The Times has pointed out that where no separate return has been made by husband and wife since July 29, 1927, they may petition for a rebate on the excess amount paid, according to the local office. The basis of rebate, it was pointed out, is income from community property acquired on or after the 1927 date.

Richard J. O. Culver, local attorney, believes that his action with the Internal Revenue Department in Washington concerning his own and his wife's income tax precipitated the ruling permitting separate returns for community property acquired on or before the 1927 date. He also has protested against limitation of figuring to this side of that date.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

IF OUR little friend, Lupe Velez, ever learns to speak the English language without an accent the sun of our joy will set.

"We love each other like fine friends. But we no marry. No, gosh, we don't," says Lupe, referring to her latest romance.

A JOB FOR LUPE

This little Mexican girl's blood is probably strengthened by the dark somber strain of an Indian ancestry. She is one of the most remarkable characters I have ever known. Her terrific vitality suggests a great destiny.

Movie acting is entirely too tame for a soul so vital and overwhelming. Lupe ought to be the ferryman of the River Styx or the sentinel who stands guard over the imprisoned demons. In fact, if you ask me, Lupe is quite a gal.

A NEW NAPOLEON

Napoleon IV is plotting to become emperor of France.

This rebellion of the royalists is quite appropriately under the management of a gent who manufactures perfumes for flappers. When he ascends the throne, the imperial emblem of the new emperor will probably be a lip stick.

THE FATHER OF PAGEANTS

It would be a graceful thing if the promoters of the Ramona Pageant would erect some sort of memorial to the memory of Garnet Holme, who died a few weeks ago.

Dying, he left a great gift to the world . . . this new type of outdoor play pageant, which is as characteristic of California as the oranges and the desert mountains. With the passing of the years these town pageants will develop into a new art of superb possibilities.

THE DYING STAGE

After all, the outdoors is the real setting for drama. One of the reasons why the speaking stage is dying by inches is that a great many stage plays are better adapted to the printed page than to the noises emanating from actors.

LIFE'S DRAMAS

Real life romance isn't so good.

A murder over a sweetheart suggests a beautiful girl like Dolores Del Rio; and two swains with the flair of John Gilbert and Ramon Novarro. But when the killing case gets to court in Imperial Valley the Desdemona turns out to be a middle-aged woman who spells the extent of her burning love "mutch," and says she really feels that she will have to take her three youngest sons along when she elopes.

TU MUTCH

Well, well, I could have stood even that if she hadn't asked her swain to leave his love missives in the R.F.D. mail box where his children and the majority of hers wouldn't be likely to find 'em. That rural free delivery touch is just too mutch.

ART CLUB'S DINNER SPEAKERS CHOSEN

Guests at the February dinner of the California Art Club in Barnsdall Park this evening will hear Charles Goss and Leander De Cordova speak. Goss is making a lecture tour under auspices of the Institute of International Education and Alliance Francaise, both of New York. He is son of Albert Goss, Switzerland's famous painter of Alpine landscapes. De Cordova hails from British West Indies and is a motion-picture producer. A number of other guests are expected.

Lone Bandit Robs Crowded Downtown Bank, Escapes With Cash

NOTE CONTAINS BLAST THREAT

Seventh and Grand Branch Held Up at 2 p.m.

Demand Made for $12,000 in Underworld Argot

Thief Embarks in Taxi With $5000 in Coat

A neatly dressed bandit yesterday held up the crowded Seventh-street branch of the Security Trust & Savings Bank at Seventh street and Grand avenue, and escaped with approximately $5000.

"Read this quick. Just act like youse were not being held up and no one will get hurt. I want $12,000 in fives, tens and twenties in five minutes or this bank will be blown up," read a note shoved on to the desk of C. S. Albro, assistant manager.

After Mr. Albro explained to the desperado that the branch is a small bank and seldom has that much cash on hand, the bandit ordered him to go to Teller Frank Hubber's window and get all the cash there.

ESCAPES IN TAXI

Accompanied by the bandit, Mr. Albro complied with the demand. Mr. Hubber was counting out currency and at Mr. Albro's question said there was approximately $5000 in the cage.

"All right, give me that and keep your mouth shut," the bandit said. He stuffed the currency into his overcoat pocket and departed in a taxicab which was standing in front of the bank.

The robber carried his overcoat over his arm, his right hand concealed. He intimated that the coat concealed a revolver.

The robbery occurred upon Mr. Albro's return from lunch a few minutes after 2 o'clock while many patrons were in the bank who were unaware of the robbery taking place in their presence. The bank guard was in the rear of the bank at the time and did not know of it until the alarm was sounded after the bandit's departure.

BANDIT WAITING

"When I returned from lunch I saw the man sitting waiting for me. For several days he has been coming here on pretext of negotiating a loan on real-estate mortgages," Mr. Albro said.

"I am sorry to bother you again but I wish you would read this," the man said after greeting Mr. Albro with a smile.

He handed the banker a note written in underworld vernacular, which police believe to have been merely a whim of the bandit. During his dealings with Mr. Albro he impressed the banker as a well-educated man.

"De boys are waching and if anything goes wrong we will put enough soup in here to blow us all to——" the note said in part.

"Man, you are not serious, you can't do this. Is this a joke?" Mr. Albro queried.

"No, it's not. I can get away with it, too. I have done it before. If you don't believe me just start something," the bandit answered.

DESCRIPTION GIVEN

From the description of the man and the method by which he carried out the hold-up, police believe he is the same bandit who traded a black hand grip, which contained newspapers instead of the infernal machine he said it did, for $7000 with officials of the Ninth-street branch of the Bank of Italy last October. He is 35 to 40 years of age, about 5 feet 10 inches tall and weighs approximately 160 pounds, Mr. Albro said.

Yesterday's loss was fully covered by insurance, bank officials stated.

Detective Lieutenant Molina is directing the search for the man. The letter was turned over to Sergt. Barlow, police fingerprint expert.

Chief of Detectives Herman Cline said that his office was notified of the robbery by a private detective agency about thirty-five or forty minutes after it occurred.

KISSES SPACED LIKE RENT FAIL

Wife Tells of Receiving Them Monthly and Gets Divorce

One of Mrs. Alice Binning's complaints against Merwyn Binning, when she asked Superior Judge Tappaan to grant her a divorce yesterday, was that her husband kissed her only once a month.

"When I asked him why he did not show more affection toward me he replied he was not inclined that way," Mrs. Binning said.

A decree was granted.

SNOW MAN PAYS BRIEF VISIT

Students' Guest Not Likely to Linger

Brounella Baker and Icy Companion

CARRYING snow from Camp Baldy to Los Angeles as a part of fraternity initiation duties, eight pledges of the Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity astonished University of Southern California students yesterday morning with a life-size snow man on the lawn of their house, 2633 South Hoover street.

At 10 p.m. Tuesday the pledges were told to leave and not return until they had a snow man. Making a speedy trip to Mt. Baldy they found between six and ten inches of snow on the ground. They hovelled some of it into an automobile and hastened back to Los Angeles to construct the snow image.

Despite the constant "tender embraces" he was given by co-eds all day long, the man survived and is not expected to melt until at least noon today. Meantime the pledges must continue similar duties until they are formally initiated Sunday afternoon.

FORMER BELLE DIES IN ITALY

and one day after her marriage to Ota, a Japanese jiu-jitsu champion and one of Tokio's four best wrestlers, in Seattle. The wedding shocked the circle in which Lucy Banning as California's most-famed beautiful woman once had moved. She had an estate said to be worth $500,000 or more.

BORN AT WILMINGTON

Lucy Banning Ota was born February 11, 1876, in the old Gen. Phineas Banning homestead at Wilmington. The place now is a public park and the old house stands there.

Gen. Banning was one of the most outstanding of California pioneers. In the early days he operated the stage line between Wilmington and Los Angeles and another from here into Arizona when the West was wildest.

Catalina Island once was owned by her half-brothers. Thirty years ago she was undisputedly California's most beautiful woman and time dealt generously with her in this respect. She was a blue-eyed blond of stately figure and regal carriage. In her girlhood days she was a horsewoman of ability. The family then lived atop Hill street opposite the old high school.

Mrs. Ota's first marriage was to John Bradbury when she was but a girl. They lived in the picturesque old Bradbury house just razed on Court street. He was a man of wealth. They later were divorced. Her next husband was Mace Greenleaf, leading man at the old Burbank Theater. This romance was displaced by one with Robert Ross, newspaper reporter, son of Erskine M. Ross, Federal judge. There was another divorce and she became the wife of the Japanese after some time. Little is known of him here.

She said he is a graduate of the University of Tokio and cultured. He was much her junior.

HAD MANY JEWELS

Mrs. Ota had traveled much and had spent considerable time in Japan when she was Ross's wife. She had many oriental jewels and often wore gems worth $60,000.

Some months before her marriage to the Japanese, she announced she would be married to Charles H. Hastings, Los Angeles clubman, but the wedding never materialized.

"As a woman, Mrs. Ota was kind and generous," Dr. Dorsey said yesterday, "and I never heard her say an unkind word about any person. I can't speak too highly of her. I have suffered a great loss because of her death."

FINAL RITES OF KIRKLAND TO BE TODAY

Pioneer Film Director, Who Died Last Monday, Mourned by Many Friends

NOBLE HARDEE KIRKLAND

Funeral services for Noble Hardee Kirkland, character actor and pioneer motion-picture director, who died following a protracted illness at the home of his brother-in-law, R. D. Shepherd, 1764 North Sycamore avenue, Monday evening, will be conducted at the chapel of Gates, Crane & Earl, 1724 North Highland avenue, at 10:30 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Kirkland came of a long line of distinguished ancestors. His father, Gen. William Wallace Kirkland, who went to West Point in 1852, was brigadier-general of the Thirty-first North Carolina Regiment and was the youngest brigadier-general of the Civil War. His uncle, Gen. William Hardee, author of "Military Tactics," was host to the late King Edward when he visited America as the Prince of Wales.

Of late years Mr. Kirkland had been seen here in support of Pauline Frederick and others. He was a member of many years' standing of the Lambs' Club and the Masquers.

He leaves a sister, Mrs. R. D. Shepherd, for several years chairman of the women's committee of the Los Angeles Grand Opera Association.

become a great industrial center of world trade.

"The future prosperity of California depends to a large extent on the development of her vast stores of mineral wealth to supply and initiate demands of manufacting and industry," Schmidt stated.

CHAMBERS AT WORK

"The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and the San Diego Chamber of Commerce are conducting active programs of mineral development and are obtaining effective results.

"The work of our regional mineral committee is in line with the work of these chambers of commerce, and it is planned to strengthen their efforts through regional and State-wide support."

Those attending yesterday's meeting included Charles S. Knight, director of the industrial department of the California Development Association; John E. Hodge, mining engineer; R. S. Boyd, president of the Southern California section of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers; Frank R. Wicks of the Pacific Coast Talc Company; M. J. Holmes of the Braun Corporation; Prof. F. S. Ransome of the California Institute of Technology; Sidney Meyer, chairman of the San Diego Bureau of Mines, and J. E. ## GASOLINE MAY GO TO 10 CENTS

12 cents a gallon with many service stations selling at 13 cents.

The movement was started by the Texas Company and the General Petroleum Company when each announced a 2-cent drop in the wholesale rate. Standard and Shell met the cut and other major companies are expected to follow.

Highly competitive conditions prevail all along the Coast. At Seattle many independent retailers sold at 12½ cents with organized retailers clinging to the 16½-cent price. In Portland a 2-cent cut sent unorganized sales to 17½ cents. The standardized retail price in Oakland and the San Francisco East Bay region was 17 cents. In San Mateo county various fluctuations placed garage retail prices at 15 cents with a momentary cut to 11 cents expected.

San Jose sold for 10 cents in some quarters. Gas was delivered by some companies at a net rate of 10½ cents a gallon.

In San Francisco prices varied from block to block today, changing on a moment's notice.

SACRAMENTO'S GAS PEACE DROPPED FOR NEW WAR

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 20. (Exclusive)—Armistices in Sacramento's gasoline price war were shown again today to be unstable things, when price hostilities flared up anew just twenty-four hours after the operators had announced a 100 per cent peace pact.

Stations selling General Petroleum gasoline opened up for business this morning displaying signs announcing a price of 18 cents, 2 cents under the uniform figure agreed on yesterday. This was followed by similar reductions at all other stations.

Kansan Taken on Girl Charge

Elmer Clore, 23 years of age, was arrested at 3462 Brandon Boulevard by Detective Lieutenants Gibson and McCaleb yesterday and held on a fugitive warrant charging him with transporting 14-year-old Melia Demos from Hutchinson, Kan., and taking $500 of her father's money. The arrest was made on telegraphic information from Sheriff Brown of Hutchinson.

The officers sought Clore first at 810½ East Seventh street, where they say they found the girl occupying an apartment with Sam W. Woods, 26, who they believe was Clore's companion on his asserted flight from Kansas. So closely does Woods fit the description of a bandit who has figured in a number of recent filling-station hold-ups, according to the detectives, that he was booked on suspicion of robbery.

Melia was sent to Juvenile Hall.

TRIO SENTENCED IN BRIBERY CASE

Bail Denied and New Trial Plea Turned Down

Getzoff Freed Temporarily Due to Illness

Keyes and Rosenberg Will Appeal Conviction

fied Getzoff's condition was serious, and the court was advised that the prisoner still had $50,000 bail up on another charge.

With this information Judge Butler declared that Getzoff might be released on his own recognisance pending the hearing of his application for probation. At the same court hearing Attorneys Al McDonald and S. W. Thompson, who defended the tailor at his trial, announced they were withdrawing from the case, and Attorney Mark F. Jones, Getzoff's personal attorney for some time, was substituted as Getzoff's representative.

The District Attorney's office was informed that Getzoff will be removed to a hospital in Pasadena for further medical attention.

Although the sentencing was the most dramatic event of the day, the most important loss to the three defendants was denial of their motions for a new trial. Seldom have such spirited and protracted pleas been made in local courts on like motions.

Attorney Belrne told the court that, under the law, he sat as a thirteenth juror in the case, but more experienced and a better judge of evidence than any of the ten women and two men that brought in the verdict of guilty nearly two weeks ago.

With this basis the attorneys then reviewed all of the outstanding and disputed points of evidence that were brought out in the trial that lasted five weeks. Again they attacked Job Berman, "bright young man of the Julian case," who turned State's evidence in the Keyes case.

DAVIS IN TEARS

Attorney Davis wept as he made his last impassioned plea to the judge. Raising both arms above his head, he called upon Judge Butler to tell, if he would, that Rosenberg might know if he had to go to prison, why Berman should be believed and he (Rosenberg) disbelieved.

In answer, Chief Deputy District Attorney Stewart declared that even without Berman's testimony there was plenty of evidence on which to convict the three defendants of conspiracy.

And then Judge Butler said, in part:

"I, myself, have felt that the jury could not have done otherwise than bring in the verdict that they did. I felt that the evidence was ample. There was sufficient evidence to corroborate Berman. When Berman appeared on the witness stand at the trial he was a total stranger to me and at first I viewed him with suspicion, but I never saw a witness bear up better under such a bitter cross-examination than he did. Not once did he contradict himself on a major point and no man could have concocted the story he told and tell it with the precision he did if it wasn't the truth."

Judge Butler then denied the motions for new trials.

FITTS NON-COMMITTAL

When Getzoff made his request to be allowed a stay of sentence to give him time in which to file application for probation, District Attorney Fitts declared that he would make no objection, but wanted the record to show that his attitude did not mean that he would not resist the request when the time came for hearing on it.

Keyes and Rosenberg were granted a ten-day stay of execution of sentence in order to file their appeal, and later Judge Butler signed a writ of probable cause under which they may be kept in the County Jail until a decision on their appeal is made.

In the case of Keyes, a public officer, no probation can be granted once he enters States prison. The prison board fixes the definite term he will serve under the indeterminate sentence law and he must complete that term without being given probation.

William P. Ecton, 80, a negro, was taken to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital with an injured back as the result of being struck by an automobile yesterday while driving his horse and buggy at East Fifteenth street and Central avenue. Eugene Watson, of 1228 East Twenty-fifth street, driver of the car, was released when Ecton assumed blame for the collision. The buggy was demolished.

Dr. George Parrish, City Health Commissioner, last night struck W. Williams, colored, 79 years of age, of 2434 Glassell avenue, while driving on Beverly Boulevard at Reno street. Williams was taken to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital suffering a broken left ankle. Investigating officers reported the accident unavoidable.

Elmer Newton Watt, 24 years of age, of 722 East Seventy-fifth street, was taken in a dying condition to General Hospital last night after his car turned over while rounding a corner at Florence avenue and Avalon Boulevard. Watt was deaf and dumb. There are no known witnesses to the accident and no signs of a collision. The deaf mute's chest was crushed and he was injured internally.

When special primary and general elections have been scheduled in various parts of Los Angeles county during the next four months, according to an announcement made yesterday by W. M. Kerr, registrar of voters. Registration is going on continuously for these elections, he stated.

The first election will be held today by Los Angeles City Municipal Improvement District No. 61, comprising territory of Cahuenga Pass and a portion of North Hollywood. Other elections and dates, with the hours of closing of registration, are as follows:

A summary of amendments to the election laws drafted by his office which now are pending in the Legislature also was issued by Registrar Kerr.

AMENDMENTS LISTED

Assembly Bill No. 390 provides that the closing date for registration shall be forty instead of thirty days before an election in order to allow the registrars more time to make transfers to and from precincts and other routine matters. The bill also provides that registration used in the last State or general elections may be used to determine who is eligible to vote in local elections held between January 1 and April 1 of each year.

Senate Bill No. 370 provides for permanent registration of voters, other than renewals each two years, which should effect an enormous financial saving, Mr. Kerr stated.

Assembly Bill No. 393 proposes to limit the sponsors of a candidate for office to certify their signatures before another sponsor rather than a notary fees. This bill also provides in do away with advertising of polling places in connection with publication of names and addresses of candidates. Another section would reduce the number of members of the county central committee for counties with ten or more assembly districts to five, that number being empowered to appoint an additional member for each voting precinct in each district. Other amendments would eliminate the alternative of allowing voters to write in names of candidates not listed on ballots except in municipal elections.

PROSPECTS FOR HARBOR HELD BRIGHT

Speaker at Kiwanis Club Says Los Angeles Leads in Initiative and Courage

Los Angeles excels every city in the world in initiative and courage, which has been particularly exemplified in the construction of its harbor, now second in importance in the United States.

This tribute was paid yesterday by Curtis Bailey, field secretary of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress of Washington, D. C., in a talk on foreign trade before the Kiwanis Club at its luncheon at the Ambassador.

"Los Angeles has great opportunity for expansion of its foreign trade through development in Australia, the Near West, as the Orient is now called, and the Latin-American countries," he said. He pointed out, however, the strong competition from England and industrial nations of Europe and declared that unless the American merchant marine is protected, industry of the United States will be at the mercy of foreign countries.

In connection with the Los Angeles Harbor development, Mr. Bailey listed benefits of waterways as the:

Cheapest known medium of transportation.

Reductions in rail rates through competition.

Centers of industry.

"There never has been and cannot be industrial development of any magnitude without cheap water transportation, he declared.

Robert M. Bigelow of the Chamber of Commerce acted as chairman of the luncheon.

CAMP SEELEY TRIP FOR WORKERS OF CITY

Many employed men and women of local industries and business houses will frolic in the snow this week-end. A party of more than 100 workers is to travel to Camp Seeley, the Los Angeles municipal mountain playground, for a two-day outing conducted by the Playground and Recreation Association. The group will leave Saturday afternoon, spend Saturday on the camp in the evening. The camp is open to anyone in Los Angeles, and arrangements to join the party may be made at the office of the Playground and Recreation Department in the City Hall.

QUEEN COUNTY ELECTIONS SET

Will Occur Today in City of North Hollywood

Elections to Take Place Daily Voting Till May 4

Law Lists Amendments to State Statutes

Three special primary and general elections have been scheduled in various parts of Los Angeles county during the next four months, according to an announcement made today by W. M. Kerr, registrar of voters. Registration is now continuously for these elections.

The first election will be held today in Los Angeles City Municipal Water District No. 61, comprising the territory of Cahuenga Park district of North Hollywood. Other districts and dates, with the closing of registration, are as follows:

SPECIAL ELECTIONS

Glendale city bond election, March 1; last registration January 26. Redondo Beach city charter election, March 5; Tuesday, last registration February 26. Long Beach school district, March 12; closing registration February 26. Pasadena city primary, March 14; closing registration March 4. Pomona city primary, March 14; last; Pomona city March 16; closing registration March 6. Los Angeles high school district dissolution election, March 26; territory of Alhambra, Monrovia, etc., closing registration the 16. Puente Valley county water district, March 26; closing registration Saturday, Pomona city primary election, April 1; closing registration March 16. Burbank general, April 1; closing registration March 16. Glendale general election, April 9; closing registration March 19. Pasadena city special, April 9; closing registration March 9; Los Angeles primary, May 7; closing registration April 6; Los Angeles general, June 4; closing registration May 6.

The history of amendments to election laws drafted by his office now are pending in the form in which he was issued by Registrar Kerr.

AMENDMENTS LISTED

Assembly Bill No. 200 provides a closing date for registration 30 days instead of thirty days prior to any election in order to give registrars more time to complete their records to and from precincts and other routine matters.

Bill No. 370 provides that registration in the last State or general election may be used to determine who is eligible to vote in any election held between January 1 and April 1 of each year.

Assembly Bill No. 370 provides for annual registration of voters in all precincts each two years and would effect an enormous saving, Mr. Kerr stated.

Assembly Bill No. 380 proposes to print the names of a candidate for office on the ballot under their signatures before the word "Republican" rather than "Party." This bill also provides for doing away with advertising of polling places in connection with publication of names and addresses of candidates. Another bill would reduce the number of members of the county central committee for counties with ten or more districts to five, that number being empowered to appoint an additional member for each precinct in each district. Other amendments would eliminate the alternative of allowing voters to write in names of candidates not printed on ballots except in municipal elections.

PROSPECTS FOR HARBOR HELD BRIGHT

Speaker at Kiwanis Club Says Los Angeles Leads in Initiative and Courage

Practically every city in the world in initiative and courage, Los Angeles has been particularly extraordinary in the construction of its harbor, according to Lewis Hamilton, who ranks in importance with Dana Point.

Hamilton was paid yesterday by Major Jadwin, field secretary of the Rivers and Harbors Congress of Washington, D. C., in a speech made before the Kiwanis club at the luncheon at the Ambassador.

Hamilton has great opportunities for expansion of its foreign trade, through development in Australia, Far East, as the Orient is called, and the Latin-American countries," he said. He pointed out, however, the strong competition from England and industrial centers of Europe and declared that unless the American merchant marine is protected, industries of the United States will be driven out of foreign countries.

In connection with the Los Angeles harbor development, Mr. Hamilton urged the building of waterways as a cheap medium of transportation in rail rates through the Panama canal.

"Industry has been and cannot be without development of any kind without cheap water transportation," he declared.

Dr. Robert M. Underhill of the Chamber of Commerce acted as chairman at the luncheon.

SECRETARY TRIP FOR WORKERS OF CITY

Selected men and women from industries and business will participate in the move this week. A party of more than 100 is to travel to Camp Baldy in the Los Angeles municipal forest, for a two-day visit, sponsored by the Playground Commission. The group will leave Friday afternoon, returning Saturday afternoon. Plans are now in the evening. Plans are now to improve in Los Angeles to join the movements to join the Pacific Ocean at the ocean front and Rosecrans avenue in the City Hall.

Say not thou, What is the cause that former days were better than these? For thou dost not inquire wisely concerning this. Ecclesiastes vii:10.

TOO MANY LAWS

The California Assembly has 1929 bills before it for consideration. This would be one for every year since the star rose o'er Bethlehem. Wouldn't it be fine if the legislators were permitted to adopt but one new law each season?

THE FIG PUNCH

One of our fight promoters having heard that this Prof. Einstein is a knockout would like to sign him up for a ten-round go, although he admits that he does not know what weight Einstein makes. He has in mind, however, a bout with Armand Emanuel. There might be something to this. To a simple citizen it would seem that a high-brow flash like Emanuel or Gene Tunney would be needed to cope with the Einstein style or punch—to get on to his curves, as it were.

THE NEW LINE

President von Hindenburg of Germany is past his eightieth year, but witnessed his first movie the other day. It was a special showing of the film "Napoleon" and was brought to his door. Although there are war, famine and bloodshed in the picture the German executive was vastly pleased to be informed that the film was really made without any tragedy or loss of life. In his ripened age he realizes that this is the kind of a war to have—one of make believe. Hereafter he is going to have all his fighting done by cameras.

THE BIGGEST SHARK

A scientist who is suspected of knowing what he is talking about gives his opinion that at one time we had sharks 140 feet or more in length preying along our coast—although what they preyed for is not cited. Spring street fishermen often think there are still some rather massive sharks, but there is nothing like this. Of course these big fellows have not been seen for 12,000 years or so, but San Pedro was no place for babies to play when a few of these sea terriers were in the offing. A 140-foot shark would make some of this Julian bunch look like sardines.

LINCOLN AND WASHINGTON

Now that the school children of America may honestly and properly divide upon the heroic merits of Washington and Lincoln as the greatest human contribution of our country it is interesting to note the judgment of Abraham Lincoln. Before he himself had attained the seats of the mighty he wrote this: "To add brightness to the sun or glory to the name of Washington is alike impossible. Let none attempt it. In solemn awe pronounce the name, and in its naked, deathless splendor leave it shining on." The verdict of one patriot upon another is impressive.

MOTOR MANNERS

The Ladies' Home Journal, that mighty apologist and text-book of women, is disturbed over "motor manners." The brusque way of man toward women drivers is barbecued in ancient Bok fashion.

If male and female pedestrians collide on the sidewalk, the gentleman uncovers his cranium and unloads his soul of profuse apologies. It may not be his fault; but he accuses himself of clumsiness and other crimes. But if the same hyena sideswipe a woman's car, he glares and snarls. The beast within him rages and claws at his crumpled fender.

However, inconsistency is not confined to the male of the species. If two ladies dispute the same doorway at a function, each retires in good order and yields the contested point with a complete begging of pardons. But if they have a motor argument at an intersection, look out!

The woman has been accorded precedence for so many ages that she takes it as a matter of course. She fails to make mental note of the fact that cars have no sex appeal. In a close shave everything is masculine. She who takes over the duties of a man also acquires his temperament and treatment. Indeed, some of the daintiest bits of fluff and femininity are more masculine than the sterner sex under high tension, in negotiating a corner. Motors make mongrels of us all.

ARIZONA HOLDS BACK

The second Santa Fe conference on the Colorado River seems to be making no progress, and the reason for its lack of accomplishment appears to be the reluctance of Arizona to make clear her position even as a basis of discussion. It had been assumed that in entering a conference with California and Nevada, Arizona thereby bound herself to lay her cards on the table as the other States were willing to do. If her attitude is of unalterable opposition to Boulder Dam construction on any practicable terms that should have been made clear. There would have been no point in a conference if such is the case.

It is not too late, of course, for a change in tactics, though the waste of time in apparently fruitless discussion of nothing is rendering the other delegates impatient and producing a state of mind little conducive to compromise or yielding. The latest statement of the Arizona delegates is that that State will agree to nothing that assumes the validity of the Boulder Dam Act passed by Congress and signed by the President. If this is strictly and literally true, the conference might as well end at once, since the conference was called for the sole purpose of ascertaining on what terms Arizona would accept the seven-State pact and the Congressional legislation based on it. The only other courses open that include Arizona are the drawing up of an entirely new seven-State pact and the enactment of a new bill by Congress. The other States are not ready to concede this is necessary.

There remains the probability of six-State ratification with the inevitable accompanying fight in the courts by Arizona. Gov. Dern of Utah has already signified that, so far as he is concerned, that State is ready to make the six-State compact complete if Arizona refuses to make reasonable terms. It begins to appear likely that he will be called upon to redeem his promise to seek six-State ratification.

Arizona is, in fact, staking a good deal upon the success of a court fight. If the courts should determine, as it is conceivable they may, that the power of Congress to deal with such interstate streams as the Colorado is complete, Congress might act on that decision in a way to give Arizona far less than she can now obtain. And if the courts, on the contrary, hold the Boulder Dam Act invalid, the State puts her own interests in jeopardy, since a diversion of the river's flow into the Salton Sea—which, in the course of nature, will certainly occur if an adequate flood-control dam is not built—may cost Arizona dearly through lack of irrigation water.

Arizona really needs Colorado River development as acutely as does any other State, and will reap as great proportionate benefits from it as any. That, of course, is the State's own business, but it sometimes seems that many of the people of that State are not awake to the fact.

MIDWINTER FLOWER SHOW

Many unique features make California stand out as America's winter playground. Among these the Midwinter Flower Show at Encinitas deserves high mention. As towns go, Encinitas is a small place; so are Guadaloupe, Arroyo Grande, Montebello, El Monte and Salinas; yet these places are known on every continent for their seeds, bulbs and roses. California has become already the center of commercial flower-growing for the United States and it will not be long before it is a world center of horticultural experiment and of commercial seed production.

This industry is represented in many colorful spots: Guadaloupe, where are flowers in bloom in gorgeous colorings as far as the eye can see—seeds of which are shipped to Europe and Asia and Africa; or the great plantations of sweet peas at Salinas—also grown for seed; the roses at Montebello, which are shipped East by the carload, and last but not least, Encinitas.

Little Encinitas is a community of bulb growers. One can motor down the main highway between San Diego and Los Angeles and see nothing of this great industry—the place seems like dozens of new towns. But a little off the highway are acres of anemones and ranunculi in bloom, in shades of violet and rose and crimson and yellow—a very rainbow of color. There are fields and fields of gorgeous gladioli—for the Encinitas show is of bulbs grown and flowered in the open. In fact, all of this south coast country—Carlsbad, Rancho Santa Fe, La Solana—is a paradise for bulb growers.

As Palos Verdes, Redondo and Santa Monica give us the climate of the Riviera, so this south coast region gives us Holland. Bulbs are sent to the Encinitas Flower Show by growers from as far north as Berkeley, and from the country about San Francisco and Portland; even some from as far East as Denver and Chicago. Whoever is motoring to San Diego from Los Angeles may well stop a while at little Encinitas and see for himself not only a most radiant showing of bulbs in flower, but also what in this field California horticulture has accomplished. Holland, England, France, Japan, and many other countries are already well aware of it.

BRITISH BRAVERY

Alfred Perry, English holder of the Walter Hines Page Fellowship in Journalism now writing on The Times, has the courage of the British lion. His country's reputation for daring does not suffer through him.

Anyone who can start off one of his early articles with this sentence, "These Los Angeles girls are a bit old-fashioned," should be decorated. At the same time it may be well for him to be ready to dodge a rolling pin in his perigrinations, after criticising Miss Los Angeles for facial decorations.

Further, he has hardihood of a high order to allow his picture to be published as an inset in the article, so that he may be recognized at sight.

On the other hand, our movie queens cannot be out of date—they set the dates. They refuse to lower their skirts to Parisian modes. They have thus far resisted foreign entanglements—about their feet.

Miss Los Angeles may paint with the freedom of the kalsominer; but she does it openly, candidly. She pulls out her compact in any situation and goes to work shamelessly. There is nothing of the Pharisee about her. She does not hide behind locked doors to preen her feathers. She does not withdraw from public gaze in a clandestine manner to devote herself to her art. Like Turner, she just upsets the paint pot all over her and splashes and splotches it on. There is a generosity about her that is original and refreshing.

She may even retouch her work as she walks along the street, so devoted is she to beauty. If she blush at the deed, she forthwith powders it out of the scenery. Informal and frank, she knows that everybody knows she does it and makes no effort at deceit.

However, Mr. Perry has seen her! That is what she intended. He noticed her next after the Grand Canyon and seemed to be equally impressed. Again her intention has been fulfilled. She would feel humiliated not to bulk as largely in his future as one of the climaxes of nature.

However, we also understand the British spirit. The Page Fellowship does not function in vain. We know now how the 600 could ride into the jaws of death!

FOOLHARDY SPORT

While introducing Maj. H. O. D. Seagrave, the British automobile racer, to a group of sportsmen gathered in New York the other day, Sir Charles Higham said: "The major intends either to break the record or break his neck."

Sir Charles could hardly have better expressed the foolhardiness of such an effort. The applause which greeted the statement might as well have been bestowed upon a flagpole sitter, for the attempt is of almost equal futility.

The Golden Arrow, the new machine with which Maj. Seagrave says he will be able to achieve the proud record of 240 miles an hour, probably can be speeded up to that rate of locomotion, but what of it? Will the performance serve any good purpose whatsoever? Certainly not from the viewpoint of the practical man, who hardly could dream of any really worthy or useful end which it might serve. Nobody doubts the courage of the man who proposes to drive the machine at the terrific speed it is capable of developing, but it must be remembered that this speed can be attained only upon a straight course, under conditions that are far from ordinary and with dangers few would care to face. An airplane may be driven at such speed with comparative safety, for its tires are little likely to blow out nor its steering gear or other mechanism to be unduly and dangerously strained.

Even should the major break the record without breaking his neck he will have achieved nothing beyond the realization of a silly ambition. His courage and singleness of purpose should be devoted to more useful ends.

Hopeless Quest

We wish to award this week's prize for optimism to Mrs. B. L. S. She drove downtown for her husband the other evening and was driving back home, having just turned from North Broadway into Temple street, when she recalled that she had forgotten to order bacon, and there wouldn't be any for breakfast the next morning. So she went into shop after shop, asking for bacon—on Temple street!

Her husband, brute that he is, maliciously kept silence till after she had been smiled out of the fifth grocery, and then suggested that in the next one she ask for yom kippured herrings.

An American Spanish Club

The Circulo de Estudiantes Espanol is another Los Angeles club which is out of ordinary. It has just been launched, with 110 members, in clubrooms at 1245 South Flower street. All the members are Americans interested in the study of Spanish and the preservation of Spanish traditions in Los Angeles. Only Spanish may be spoken in the clubrooms, or the speaker gets fined 5 cents. The club is for men, women and children—anyone interested in Spanish and Spanish customs. All the music is Spanish, and there are phonograph records of Spanish lessons, for those who find conversation difficult. For the present, the club will be open every afternoon and evening except Saturdays and Sundays. Once a week it has a dinner in a Spanish restaurant, and those who do not order in Spanish get no food. There are no dumb waiters, but frequently there are dumb diners. Senor A. A. Loyo, a Mexican well educated in both Spanish and English, is manager.

Beats Esperanto

"The interest in Spanish here is very great," says Senor Loyo. "And it is not confined to any class. I find business men, street-car conductors, students, writers, actors, are all interested in Spanish, though many of them have never been in a Spanish-speaking country. Every day I hear people urging school students to learn Spanish rather than French or German, and pointing out that more people, the world over, speak Spanish than speak any other language. With Spain, all of South America, Central America, Mexico and the Philippines Spanish-speaking countries, it is easy to see how that is so. Yet, though Los Angeles probably takes more interest in Spanish than does any other American city, it is surprising how Spanish is mutilated here. Such names as Mar Vista, for example, are not Spanish—any Spanish-speaking person would say Vista del Mar. It is too bad for this city, of all cities, after supplanting many of its old Spanish names with English names, to be giving streets and places new Spanish names which are incorrect."

Laughable Yet Not Funny

We think so, too. Think how the historic past of Los Angeles would be called to every visitor's attention if he strolled down Calle Primavera instead of Spring street, or Calle de la Loma instead of Hill street! In discarding those names we have thrown away something distinctive, priceless and legitimately ours. We have traded part of our birthright for a mess of commonplaces.

Vendredi Gras

But what can one expect, when even the Bachelors give a big Mardi Gras party on Friday night?

Probably X. N. Yorkers

Lee: Oh, you Californians! You wouldn't admit it was cold if snow covered Pershing Square. During the recent "unusual weather" snap—on the most unusual night of all—along came a couple of native sons, strolling down Broadway, bareheaded and overcoatless. But they were fully dressed for the evening—each carried a cane.—X. N. Yorker.

Get out! Who ever saw a native son carrying a cane?

Physical Culture While You Work

Mr. Leeside: I am only an ignorant foreigner. But is it that all your prominent attorneys are in training for Mr. Gene Tunney's abdicated throne? All I have seen pictured in the public prints lately were poised as if just about to swing their clenched fists for the jaw.—J. L.

Light on Ancient Riddle

R. A. W. writes us that paintings which had won awards often used to puzzle him, but at last he understands, and wishes to pass on his explanation to others who have suffered mentally as he did. "It is so simple," he says, "that it is a wonder I never thought of it before. You see, most art awards are made by juries."

A SETTING OF SENSATION

Let it be said without boasting, but as something not to be denied, that Los Angeles will always have a new sensation at the door. No sooner does a chapter close or interest wane than there is a new storm at the gate. There is always something to talk about—and it isn't the Einstein theory either.

YESTERDAY TODAY FOREVER
By James J. Montague

We've been told that Old Nick was extending his clutch
To encompass the youth of today,
That the movies, the jazz and the night clubs and such
Were the lairs where he lurked for his prey.
We've been told that the young are no longer discreet,
That a helplessly frail generation
Must swiftly be swept from its faltering feet
By the demons of modern temptation.

But the jazz and the night clubs have both done their worst
And the movies have movied a long time
And one does not observe any unbridled thirst
In the average young person for crime.
Though his path is hard and with pitfalls beset
It is twenty to one that a kid
Will take every hurdle and dodge every net
Just about as his grandfather did.

And now we are told that young women in trade
Are not lured by the glittering lights
Which over Terpsichore's haunts are displayed,
And don't play around much of nights.
Their costumes are modish, they do not neglect
To think now and then of their looks,
But, though this is more than perhaps you'd expect
Their leading addiction is books.

I suspect that perhaps in the moral old days—
Say back in 1888—
Not all of the customs and all of the ways
Were so properly prim and sedate.
As now, a few youngsters by chance would run wild
And do things their parents forbid
While others by evil would not be beguiled,
It depended a lot on the kid.

LETTERS TO The Times

[Name and address of writer must accompany all letters for this column. Letters of a personal nature or involving contentious religious questions are not acceptable.]

Try Nothing Bad Once

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have just read your editorial, "The Dead Line," and wish to urge all fathers and mothers to clip that editorial and see to it that their children learn it thoroughly.

In that column you have epitomized one of the most needed and least regarded of lessons for the time, the practical certainty of moral degeneration through tampering with vicious or foolish habits.

Your editorial should waken careless parents to the folly they commit in letting children grow up unrestrained, untaught and undisciplined, allowing them to absorb the idiocy of those who say, "Til try anything once." Many an addict now suffers agony who might be free had he or she known the mortal danger that lurks behind that fool idea of "Try anything once."

Mr. Editor, as a grandfather of four boys, I thank you for your editorial titled "The Dead Line." E. E. HARRIMAN.

Fishermen's Bill

BISHOP (Cal.) Feb. 15.—[To the Editor of The Times:] An amusing feature of the objections to the so-called fishermen's bill is the fact that the law was enacted in 1911, therefore having been in effect these past eighteen years. (Rip Van Winkle's record got a close shave that time.)

Referring to the original law, on page 13 of "Laws Relating to Fish and Game, 1927-1929," and comparing it with Assembly Bill No. 267, brings out the fact that it is proposed to merely substitute the words "State" and "State of California" for "County" and "Board of Supervisors," respectively. The intent or probable effect of the law is not changed in the least. It is reasoned that the securing by purchase of fishermen's highways is a State rather than a county responsibility, since the majority of fishermen who get the benefit are usually residents from without the county and from various parts of the State.

Owens River, one of the most popular and hardest fished trout streams in the State, flows through privately owned land in Long Valley. The land throughout the valley is mountain grazing land only, and it would be hard to imagine damage a fisherman could do tramping along the river bank. The law applies only to waters running through land "that is not cultivated."

Two years ago a group of men formed a club and purchased one of these ranches for a private fishing preserve. "Intruders" are ordered off unceremoniously. The trend of this practice is obvious. Soon one of the best trout streams in the State will be in the hands of private clubs.

The population of Owens Valley is around 5000. The United States Forest Service estimates that approximately 70,000 visit the Inyo Forest, which borders Owens Valley, annually. If the river is closed it will not be because of damage to crops, but to the high prices paid for "good fishing land."

C. M. GWIN,
Secretary Rainbow Club of Bishop.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Civil Service?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address: Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

Civil service positions offer good pay and permanent work. The examinations are difficult, but not unreasonable for those who are willing to prepare. McKinley Evening High School, 366 East Forty-fifth street, offers a full course in training for these examinations. The school is wholly supported by the State, and students do not have to pay tuition. Books are loaned free, the student being asked to deposit just their cost until he returns the books.

The course consists of a full review of arithmetic, English, penmanship, spelling, United States history and government. Some attention is given to geography, especially with those who are preparing for the postal service, such as mail men and postoffice clerks.

Frequent written tests give the students confidence, so that they will not be nervous and afraid of the civil service examinations.

This course meets on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, from 7 to 9 o'clock, in room 39, of the McKinley High School. Students may enter at any time, and prepare for any civil service examination.

When we see our street cleaning water wagon on its slow journey down the street, sending out streams of clean cold water to wash the dust and debris from the cement, we might give a thought to the same scene being enacted during cold spells in Pueblo, Colo., where the flushers and sprinklers are filled with hot water for the rapid melting of snow and ice. Since the hot water is obtained free from the ice plants, of which it is a waste product, the city highway department is jubilant over the cheap and rapid method of cleaning the snow-covered streets. ### CHIMNEY-CORNER GRADUATES

BY FAITH HOLMES HYERS

"Books, books everywhere, and woe to the man who is not at least a chimney-corner graduate," some one remarked. Chimney-corner graduates are commanding no little attention, judging by the streams of kindly advice that pour forth in the mail and the advertisements, on what to read, how to read, when, where and why to read.

True, civilization is moving at such a rapid pace that the Gargantuan presses of all nations are kept humming day and night to record the changes in the ideals of politics, science, education, physics and metaphysics. True, too, that without the beneficent agency of the printed word, we should be hopelessly lacking in understanding of current world happenings. It follows as a matter of course, that enthusiastic educators are bursting to impart this flood of knowledge and that the young person's baggage today carries a sheepskin as a matter of course. Graduates of some school or other semiannually inundate the world.

But the chimney-corner graduate is in a class by himself. He labors not for the credits which perish with college days. He crams not for fateful tests and hateful I.Q.'s. He pursues no unsavory book to a nauseating finish. He reads what he likes. He is under no compulsion to complete a fat and stupid volume camouflaged by modern jazzistic style. He may skim, dart, pick and choose, discard one book for another, read lightly or carefully, remember what appeals to his fancy, forget what repels his good taste.

Chimney-corner reading goeth where it listeth. It follows the flare of the hearth-fire, glows with the burning coals, broods with the fitful flames and dozes at times over a delightful thought clothed in pleasing imagery. If the bachelor of the hearth-fire school is inclined toward the note-book habit he may draw from a secret nook within reach of the fireside chair, the perpetual note book and jot down the not-to-be-forgotten passage—the cherished idea winged with just-right words.

Not for the chimney-cornerite are many easy roads to learning, the outlines of this or that, the world's history in a nutshell, the stories of civilization, of philosophy, mankind, save as they point out other paths of wandering. Not for him are the instructions on how to read more words in less time, to gobble a paragraph at a glance, how to digest the substance of meaty pages and bring forth his new-won knowledge at a conversational debacle.

For him, rather, the leisurely essay, the favorite editorial, the magazine that keeps him au courant with his hobby and his vocation, the occasional novel that combines style and content, the slim book of verse in the manner of the moderns, or one of the old favorites from the well-filled bookcase. He labors under no false delusion that mankind lives to read and must with greater living speed, acquire greater reader celerity. But with his ear trying words as the mouth tasteth meat, he chooses rather, to read to live—that he may live more abundantly.

May the tribe of chimney-corner graduates increase!

Q.: How many Americans who have had Rhodes Scholarships have become famous? J. F. W.

A.: Among Americans who have won Rhodes Scholarships there are a dozen educational executives, several outstanding literary figures, a judge of a Supreme Court, a judge of the Mixed Tribunal of Egypt, a former United States Commissioner of Education, at least thirty prominent lawyers, six outstanding physicians, a United States District Attorney, nine college deans, forty-three professors. There are twelve who are numbered among the successful business men of the nation, four distinguished in journalism, and about half a dozen in politics. One is considered a leading authority on Elizabethan literature, while another, to quote Prof. Frank Aydelotte of Swarthmore College, American Secretary of the Rhodes Trust, "is one of the two or three leading authorities of the United States on the diplomatic background of the World War."

Q.: When was the game of whist invented? T. G.

A.: Like many card games, its origin is obscure, but under the name of triumph it had become so well known that when Bishop Latimer preached the Christmas sermon at Cambridge in 1529, he had no doubt that his hearers could follow his allegories based upon it. Its first serious study and the formulation of set rules regarding play resulted from frequent meetings of a party of whist players at the Crown Coffee House in Bedford Row, London, of whom Edmond Hoyle was one.

Q.: What palm has a sap which is used as wine? W. G.

A.: The kitul palm in India secretes a sweet, aromatic sap which, after fermentation, is an excellent sort of palm wine.

Namesake of Tyrus Cobb to Get Tryout

GREENVILLE, (S. C.) Feb. 20.—Tyrus Raymond Cobb will tryout for an outfield berth with the Greenville club of the South Atlantic League this season, but this Ty is a budding youngster, who was named after the veteran major-league star. He is 19 and says his big ambition is to take up where the famed Ty is leaving off. His father was a former professional ball player, and was in the Bally League when the Georgia Peach "broke in" at Augusta.

ANGELS ANNEX FIRST VICTORY

Berger and Sousa Shine in 14-4 Practice Win

BY BOB RAY

Marty Krug's ambitious Angels are on top of the baseball heap for at least a day, for they won their first practice game of the season yesterday by walloping the Court Drug Company nine, 14 to 4, out at Wrigley Field. The Angels now have a record of one game won and none lost, which, according to the very best baseball arithmetic, gives them a percentage of 1.000.

Krug used three pitchers against the Druggists, Glenn Gabler, Harry Chesley and Al Monerief toiling on the mound

GUM MOGUL TO DICTATE POLICIES OF BALL PARK

Magnate Threatens to Oust Angels in 1930 if Loop Owners Menace Conduct of Affairs Here

BY BOB RAY,

William Wrigley, Jr., the big chewing gum man who has gummed up the Pacific Coast League situation with his "ladies free" policy, slapped a couple of more sticks of spearmint into the cog wheels of Harry A. Williams's circuit last night when he announced that he would dictate the policies of Wrigley Field or throw the Angels out of his park in 1930.

Wrigley's latest outburst—brought on by the action of Tom Turner, Portland owner, and Bill Klepper, Seattle prexy, to have the Angel boss's stand of letting ladies in free every day at the local park without reimbursing the visiting clubs declared unconstitutional—was an ultimatum to all Coast League owners who disapproved his policy.

The facts of the "ladies free" tangle are this, to sum up the situation briefly:

(1.) Wrigley put over his ladies free idea during the 1926 season, his claim being that it increases the interest in baseball to such an extent to more than make up for the loss of money at the gate from admitting the women free.

(2.) During the winter of 1926 the Coast League owners passed a resolution limiting each park to three free ladies' days a week. However, the resolution was not made a part of the league constitution, Wrigley contends.

(3.) Wrigley went back to the ladies free every day play last

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

William Wrigley, Jr., yesterday took the first step toward making the annual Catalina open the classic of southern California's midwinter series of tournaments, when he authorized the construction of an eighteen-hole course in the "billy goat" hills back of Avalon.

Starting out feebly as a $2500 open last December the Catalina open this year scheduled for December 13, 14 and 15, will be the fourth largest tournament on the Pacific Coast with a purse of $7500 for the "pros" to shoot at. It will be exceeded only by the Agua Caliente $25,000 open, the National P.G.A.

MIAMI BEACH (Fla.) Feb. 20. (AP)—The business activities of Jack Sharkey and Young Stribling, two prominent young heavyweights, regained a place in the sun today, with the smoothing away of the problem of selecting a referee for their engagement here one week from tonight.

Johnny Buckly, manager of Sharkey, and Pa Stribling, father of the southern ace, met with Promoter Jack Dempsey today and adopted the New York commission rules in general as the governing code.

Inasmuch as the managers of the battlers argued two weeks before agreeing to a referee it appeared probable that no judges would be selected, leaving the work that night entirely on Magnolia's shoulders.

Along with Sharkey, who has been working steadily and in splendid

Detailed Program for Third Annual Winter Sports Play Announced

Detailed program, together with the list of prize donors, for the third annual winter sports carnival, opening tomorrow at the Los Angeles county Big Pines Recreation Camp, was made last night by Dr. Alex J. Linck, chairman of the carnival committee.

Planned by Walter Fuesler for the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the carnival, the program includes a full schedule of snow and ice sports from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., on each of the three days of the event, with dancing tomorrow night and Saturday night in the spacious recreation room at Big Pines.

A conspicuous feature of the carnival, as revealed by the program of events, will be the ice hockey games Saturday and Sunday between the Union Oil Company and La Natividad teams, leaders of the Southern California Amateur Hockey League. ## HOLLYWOOD AX TO FALL THIS WEEK

Vitt and Lane Plan to Lop Off Heads of Extra Rookies Saturday

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 20.—Recruits in the camp of the Hollywood Stars here will have until Saturday to show their ability. Manager Oscar Vitt has decided to make his first cut in the squad of more than forty athletes on that day. The youngsters came in for a big share of the attention again today, the third in camp. Vitt gave them all a chance to show their ability at bat and then followed up with infield practice.

At bat Mike Maloney, the second baseman from the Boise club of the Utah-Idaho League, looked as good as he did afield. Tony Bernardo, shortstop from the same club, and Harry Green, formerly with the Missions, at first base, also came in for good attention. Bernardo is one of the easiest working infielders of the lot.

Bill Rumler and William Alberts, outfielders, and Russell Rollings, infielder, led the regulars at bat. Rumler has plenty of power and hits them far and wide. Alberts, a left-hand hitter, obtained from the Springfield club of the Massachusetts State League, and Rollings, who

Sauer, who won the first fall and then succumbed to Jones's hook-scissors in the second, captured the third and deciding fall with a series of headlocks after forty-five minutes and twenty-five seconds. # California Plays Flintridge Today for Women's Interclub Team Match

FOX HILLS AND HACIENDA MEET

Culver City Golfers Have Substantial Edge

Favored to Capture 1929 Championships

Matches Wind-up Brilliant Season of Events

Women golfers of the Flintridge Country Club travel over to California this morning where the final match of the 1928-1929 interclub team match will be played for the Southern California championship.

The powerful California team, which won eight out of nine points from Flintridge in the first match a week ago, is favored to win hands down.

Fox Hills also has a championship match today with Hacienda to decide the winner of the eastern division championship. Fox Hills defeated Hacienda, 10 1-2 to 1 1-2 last week in the first match played at Fox Hills, but will have a difficult time winning today with three stars ill. Mrs. H. F. Braddock was the first to fall ill and Mrs. A. D. Fisher and Mrs. C. C. Towner were added to the list of sick players.

As Mrs. Towner and Mrs. Fisher won 3 points from Mrs. Lindsay Little and Mrs. A. R. McGregor Hacienda's first team, last week, they will be sorely missed today.

Walter Berger, who cavorted around first base for the Krugmen, and "Dutch" Sousa, young third-sacker, carried off the batting honors for the Seraphs. Berger poled out a home run, a triple on the deep centerfield wall, and a single, while Sousa hammered out three doubles during the afternoon.

Krug was dissatisfied with yesterday's game, claiming that from now on he'd just have the athletes work out to get their exercise, Marty is going to give the Angels a three-hour workout today and have them top off the afternoon's session with another of those famous relays between the teams of Truck Hannah and Gus Sandberg.

Carl Dittmar, who will hold down the shortstop position for the Cherubs again this season, checked in at Wrigley Field yesterday and announced he would report for duty today. Dittmar drove here from Baltimore in eleven days, which beats Chesley's flivver record from the same city by two days.

Jigger Statz was not present at yesterday's workout, one of his youngsters being under the weather and so Papa had to stick around home. Statz will probably be out again today.

HITCHCOCK'S TEAM BEATEN

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 20. (AP)—Tommy Hitchcock and Winston C. Guest, international polo stars, divided high honors as Eastcott defeated Rancho San Carlos, 13 to 7, in an exhibition game here this afternoon. Hitchcock, playing with the losers, scored four goals and Guest tallied as many for the winning team.

Two players were out of the game for a short time because of injuries. W. Averill Harriman, No. 2 for San Carlos was struck above the left eye by a roof when his pony stumbled and J. Cheever Codwin, Eastcott back, was hit on the right arm by a ball driven by Hitchcock.

"BUCKY" HARRIS AND TIGER BAND DEPART FOR PHOENIX

DETROIT, Feb. 20. (AP)—"Bucky" Harris and a contingent of the Detroit Tigers, whom he is to manage this year, left tonight for Phoenix, Ariz., where Detroit's representatives in the American League will train for the 1929 season. Practice is to start Monday.

Accompanying Harris were Pitchers Haskell Billings, Owen Carroll, Phil Page, Fred Pipgras and Bill Zachariasen, the latter loans by Dallas for the training season, and Catchers Hargrave and Phillips.

The squad will be augmented at St. Louis by Coaches George McBride and Benny Myer. Pitchers Sam Gibson, George Smith, Vic Sorrell and Elam Van Gilder, Catchers Larry Woodall and Ray Hayworth and Jonathan Stone, outfielder.

Lil Stoner, John Prudhomme and Frank Barnes, pitchers, will join the squad at Dallas. Earl Whitehill, Emil Yde, George Uhle, veteran hurlers; Shea, catcher, and Roy Johnson, outfielder from the Coast League, are to go directly to Phoenix and will report for the first workout.

SANTA ANA, Feb. 20.—Those pesky Portland Beavers are slowly but surely finding their way into "nature's prolific wonderland." Five players, two regulars and three rookies, checked in at St. Ann's Inn early today but Manager Bill Rodgers expects more of his wayward athletes in town tonight and has called for the club's first serious workout at the Orange County Fairgrounds tomorrow morning. Charley Bates, the nimble-hoofed outfielder who hit .280 for the Beavers last term, and Johnny Saunders, the young catcher, who was used mainly for relief purposes last summer, are the two regulars in camp. The rookies are John Beck, pitcher from Salem; Ray Rake, a southpaw from Coquille, Or., and Bill Brauer, a chucker from Portland.

Fred Ortman, regular gunner, was expected momentarily along with several other veterans. While the Beavers were gradually drifting in to the city, S. W. Stanley, secretary of the Orange County Fair Association, announced the complete training camp schedule of exhibition games. Portland will open against Johnny Bassler's national baseball school Saturday, March 2. The full program follows:

SEATTLE TEAM ENROLLMENT LARGE

SAN CLEMENTE, Feb. 20.—Five more ball players reported to Manager Ernie Johnson of the Seattle Indians today, bringing the total enrollment up to forty-seven men. The new arrivals included Melvin Gardner, first baseman, with Springfield last year; Bert Jones, outfielder from Oakland; Rudy Kallio, former Sacramento and big-league hurler; G. E. Meyers, outfielder, formerly with a semipro team at Salem, Or., and S. J. Ryan, Los Angeles catcher. Charley Borreani, catcher, Jim Edwards, pitcher, and "Chili" McDaniel, first baseman, are yet to show.

The squad went through two hours of hitting practice today. Dave Barbee hit two home runs and Oscar Eckhardt, who hit .376 in the Western League last year, clicked out two homers. Chick Ellsworth, with Seattle last year, also was hitting some long flies to the highway.

SEALS SIGN UP WALTER SCHMIDT

MONTEREY, Feb. 20. (AP)—The San Francisco baseball club today signed up Walter Schmidt, veteran catcher, and thereby eliminated one of the pressing problems of the training season. With Schmidt in the fold, things look bad for Joe Spring, first-string receiver, who is a holdout in his home town, St. Louis, Mo. The Seal officials have been seeking a catcher and intimated that if one was signed, Spring might be sold to another league.

Hollis Thurston, pitcher-first baseman; Elmer Jacobs, pitcher, and Dave Roderick, pitcher, all arrived in camp today. Thurston is a holdout but is expected to sign up tomorrow.

OAKS' LAST BOLDOUT SIGNED UP

BAKERSFIELD, Feb. 20. (AP)—The only holdout on the Oakland baseball roster—Pete Daglia, pitcher—signed up today. Field Manager Ivan Howard, in charge of training quarters here, received word of Daglia's signing from Del Howard, business manager.

Ivan was notified that Daglia and Joe Burns, catcher, will arrive before Saturday. Burns was purchased from Omaha of the Western League this season and comes with the reputation of being a fairly heavy sticker.

Three more pitchers checked in. They are Stanley Malikowski, Richie Labate and Al Adams. Labate is a right-hander from Denver, Western League, and Adams comes from the East Texas League.

YOUNGSTERS TO GET CHANCE

STOCKTON, Feb. 20. (AP)—Wade Killefer will start his young players against the Stockton State leaguers here next Sunday when they play their first practice game of the training season with Arthur McDougall, young San Francisco tennis star, who was taught baseball by Sandow Mertes, former giant outfielder, making his professional debut in the box for the Bells.

distance runners in a two-mile handicap race, winning in 9m. 20 6-10s. It took him four laps to catch the last of his opponents and from there on to the finish it was just a question of how big a lead he would accumulate. He was seventy-five yards in front at the finish and did not sprint.

Nurmi's performance in a one-and-a-half-mile event was similar to Wide's. Paavo carried his watch but his competition was not serious enough to cause him to consult it. He wasted no time in whittling down the handicap leads of a dozen entrants and finished about a quarter of a lap out in front. He even obliged the cheering crowd by putting on a mild sprint. His time was 6m. 55 4-10s.

Kit Carson in Win at Border

TIA JUANA RACE TRACK, Feb. 20.—Kit Carson, western sprinter, who surprised Sunday by finishing second to Nusakan in a six furlongs handicap, showed the way home to a band of potential stake contenders in the Patrocinio, feature of the afternoon program. Kit Carson won the six-furlong event by a neck over Henrietta Wildair, fast filly, with Grier of Spain getting the show. Time for the six furlongs was 1m. 11 4-5s., with such good ones as Old Dutch, Hydromel and Bridegroom finishing in the ruck. Hydromel, along with several of the others, is being raced into condition.

First race, three and one-half furlongs—Miss Ward, 108 (Mann) won; Malvoye, 115 (Martinez) second; Mac L. Rose, 109 (Richardson) third. Time, 0:42 2-5.
Second race, five and one-half furlongs—Green Spring, 114 (Wilson) won; Silent Lillian, 104 (Barrett) second; Common Denominator, 107 (Richardson) third. Time, 1:07.
Third race, six furlongs—Theo Fay, 116 (C. E. Allen) won; Kentucky Babe, 104 (Douglas) second; Virginia Beauty, 106 (Kern) third. Time, 1:22 4-5.
Fourth race, mile and one-sixteenth—Tr. Boss, 108 (Trivett) won; Little Vince, 109 (Hurlburt) second; Crowner, 109 (Morrison) third. Time, 1:49 2-5.
Fifth race, mile and one-sixteenth—Quick Return, 115 (Trimble) won; Serchader, 111 (Snider) second; Tin Soldier, 99 (Douglas) third. Time, 1:48.
Sixth race, six furlongs—Kit Carson, 109 (Dunlap) won; Henrietta Wildair, 105 (Jones) second; Grelr of Spain, 107 (Mann) third. Time, 1:11 4-5.
Seventh race, mile and 70 yards—Star Prince, 113 (Barrett) won; Semper Felix, 109 (C. E. Allen) second; Brilliosaur, 107 (Douglas) third. Time, 1:45.
Eighth race, one mile—Almgren, 111 (Trivett) won; Burkdale, 109 (Cunningre) second; Kingman, 109 (Jones) third. Time, 1:40 3-5.

Pyle Due Here to Plan Derby

C. C. Pyle, promoter of the famous bunion derby from here to New York last year, arrives in the city today to arrange details for the running of the second derby.

He is flying in from Dallas via the Texas and Pacific Airways, according to a telegram received yesterday, and is scheduled to arrive at 4:30 this afternoon. He will stop at the Biltmore.

In the East Pyle announced he would start his second derby from New York and end it in this city. The first event was a financial failure, but Pyle expects to stage the second under different arrangements.

OWENS MEETS NEGRO

STOCKTON, Feb. 20. (AP)—Ernie Owens and Vic Alexander, negro, a pair of Los Angeles heavyweights, will meet in the ten-round main event of Promoter "Ropes" Heineman's card here tomorrow night.

WILLIS AND WALKER IN GOOD FORM

Fighters Finish Training for San Francisco Fistic Melee Tomorrow

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20. (AP)—In slashing workouts today, Mickey Walker, middleweight champion, and Jack Willis, San Antonio newsboy, completed training for their ten-round nontitle bout here Washington's birthday. The pair finished up in great shape for the afternoon battle at the baseball park.

With one defeat of Willis already to his credit, Walker is a strong favorite to wallop the San Antonio slugger again. Although Willis put up a great fight at last year's meeting, the best most of the local critics can see for him is a draw.

Walker went through nine rounds today and Willis traveled half a dozen sessions.

Promoters Ancil Hoffman and Frank Schuler announced an advance sale of $17,000 today and predicted that by Friday morning, $25,000 advance money will have been paid in.

SAUER VICTOR IN MAT SCRAP

labeled for a fall from the effects of eight successive headlocks when Pete, although his head was full of cobwebs, gave the Texan some of his own punishment and started tossing Paul against the ropes. Jones was partly tossed through the ropes by Pete from one of the headlocks but Sauer rushed in before Referee McDonald could stop him, dragged the Texan by his heels back into the ring and jumped on him to end the bitter mat battle.

Sauer won the first fall in 44m. 27s., with a Japanese arm scissors, but Jones clamped on his famous cowboy hook scissors to take the second fall in 10m. 30s.

John Spellman, popular ex-grid star matman, won the special event from Dick Daviscourt, 220-pound villain from Nebraska, in 41 minutes, when the latter was disqualified for holding on to the ropes. Spellman had Daviscourt on the run most of the match.

Dick evidently thought he had won when he tossed Spellman outside the ropes and then jumped on his rival. Referee McDonald patted Daviscourt on the shoulder to signal his return inside the ropes and Dick evidently figured he'd been awarded a fall for he sauntered back into the ring leisurely with his back toward Spellman. Spellman hit Daviscourt with a resounding flying tackle and Dick shot clear across the ring and was holding to the ropes for dear life when disqualified.

In the opening event Y. Fujita, 165-pound Japanese jui-jitsu star, won from Felix Lopez, 205-pound Mexican grappler, in 7m. 20s., with an arm strangle hold. Lopez was no match for the tricky Japanese matman and on one occasion was tossed out into the laps of the spectators.

DARO GOES EAST TO SIGN SONNENBERG

also bats from the off side of the plate, formerly with the Boston Red Sox and Fort Worth, were hitting them far into right regularly.

No new arrivals were recorded in camp today, all the squad being on deck except those excused.

William (Red) Enos, and George Duffy, the two youngsters Lane has in camp as mascots, are finding the pace a little too hot. They have been trying to keep right up with the recruits and regulars but had to call a halt to their activities before practice was over today.

ROOSEVELT MERMEN CONQUER TROJANS

Horton was the leading light for the Trojans, with victories in the 440 and backstroke events. The results:

50-yard dash—Won by Galitzan (R.) Horton (F.) second, Canning (F.) third.
440-yard dash—Won by Horton (F.) Solomon (F.) second, Peall (R.) third.

RABBIT PUNCHES

By Paul Lowry

ANOTHER CHICAGO WAR

CHICAGO is about to have a taste of the boxing war that existed here a few years ago when the Olympic Auditorium and the Vernon Coliseum were fighting for major attractions.

Vernon swallowed up the Olympic and Jack Doyle moved in bag and baggage. There wasn't room for two big clubs.

Unless I miss my guess the same thing will happen in Chicago. The glamour of Paddy Harmon's new arena will swing the crowds temporarily, but if Paddy Mullen puts on just as good shows he will retain his following.

And both will be cutting each other's throats—if they haven't already started it.

Harmon expects to open with Mickey Walker and Tommy Loughran on March 13. Mullen has been granted a permit to stage a fight the night before—one featuring Tom Heeney and Otto Von Porat.

Mullen probably will ruin both shows with that arrangement.

And Harmon's expected $350,000 gate in an arena seating 25,000 probably will dwindle to half or less that amount.

Some local boxing men are inclined to scoff at that story about Loughran getting 55 per cent of the gross and paying Walker and the semi-wind-up performers out of his end. They believe it just a good press-agent story.

They figure Walker and Loughran will take about 60 per cent of the gate and split it. But Jim Mullen with that evening before show will govern the size of the gate. And that's no kid.

"CARNATION LOU" DEPARTS

LOU DARO, who generally makes the wrestlers come to him, will carry out the old saying about the mountain and Mohammet and hop a train headed for Chicago tonight.

The inspiration of "Carnation Lou's" jaunt is the new heavyweight wrestling champion, Gus "Dynamite" Sonnenberg, the ex-Dartmouth football hero.

"Carnation Lou" wants to use the mat king on his April 3 show, and he's hiking East to get the old John Henry on a contract.

On the way home Lou proposes to stop off at Memphis to see the old favorite Jimmy Londos, recently returned from Greece, wrestle a guy named Dusek on February 28.

Lou says Londos will appear at the Olympic the latter part of April—his first appearance here in nearly two years.

Londos recently wrestled in Athens before a crowd estimated at 70,000, but Lou believes Jimmy won't be annoyed by a mere turnout of 10,000 here.

Lou is returning home immediately after the Memphis joust.

A BATTLE OF CRIPPLES

SPEEDY DADO with a bad shoulder and Ernie Peters with a bum ankle put up a battle at the Olympic Tuesday night that will long be remembered as a epic of speed.

And watching Dado, the Filipino, with his dislocated shoulder, was Georgie Rivers, the little Mexican who fought Bud Taylor when the latter performed under similar distressing conditions several years ago.

Taylor threw his right shoulder out of socket in a fight with Rivers at Vernon before the ten-round law went into effect. It was one of the greatest bouts on record.

Taylor is on the wane, and Rivers is through as a fighter.

Little Georgie, a sweet bantamweight in his prime, hung up the gloves nearly two years ago.

A cataract formed on his right eye, and little Georgie said adieu to the ring game.

He was always a crowd pleaser, and gave Fidel La Barba some of his toughest fights when the former flyweight king was breaking into the professional ranks.

And after La Barba won the championship Rivers fought him in a title bout. It was a great battle, and the little Mexican scored a knockdown early in the fight, but was unable to withstand La Barba's closing barrage of left hooks.

LITTLE FELLOWS STAR

PETERS proved to be a great club fighter against Dado, and probably earned himself a bout with Blas Rodrigues at the Olympic March 5. Rodrigues is an eastern Mexican.

His stablemate, Earl Mastro, is lined up for a shot with Young Nationalista the following week.

And when Fidel La Barba comes marching home from the Antipodes Mastro expects to get another bout with the boy who licked him in his first full ten-round bout.

That will be another epic of little fellows.

SAN LUIS OBISPO BOYS OUT TO ANNEX OLYMPIC HONORS

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Feb. 20.—Boys of this county, under the leadership of Robert L. Bird, superintendent of schools, have no fears that the junior and senior national championships will leave Southern California in the national finals of the 1929 Junior Olympic Games, nor do they expect to have their county off the list of those boys who will visit the Hawaiian Islands as part of the honors which will go to the four boys winning the Southland meet in preparation for the big meet in Atlantic City. This is a junior Olympic county. In some sections of the county boys are busy training, while the schools generally are awaiting the final sectional plans which will be formulated at a general meeting of all the athletic directors in school work in San Luis Obispo county, which will be held Monday.

C. Russell Hoyt, supervisor of attendance and rural school superintendent; Charles M. Teach, superintendent of San Luis Obispo schools; George Agosti, athletic director of the California Polytechnic School, and Father Keenan, are acting as a general committee working in co-operation with business men in the San Luis Obispo section.

In Paso Robles, Mrs. O. M. Willett, rural school supervisor; J. A. Raitt, superintendent of Paso Robles city schools, and Charles Christiansen, director of physical education, are in charge of the Junior Olympic Games activities in their section. Keen competition within the county in the juvenile pentathlon is anticipated because of the fact that the meets center around two natural divisions—the San Luis Obispo side of the county and the Paso Robles section. While this sectional spirit of competition for county honors is high in the preliminary programs, there also are five high school districts around which revolves a special division of boys engaged in Junior Olympic Games athletics.

In various meetings with school executives, Boyd Comstock, director of the Junior Olympic Games, and John F. Ness, member of the Olympic Games executive committee, learned that the juvenile program last year in the county was one of the outstanding athletic events in years and every school official expressed a desire to again swing into action with an enlarged program for participation in the 1929 program.

championship at Santa Barbara with a $15,000 purse, and the Los Angeles open, which is expected to carry a prize of $15,000.

Wrigley, however, is just starting as a sponsor of championship golf tournaments. It is his plan to make the Catalina open a bigger and better tournament each year with the ultimate idea of making the island event Southern California's major midwinter tourney. Wrigley put up $40,000 for the Catalina swim, and a golf purse of the same size can be expected in the future.

William P. (Billy) Bell, one of the Southland's foremost golf course architects, will build the second nine under the direction of D. M. Renton. Work will begin immediately.

The Catalina open, coming as it does immediately following the national professional golfers' championship, will draw one of the outstanding fields in history. Besides those who competed last December including Walter Hagen, Horton Smith, Henry Ciuci, Billy Burke and other noted stars, Gene Sarazen, Johnny Farrell and Leo Diegel have signified their intention of playing this year.

MERCURY FIVE MEETS COAST CLUB FRIDAY

With the Big Six A.A.U. basketball title safely tucked away, the L.A.A.C. Mercuries play their final league game tomorrow night against the Pacific Coast Club quintet at Long Beach.

Due to their 38-to-32 victory over Hollywood A.C., the Mercuries will be the 1929 Big Six champions regardless of the outcome tomorrow. The Long Beach cagers have dropped three games, while the downtown club has been beaten but once and has captured ten league contests.

Next week the Mercuries start their three-game series with the Elks' Club quintet for the Southern California championship. The Elks have cinched the title in the double-A division, having won twenty-three straight games.

How to Hit Golf Ball

DON'T GET THE IDEA THAT PLAYING BALL ON DOWNSWING IS DONE LIKE THIS ARC OF SWING
BALL

BY SOL METZGER

Arthur Goss, pro at the Everglades Club, Palm Beach, was just telling me of a quite portly gentleman, newly endowed with wealth, who decided on a life of leisure on coming into his good fortune, but made the mistake of wrestling with golf. Arthur got him working on his mashie, after a session or so at putting, and spent most of a week explaining what he meant when, in the first lesson, he had told him to hit the ball on the downswing.

Taking him at his word, this beginner not only managed to hit the ball smack into the turf, but accomplished this feat by striking it with the upper edge of the blade. So many misinterpret this point of hitting the pitch down that I again want to take opportunity of presenting what is meant in another way. You may have the idea that to hit the ball on the downswing you have to swing through such an arc as is sketched in the upper panel of the drawing. But you are wrong. Golf balls will not make distance through soil.

But you can hit one down if you take your club back low and slowly and play the ball for a pitch from a point an inch or so back of where the lowest arc of your swing is to come. Don't forget the loft of your club in this shot. You do hit down but it's a forward down, not a direct down, and the loft on your iron lifts the ball up into space. Tomorrow — another point about mashie play.

SHERIDAN FAVORITE IN BOUT

Picked to Defeat Champion in Main Event Tonight in Hollywood Arena

Homer Sheridan, dashing young ring at the Hollywood Legion Stadium tonight, is a slight favorite over Jack Delaney, still there is a wagging tongue or two of Cliff spilling the beans and stopping the decision.

The winner of the Sheridan fight is a natural for Delaney, Collins and the latter have cooked up for the middleweight championship of the Pacific Coast. Cliff and Jack are both knockers and the match will determine any claim either fighter a whisper to a shout.

Backing up the main event is a set of preliminaries that should prove entertaining. Sheridan is the outstanding lightweight among a crop of them. His record for a year has been nothing but one win after another, he has beaten some of the best fighters in his class, and is giving away a few pounds to Ray Rhodes to fight Red Reynolds to a draw in the fight each thinks he will be the winner.

A slugging match should be the outcome of the Sheridan-Rhodes affair. Chief Robbins, light heavy, looked good in the first fight he has started at Hollywood Stadium, his record was good enough for Tom Gallery to sign him.

SHERIDAN FAVORITE IN BOUT

Picked to Defeat Gill in Main Event Tomorrow in Hollywood Arena

Homer Sheridan should enter the ring at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium tomorrow night a slight favorite over Eddie Gill, still there is a mighty good chance of Gill spilling the beans and upping the decision.

The winner of the Gill-Sheridan fight is a natural with Ted Colfma and that bout will be cooked up for the middleweight championship of the Pacific Coast. Gill and Sheridan are sockers and the main event will terminate any time with either fighter a winner by a knockout.

Backing up the main event is a set of preliminaries that promise entertaining. Jackie Mandell is the outstanding lightweight among a crop of youngsters. His record for a year has been nothing but one win after another and he has beaten some of the best fighters in his class. Mandell is giving away a few pounds in order to fight Red Humphries, but at that the fight men think that Mandell will be the winner.

A slugging match should be the outcome of the Herman Brown-Chief Robbins fight. Brunder has looked good in the few times he has started at Hollywood and, with Robbins has never fought at the stadium, his record was good enough for Tom Gallery to sign him.

GREENTREE POLOISTS WIN FROM MIDWICK QUARTET

BY FRANK ROCHE

Greentree colors, famous wherever American thoroughbreds are raced, topped everything else yesterday at the Midwick Country Club polo field. Jock Whitney, son of the late Payne and nephew of the illustrious Harry Payne Whitney, a famous American polo ace a decade or so ago, led his Greentree riders to an easy victory over a Midwick Country Club four captained by Eric Pedley, by a 15-to-10 score. The game, which was second on the Midwick club's high-goal schedule, was a walkaway for the Greentrees from the opening throw-in.

ELMER BOESEKE

The Greentree riders with Whitney, and three British stars in the saddle, Capts. Forrester, Walford and Roark, were allowed a four-goal handicap by the Midwick team at the start of the game, but the Whitney horsemen showed that they needed little if any help by the way they trounced the local poloists.

Young Whitney showed the way by scoring the first goal of the game shortly after the first throw-in, and from that time on the game was simply a jaunt for the Greentrees. The Midwick team, with Spalding, Boeseke, Pedley and Miller in the saddle, seemed to be sadly outmounted at every stage of the game.

On the other hand, Whitney and his team-mates, Forrester, Walford and Roark, pranced around the field on steeds that galloped as fast as a ninety-mile gale. At half time the Greentree riders led by an 8-to-5 margin.

Whitney was exceptionally good. In the sixth period he scored six goals with a mallet that seemed to be real hot. Aiden Roark was the bright star of the Greentree team, however, during most of the game.

Roark, a brother of the famous Pat Roark, seems destined to be one of the world's greatest polo players. He plays again on Sunday with Tommy Hitchcock, so, folks, just watch him. Yesterday Roark scored two goals, but he was responsible for a number of others tallied by the Greentrees. Roark took what looked like a bad tumble in the fourth chukker, but he remounted and continued the game. Walford hit the turf in the third chukker, but he was unhurt.

The Midwick team was badly outmounted yesterday. Pedley was far from his usual form. Eric used four new ponies and they were too green to be any good. Long Elmer Boeseke played a good game, but he was not able to turn the tide. Teddy Miller at back was good, but he could not keep up with the Greentree mounts. Spalding, a low-goal player, was the high-point man for Midwick, scoring five goals. Whitney enjoyed the honor with Walford for the winning team.

Midwick made a rally in the eighth chukker, but it was too late to be of any use. Boeseke and Pedley scored just before the game ended.

The line-ups:

| Midwick | Pos. | Greentrees |
|---|---|---|
| Whitney, 4 | No. 1 | Spalding, 4 |
| Forrester, 1 | No. 2 | Boeseke, 4 |
| Walford, 4 | No. 3 | Pedley, 2 |
| Roark, 2 | Back | Miller |

Handicap, 4.

WRIGLEY DEFIES COAST LEAGUE

year, paying the league and the visiting clubs a percentage of the admission. Early in the season Lane balked at paying for the ladies admitted free when Hollywood was the home club and caused the break between him and Wrigley.

(4.) Following the Coast League's annual meeting at Hollywood last month the Wrigley faction took advantage of the fact that the Portland resolution was not made an amendment to the constitution and exploded a bomb shell by announcing that ladies would again be admitted free to all Angel games at Wrigley Field and that the visiting clubs would not be given their cuts.

(5.) To somewhat allay the financial sting of this statement, Wrigley also announced that as far as he was concerned the visiting clubs could charge the ladies at their home games and would not have to give the Angels their customary 40 per cent cut for the fair fans in the park.

(6.) Just recently Tom Turner dug up something out of the league constitution that he figures proves that any resolution passed by a majority at a league meeting automatically becomes an amendment. Turner and Klepper have asked President Harry Williams to make a ruling on their side of the question.

(7.) Williams was over at Catalina Island yesterday as Wrigley's guest but last night announced that he is not ready to make a decision on the matter just at present.

(8.) However, Wrigley claims that he doesn't care what anybody's decision on the case is; the Angels are going to let ladies in free at Wrigley Field and if the visiting club owners believe they have a cut coming they can "try and get it."

And so that's the "ladies free" problem all summed up in chronological order just as it stands today. Prexy Williams is expected to make a ruling on the matter in a couple of days and that may or may not change the situation. Wrigley says he's going to stand pat, and when Wrigley says he's going to stand pat you can generally lay a safe bet that he will stand pat.

form, Stribling recaptured the interest of the beach today with his first workout since Sunday. He boxed two rounds with Paul Cavalier, Paterson (N. J.) heavyweight, who landed frequently on the Georgian's chin. Stribling showed better form in a two-round drill with Martin Burke, lanky New Orleans heavyweight who helped condition Dempsey for several title matches.

Sharkey is in splendid form. After an eight-round workout the Boston sailor scaled 189 pounds, the lowest figure he has reached since the night he trounced Harry Wills three years ago.

Sharkey boxed the usual four rounds with his sparring partners but started the tapering-off process by limiting his exercises to four rounds. He punched cleanly and effectively, practiced left hooks and right uppercuts. He hardly puffed at the close.

Emanuel's Dad Off for North

Charles Emanuel, father manager of Armand Emanuel, the Jewish heavyweight, left last night for San Francisco. He will take in the Walker-Willis bout tomorrow afternoon and also talk to Promoter Ancil Hoffman about future matches for Armand.

Before leaving Emanuel senior said nothing further had been done about the proposed Uzcudun-Emanuel bout here in April—that he would not back down in his demands and that Promoter Jack Doyle had refused to raise the ante.

Doyle and his matchmaker, Hayden Wadhams, insist there is a strong likelihood of Uzcudun again meeting George Godfrey in spite of the fact the Basque has turned down similar offers in the East.

HOLLYWOOD PUCKS WILL MAKE LAST STAND AGAINST OILERS

Mel Malwick's fast-falling Hollywood Millionaires will make what may be their last stand for first place tonight at the Winter Garden Ice Palace, when they oppose their foremost rivals, the Los Angeles Richfields, in the most important game of the schedule. The Oilers trounced the Millionaires decisively last Monday night by a score of 4-2, and they will be out to move up another few points at the expense of the league leaders.

With just twelve games left to be played in the west coast circuit, and only 7 points separating the first club from the last, anything can happen. Should the Oilers win again tonight, and San Francisco defeat Oakland, the race will be as tight as a Scotch picnic.

Mel Malwick, Hollywood owner, expects Vadis Lindsay, the newcomer he purchased from Reginia, to show up better tonight. Hollywood, however, is not getting the breaks, and injuries to several players have thinned the ranks to an alarming extent. With Capt. Brandow back in good shape and Lindsay ready, the Millionaires will look better tonight.

AMATEUR HOCKEYITES TO GET CANADIAN TEAM

With a post-season series with the Vancouver Monarchs or some other representative team from Western Canada as a prize, the Clan Scot puck chasers and the Union Oil ice hockey crew are expected to enact a thriller at the Palais De Glace rink tonight.

Henry Siemer, head of the local league, has announced that he is dickering with strong teams in Western Canada. The ice hockey financier wants to bring a squad here to meet the winner of the local season. The title of Western North America champions will be at stake in such a meeting.

OLNEY IN HANDBALL TRIUMPH

Veteran L.A.A.C. Player in Semifinal Round of Junior National Tourney

Fred Olney, veteran L.A.A.C. handball player, reached the semifinals of the junior national four-wall championships at the Mercury Club yesterday, when he eliminated Art Sterns, Y.M.C.A. champion, in a bitterly fought three-set match.

Olney won by scores of 21-15, 4-21 and 21-20, coming from behind to win the deciding game after Sterns was enjoying a 20-to-15 point lead. Olney ran up the score to 20-20 on several ace serves and when Sterns failed on his final attempt the Mercury star cinched the match with a well-placed service shot.

Today Olney is scheduled to meet Richard Goold, Elks' Club, in a semifinal match. The former is favored to win and advance into the finals, where he is expected to meet Joe Powers, another L.A.A.C. ace, for the title. Powers meets William Cohen, San Diego Rowing Club, today, in a quarter-finals match. J. C. Burke and Lloyd McGinnis, both of the Pacific Coast Club, play the remaining quarter-final today.

Harry Le Goube and Joe Powers advanced into the finals of the doubles play yesterday by trimming Harold Reed and C. Lincoln, another Mercury pair, 21-17, 21-14.

BRONCOS BEAT ST. MARY'S

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20. (AP)—The University of Santa Clara basketball team trounced the St. Mary's five here tonight, 37 to 22.

WATTS STARTS WORK FOR GO WITH HESS AT OLYMPIC

Jimmy Watts, star featherweight of the South and claimant of the Dixie title, opened training yesterday at the Manhattan gymnasium. He is a clean-cut-looking youngster with a record of sixty-two straight victories back of him. He is a combination boxer and puncher. He has scored around thirty kayoes.

Watts boxes Goldie Hess on the all-star card at the Olympic next Tuesday night which features thirty-eight rounds of boxing. There will be two other ten-rounders.

Baby Sal Soria, the great-hitting Mexican from San Bernardino, comes back for a rematch with Mike Watters. Sal knocked out Joe Manellias two weeks ago at Jack Doyle's club in three rounds. It was his fifth straight kayo.

The other ten brings together Huerto Evans and Delos "Kid" Williams. Evans always gives a good account of himself and Williams finished only a step behind Kid Francis recently.

Sal will do all his training for the Watters bout in the San Bernardino orange groves. The Mexican is doing from five to six miles' road work a day and is in great shape.

Kennedy Meets Miller Tonight

Hymie Miller and Don Kennedy, two former amateur champions, each of whom hopes to emulate Fidel LaBarba by becoming a professional title-holder, will meet tonight at the Pasadena Arena in the greatest natural ever booked at that club.

The careers of Miller and La Barba are singularly alike. Each started at L.A.A.C., of which Kennedy is also a graduate. Both Miller and La Barba advanced to win the American flyweight championship of amateurs and went to the Olympic Games, four years apart.

The rest of tonight's card will consist of the following four-round bouts:

Kid Egan vs. Johnny Ramirez, 135 pounds; Leonard Bennett vs. Jesse Ayal, 135 pounds; Young Terry vs. Lester Ostrum, 130 pounds; Kid Frazier vs. Gerrie Lopez, 125 pounds; Harry Fear vs. Joe Para, 158 pounds.

Loughran Wins Lohman Battle

TULSA (Okla.) Feb. 20. (AP)—Tommy Loughran, light-heavyweight champion of the world, decisively outpointed Joe Lohman, Toledo (O.) veteran, in a ten-round bout here tonight.

Lohman received a neat boxing lesson from the champion, whose tantalizing left beat a tattoo all over the Toledoan's face. Occasionally Loughran crossed or uppercut with his right. Neither was ever in distress.

Lohman's best showing against the perfect boxing of Loughran came in the fifth and seventh rounds, when he backed the champion into a corner and they exchanged blows to the delight of the fans. Even in these skirmishes, however, Loughran emerged without being hit much except on the gloves, shoulders and arms. His blocking was superb.

BOYS' AIR CLASS LIST CLOSES

New Pupils Will Enroll on Saturday

"Sorry, Lady, No Girls Allowed"

Nancy Coffman, 6627 West Sixth street, without avail tries to persuade Capt. Wilfred G. Threader to accept her enrollment in the second Los Angeles Times National Aviation School for Boys, which opens Saturday morning. Nancy won the airplane building contest over all boys at Carthay (A6 grade) School, recently.

WITH eligibility for admission ending at midnight last night officials of the National Automotive and Electrical School today will close the membership lists of the second class of the Los Angeles Times-National Aviation School for Boys, and turn their attention to the reception of the new pupils at the formal exercises to be conducted on Saturday morning.

The enrollment will take place promptly at 8:30 a.m. in the auditorium of the school at Santa Barbara and South Figueroa streets.

Saturday morning's event, it was pointed out by officials yesterday, must not be confused with the Model Air Meet to be held at Exposition Park in the afternoon under the auspices of the Los Angeles playground department. It is but a coincidence that this has been scheduled for the same day and in such close proximity to the school.

The course to be followed by the boys of the new class will, like that of the first class, which graduated more than a thousand students last month, cover a period of four months, the classes assembling on Saturday mornings. It begins with the study of the theory of flight and culminates in the practical construction of scale models of all types of heavier-than-air planes.

SHOW-UP IN JAIL OPENS PRISON GATE

Man Held in Liquor Case Recognized as Convict Paroled from Folsom

A few hours in the County Jail on a charge of possessing less than a pint of liquor yesterday proved equivalent to a penitentiary sentence for Edward A. Lane, 30 years of age, according to Frank Dewar, captain of the Sheriff's robbery investigation detail.

Records reveal that Lane was placed in jail on the liquor charge by detectives under Capt. Clyde Plummer of the District Attorney's prohibition enforcement detail. The next morning, however, during the "show-up" of prisoners arrested during the previous twenty-four hours, Capt. Dewar recognized Lane as a man wanted for violation of his parole from Folsom Prison.

Dewar charges that Lane since being paroled left California and was later arrested in Kansas on a charge of auto theft.

'GREAT CHICKOLA' PUPIL CUTS UP

Hypnotic Subject Tries to End Life and Officers Later Find His Boss Lives at House of "Plot," so They Finally Seize Morbid Young Man

It will be some time before the police of the Georgia-street station forget two addresses on West Twenty-first street—Nos. 340 and 506. Answering a call to the latter Tuesday evening, they found that Robert McGuff, 25 years of age, a tenant there, had attempted to end his life by slashing his wrists and swallowing poison. He told officers he had been acting as a hypnotic subject for "The Great Chickola," but that work had been scarce lately and he was despondent. He was treated at the hospital and sent home.

At 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning, two officers of Huntington Park station were accosted by R. K. Hill of 340 West Twenty-first street, who declared he and his wife had heard strange noises and the voices of men plotting to rob them. The officers accompanied Hill to the Georgia-street station and from there to his home, which he owns and conducts as a rooming house. There it developed that "The Great Chickola" was one of the tenants. Hill and his wife were comforted and the incident was forgotten.

But yesterday afternoon neighbors complained that McGuff was creating a disturbance at the other Twenty-first-street address; so the officers returned and bundled him off to the psychopathic ward for observation. Then they went back to 506, to ask "The Great Chickola" what he knew, if anything, about his erstwhile subject. But "The Great Chickola," they learned, had gone and all they were able to ascertain about him from the Hills was that he caused his subjects to entertain side-walk crowds by rubbing clothes on a washboard.

Man Accused of Swindle on Relatives of Dead to Face Federal Court

Edward A. Tucker, 23 years of age, who gave the address of 5401 Tenth avenue, was in the County Jail last night, having been arraigned yesterday before United States Commissioner Head on a charge of using the mails to defraud.

Federal agents stated that Tucker had sent packages of incense to relatives of persons lately deceased, charging a fee of $10. In other instances shipment was made in the names of dead persons on the ground that the incense had been ordered by them.

Tucker was arrested by local police when he is said to have tried to force entrance to the home of Mrs. Cecelia Young at 900 East Twelfth street. His bail was fixed at $3500 and his hearing set for the 27th inst.

Twelve airplanes from America have been placed in service in Mexico this year.

CORDISH AND FLEMING IN COURT PLEA

Auto Finance Officials Deny Guilt of Forgeries; Trial Date Set Monday

Nat Cordish and E. K. Fleming, former officials of Mutual Motors, Inc., accused of forging and selling automobile-purchase contracts, appeared before Superior Judge Shaw and pleaded "Not guilty, not guilty by reason of being once in jeopardy and not guilty by reason of a former acquittal."

Judge Shaw heard the pleas and then fixed Monday, next, as the time for determining the date of the defendants' trial.

The court also has under submission the question of whether he shall cite M. G. Phillips, attorney for Fleming, for contempt of court because of a letter he wrote the grand jury after an indictment was returned against his client.

In the order to show cause and the accompanying affidavit, Phillips is accused of charging the grand jury with refusing to investigate evidence purporting to show that Cordish was the victim of an attempted extortion plot framed by complaining witnesses.

OFFICIALS CONFER IN DRUG CASE

Federal Investigator and McNabb Take Up Matter of Miss Alma Rubens

On the arrival here yesterday of Harry V. Williamson, agent in charge of Federal narcotic investigations for California and Nevada, a conference was held by him and U.S. Atty. McNabb regarding various aspects of the case of Alma Rubens, film actress, who is reported to be suffering from the use of narcotic drugs.

What action will be taken regarding Dr. I. Jesse Citron, Hollywood physician, who is said to have supplied the actress with drugs, was not determined yesterday, it was stated by Mr. McNabb. It was intimated that so far nothing has developed of a nature which would indicate that Dr. Citron had committed any more than a possible technical violation of regulations of the Treasury Department, under the provisions of the Harrison Narcotic Act.

Mr. Williamson said that in many cases where the government accepted offers in compromise and where there were actual criminal convictions in the Federal courts the State Board of Medical Examiners did not revoke the physician's license. He said he and Mr. McNabb are investigating the Rubens case and that when the inquiry is completed he will return to his office in San Francisco.

Miss Rubens is a patient at a near-by sanatorium, reported to be waging a winning fight back to health. It was said at her Hollywood home yesterday that her condition continually grows better and that she is not in danger.

Oil Promoter's Charge Dropped

Grand-theft charges against Herman Fisher, Los Angeles oil and apartment-house financier, whose enterprise led to a $2,500,000 bankruptcy proceeding in 1921, were ordered dismissed yesterday by Municipal Judge Valentine. The court ruled that the evidence presented by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Stohlman was not sufficient to uphold the criminal charges and that the proper remedy is a civil suit.

Fisher was charged specifically with obtaining $5000 from Ben O. Holt, 903 South Spring street, in an oil promotion scheme. He recently was arrested in San Francisco on a warrant issued here on October 15, 1928, following filing of the charge, which was dismissed yesterday.

COUNCIL APPROVES MAPS

So Easy to Fight Fat
In this right way

It is hard and harmful to fight fat by starvation and over-work. It is easy when you use the modern, scientific way.

Some years ago medical research discovered a great cause of excess fat. It lies in a gland which largely controls nutrition. When that gland is under-active too much food goes to fat.

Thousands of experiments were made on test animals. The fat disappeared, new vigor and health appeared. That was the start of a new treatment for obesity, now used by physicians the world over.

Marmola prescription tablets are based on the chief factor employed. On a gland factor. The formula appears in every box, also the scientific reasons for results. The method is the same a modern physicians employ. There is no secrecy.

Marmola was perfected by a famous medical laboratory, under experts in gland treatments. People have used it for 21 years—millions of boxes of it. The results are now seen in every circle. Slender figures are the rule, and excess fat is rare.

If you find that excess fat—anywhere—is a blight to your beauty, animation and charm, end it now. Do what the multitudes for 21 years have been doing. They end the cause. Get one box of Marmola, watch the results, and let those results decide. You will be amazed and delighted. Just take four tablets daily until weight comes down to normal, then note the different being that you are. Start now!

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 a box. Any druggist who is out will order from his jobber.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Electric Flashes

Never turn off or on an electric light when standing in the bathtub.

Always be certain the hands are dry before touching electrical apparatus.

Don't try to fix electrical connections unless you know what you are doing.

For your own convenience have someone who knows teach you how to put in a new fuse. Then should one burn out at an awkward time you are not compelled to wait in darkness until the electrician arrives.

A "Shower" Gift

An unusual and practical "shower" gift for the bride to be is a package of four or six dust cloths, each made out of a different shade of cheesecloth and edged with a corresponding shade of soft yarn. The rainbow dusters are tied together with a bow of ribbon.

Protects the Clothes

Never remove clean clothes from the tubs and place them in a basket unless the basket is lined with a cloth to protect the clothes from soil. A piece of white oilcloth saved for this purpose proves an excellent protection.

dresses, in ways most singular. Used as accent for a charming afternoon frock of crepe roma, an exaggerated rose was compounded from the material of the dress, but that material turned wrong side out. Thus, the effect was of a differing fabric, yet matching in tone that of the garment—singularly harmonious.

The Wrong Side

That the wrong side is right, a couturial paradox, is put to voguish test in many of the new wraps and dresses. With so many weaves in crepe, the decided variance in surfaces, has been seized upon by couturial experts to bring about effects. Bands onset to coats and frocks, while serving as contrasting trimming, still are sure to match exactly in coloring, thus consummating the wish for in-obvious trims or insets. Such use of fabrics while not exactly new, is new in application, since expert makers find new ways, each season, of utilizing a past-season's modes which still prevail.

Pyjamas and

The full-trousered pyjamas—I spell them with a "y" when they are ornate or unusual—for boudoir lounging, have chosen as co-partners the long mandarin coats extending to the knee or below. These coats need not match the trousers which they dominate, either in color or design, but may be quite flaunting if the trousers are plain in color.

Of course, we also have seen in the stores, if not upon the shores, those exaggerated pyjama suits, disporting trousers as full as fullest of dance skirts and gathered upon a long pointed hip-yoke. Tops to wear with these partake the character more of evening gowns than beach attire—this in deference, of course, to the sunburn mode. For at last we have come to appreciate the aboriginal's healthful choice of nakedness in order that the sunbeams may have full swing. Hence the nude, or near-nude, when we woo Old Sol.

New Gloves

Gloves, in competition with the sun-tan mode, leave no stone unturned to court feminine favor. From the plainly stitched and neatly tailored slip-on, of suede or suede-like fabric, to those elaborated in embroidery of cuffs and back, there is variety as wide as the occasions for which they are designed. Gem-like settings upon the back and cuff; cross-stitch or peasant handwork; lace insets; and highest of novelties, those with "shoe-lacing" as ornamentation along the back, where we expect usually to see heavy stitchery: These are among some of the attractive ways of the new season's gloves.

Neckwear

With the tendency toward the so-called "feminine" in couture, as distinguished from the long popular "boyish"ness, lace decked and frilly neckwear, comes into prominence. Summer nearly always calls for crispness in collaring and cuffs; and the present season is no exception. From the rounded, youthful collar of linen or cotton, with its attendant matching cuffs, usually worn with sportish frocks or sweater suits, to the more sumptuous lace edged and more elaborated shaped vestee, collar and cuff sets, there is a wide choice. Some of the newer ensembles show filmy collars attached to the underblouse, the cuffs quite broad and flaring, to be pulled outside the accompanying jacket.

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

By Dr Frank McCoy
author of "The First Way to Reducing"

Dr. McCoy will answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him, care of The Los Angeles Times. Inclose stamped addressed envelope for reply.

SICKNESS AND GREATNESS

It is an undisputed fact that good health does not always go along with "greatness." Many men whose names are written high in the hall of fame have succeeded in spite of physical disorders and infirmities.

Washington, whose birthday Americans observe tomorrow, probably suffered as much from illness as any other great man of history. Although he was over six feet tall and in some ways a sturdy looking man, he was really flat chested and subject to catching colds. It was one of these colds that brought about his death in his sixty-seventh year. He had formerly barely escaped the fate of his half-brother who finally died of tuberculosis.

Washington's face was pitted all through his life because of an early case of smallpox. Early in life he lost most of his teeth, and frequently suffered from ulcerated teeth. He became partly deaf, and his eyesight was quite bad in his latter years. His duties as a soldier were often interrupted by bad spells of dysentery. Some of these attacks lasted several weeks, coming close to being fatal. He suffered from carbuncles, malaria, and took many trips to mineral springs, being often forced to stay for several weeks at a time.

Washington must be remembered for his indomitable courage, his honesty, and for his sensible judgment in all matters pertaining to the organization and success of the new republic. Like many other great men, he probably ate, smoked and drank what he liked, and consequently suffered from disorders which came from injudicious living.

Health cannot be considered to be accidental, in spite of the fact that some are able to abuse themselves through bad habits without noticing the disastrous results as soon as others who are perhaps born with less natural organic strength.

We are all so apt to ape our superiors or those whom we admire, and great caution must be used or we are liable to copy the great ones' bad habits as well as their good ones.

It is well to study the reasons why a successful man has accomplished good works, but also best to remember that his success has been because of good practices and not because of the harmful ones.

We must take our lessons for good from a combination of the study of the lives of many. We can learn good business rules from the man of wealth, but we can also learn from the soldier, the scientist, the inventor, the artist, the physician, the lawyer and, if we wish for physical perfection, we can surely learn from the man who has achieved perfect physical perfection through such means as are found in the proper application of correct eating and physical culture exercising.

All of the mental faculties must improve in the one who has built a healthy physical body but your lessons about health building will be more valuable to you if they come from a study of the lives of healthy men, or from the teachings of physicians, dietitians, and physical culturists who have made the study of health their life work.

I have, so far, not seen the man who is perfect mentally and physically, but when I do, I know he will be one who has learned his lessons from the study of the lives and teachings of many types of successful men.

TREATMENT OF THE ... MUST BE CONSISTENT

The chief flaw in any ... child management is the ... flict which often rages between mother and father, or between two generations that represent parents and the grandparents. The mother with all her new ideas of child training and child development is sometimes a loser when the forces of grandparents and mother arrayed against her. If father is a pacifist, father is for giving the kid a good thrashing," and all for looking upon him as an individual who has his rights to be respected, and grandparents feel that the only necessary thing is to mind when spoken to.

There isn't a child living who doesn't sense this conflict, no matter how carefully one tries to hide it. And where is the child who will not take advantage of it? Knowing mother does not believe in spanking, Johnny goes his own merry way when she is in command. Sally, knowing that father is a soft where she is concerned, plays upon him when mother refuses misdeeds of the day. Children are great gamblers. If there is a chance that they will escape punishment with one or the other parent, they will take that chance.

No matter what type of treatment is to rule in the home, it must be consistent. If there are to be spankings, there should be, and Sally and Johnny should understand that and not that father thinks he shouldn't have to, and father thinks he should. Mother and small boy knew what is to be punished of him or what to expect misbehavior and good behavior if the two parents rule by judgment he must trust himself to clear ideas themselves on the subject? A child has to feel security in his punishments. He must know a thing is bad today and it will be tomorrow, and always the same rebuke. Only one result can be said of the spanking child—he is consistent.

All of which may lead my readers to feel that I am not consistent in that I say spankings are bad, but I am still a consistent parent, but I have passed through psychological experiences and knew them both in theory and practice, for I have seen mothers are just about to spank without ever having carried out, in practice, any of the conflict with fathers and grandparents and uncles and aunts bound tightly in all the old traditional ideas about spanking and domination of children. If the child has the courage of her convictions they will respect them. If she bubbles this way today and that tomorrow, they will ridicule her as will the children. But be consistent. Sit down and talk problems and help them to see the lying point. No one can tell where by listening first to one point and stick to it. Then a choice and decision will be consistent and you can expect the best results.

DEL MAIZ
The New Sweet Corn

Del Maiz Luncheon

As growers and packers of the finest brands of sweet corn, years ago we sensed there was a strong public demand for a better table corn than we or any other packer had yet produced. With the old varieties, packing methods could go no farther. We believed only Nature, with the aid of our seed experts, could produce the desired result.

It took us 12 years of expert culturing to perfect this necessary new seed. But now you can enjoy in DEL MAIZ that delectable fresh corn flavor you have always wished for, and big tender kernels in a rich cream, containing no unpleasant tough particles—the specially bred, tall DEL MAIZ kernel permitting a deeper, cleaner cut without including portions of the cob.

If you could see how DEL MAIZ is grown, cultivated and packed—so different from other corn—you would understand why it is so exceptionally tender, why it is so uniform in quality. Every stalk of it is grown under the direct supervision of our experts, and every cob is washed in running water and inspected. Tests are made of every batch. The uniformity of its consistency and its delicacy of flavor are unique because of the improved processes we employ.

MARKET ORATORS IN TILT

Plea to Open Los Feliz Boulevard for Business at Planning Board Hearing Cheered and Booed

Following a hearing that was punctuated with alternating outbursts of applause and condemnation, the City Planning Commission yesterday took under advisement the application of Benjamin L. Frank for a special permit to construct and operate a drive-in market on Los Feliz Boulevard and Lowry Drive.

Men and women, speaking both as individuals and as representatives of organizations, discussed the question, some in support of the application and some in opposition to it. Frequently the president of the commission was forced to pound his gavel for order as one side or the other gave vent to their approval or disapproval.

PLEA FOR MARKET

Mr. Frank was heard first, stating his purposes to open the market as being largely because he felt the boulevard needed business development in that section and property owners on the street could not build apartments unless business houses are convenient. His remarks were supported by a number of property owners on the street. They asked why people not owning property on the boulevard should object to what those on the boulevard did with their property. The boulevard was being held back, they thought, because of lack of business development.

WOOLEY OBJECTS

Speaking in behalf of the Los Feliz Improvement Association, Roland R. Wooley, pointed out objections of a large number of property owners and residents of the district. He said that the district represented one of the most promising residential areas in the city; that while it might be true that a few property owners on the boulevard frontage might make a few dollars now on business enterprises, such a step only would be a blow to the entire district. It would be short-sighted, he said.

Some ambitious plans are afoot he said, to make Los Feliz Boulevard one of the show places of the West in the line of beautiful residential development, and that all of the property owners on the street would benefit far more in the long run by such a program of development than by the narrow "spotted" business development asked for.

DEMAND QUESTIONED

He pointed to the prior action of the city in rezoning against business on Los Feliz as definitely fixing the policy of the city, and that the Planning Commission should not upset such a policy "in order that someone might make a few paltry dollars." There were cries from the crowd that filled the room of "hot dog stands," "boulevard squatters," and the like. Wooley's talk was supported by many other speakers.

The probable need for a reclassification of the street was touched upon in some quarters, but the general expression was against rezoning for business. Secretary Bush of the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce said that his organization had concluded that there is not now and probably never will be a genuine demand for business on Los Feliz sufficient to make it a successful business street. Should such a move be made it could only result in an indifferent type of street, neither residential nor business, to the detriment of the entire district.

Veterans' Bill Up in Committee

Senate bill 1513, sponsored by Spanish War Veterans of the Regular Army, is before the House Military Committee, according to Representative Crail in a telegram received yesterday by Capt. Tony Siminoff, veteran, who resides at 259 Winston street.

The bill provides for compensation for members of the Regular Army in the Philippines at that time who were discharged and who did not re-enlist.

Capt. Siminoff estimates that about 5000 ex-regulars are eligible, and wishes all such men to communicate with him.

Bids on Wharf Lumber Opened by Port Board

Three bids on creosoted piling and two on creosoted lumber and ties for harbor wharves, the Santa Fe permanent connection with the municipal belt line and other construction were opened by the harbor board yesterday and referred to the general manager for analysis and a recommendation.

J. H. Baxter & Co. was low bidder on 34,376 lineal feet of piling at $26,469.52. The company's bid on 278,555 board feet of lumber and ties was $16,362.83.

The Charles R. McCormick Company bid lowest on the lumber and ties at $16,154.59. Its bid on the piling was $26,985.16.

The Texas Creosoting Company's bid was on creosoted yellow pine piling at $42,970.70.

The board authorized a department building permit for the construction of concrete abutments for a 100-foot steel-girder bridge for the Santa Fe permanent connection across Truck Boulevard. The abutments will cost $6500.

Application of the Hancock Oil Company to lay foundations and construct oil tanks costing $18,000 at its lease at Berth 215 was granted by the board. The Union Ice Company was granted permission to erect an insulated storage shed at the north end of the municipal fish market at a cost of $2500.

NEW CABLE SERVICE TO BRITAIN PLANNED

A new week-end letter-cable service will be put into effect by the Western Union Telegraph Company to Great Britain and Ireland, tomorrow, consisting of minimum 100-word cablegrams at 7 cents a word, the company announced yesterday. Messages will be accepted as late in the week as midnight Saturday for delivery at the opening of business Monday morning. The service supplements the present twenty-word week-end letter.

HUMOR OF YEAR BOOK DROPPED FOR HISTORY

Humor is not the collegiate thing this year on the campus of the University of California at Los Angeles, at least not in the 1929 edition of the Southern Campus, university year book. A dramatic history of the commercial development of Los Angeles and of the personalities involved in the founding of the city will replace the humor section, according to J. Brewer Avery, editor.

HARBOR DELEGATE ASKED

A request from Edward C. Eichelberger, secretary of the Ocean and Inland Harbor inspection tour planned in Europe, suggesting that the Harbor Commission send one representative from Los Angeles was referred to the Chamber of Commerce yesterday. The communication stated that American port and waterway leaders are planning the trip to inspect principal ocean and inland waterways of Europe, the price to each delegate for expenses of the trip being $1411.86.

GARBAGE EMBARGO KEPT

Complying with the request of the Chamber of Commerce, the Harbor Board yesterday extended the embargo on discharge of garbage from vessels at the harbor for another thirty days, pending action by the State Legislature. The embargo is aimed at spread of disease through garbage arriving indirectly or directly from foreign ports.

WIFE FREED FROM HER LATE HUSBAND

Mrs. Gladys P. Albain told Superior Judge Collier yesterday when asking for a divorce from Samuel F. Albain that one night when she planned a dinner party at their home for 6 p.m. her husband failed to come home until 8 p.m., and when he did he demanded that she prepare his dinner. When she remonstrated, Mrs. Albain declared, Albain called her names before their guests. The wife was given a decree and the custody of a minor child.

PROGRESS OF MEXICO CONFIRMED

Head of Espee Lines in Republic Brings Tale of West Coast Prosperity

Rapid advancement in agriculture and increased activity by mining interests in the western portion of Mexico has resulted in material progress during the past few months, according to H. B. Titcomb, president of the Southern Pacific lines in Mexico, who arrived here from Guadalajara yesterday.

As an indication of what the country's advancement has meant for the railroad, Mr. Titcomb asserted that instead of three passenger trains weekly the Southern Pacific now is operating six all-steel trains with Pullman service and making connections with the National Railways at Guadalajara for Mexico City each week day.

Fertile farm lands are being developed principally by American capital, the railway executive stated, and the west coast of Mexico is facing an era of remarkable prosperity and advancement.

Friendly relations now existing between Mexico and the United States have done much to instill confidence in American capital and it is being invested in the southern country in greater amounts than ever. It is being used for stable development rather than for selfish exploitation, he stated.

Mr. Titcomb will return to Mexico Friday after a series of business conferences.

Chicago Wants Sentenced Man

Sentenced for petty larceny here yesterday, Charles E. Van Allen of 432 North Virgil street was turned over to the Federal authorities to be taken to Chicago for trial on several charges.

Van Allen, alias Henry B. Rogers, was arrested in Judge Ballard's court where he had received a sentence of thirty days imprisonment. Detective Lieutenant Floyd of the postoffice detail arrested him on a fugitive warrant from the postal authorities at Chicago. They charge Van Allen with using the mails to defraud, with receiving registered mail not addressed to him, and with selling bonds stolen from the mails.

Broadcasts Tomorrow Will Have Patriotic Note

Hughes Slated for Talk Over KFI Via Network

Coast Will Not Get Coolidge Program Direct

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

Patriotic themes and tributes to George Washington will be woven in the skein of broadcast programs everywhere tomorrow.

KFI at 4:30 p.m. will have a network program on which Charles Evans Hughes will speak on "The Debt the Nation Owes George Washington." The point of origin will be in New York and Mr. Hughes will be introduced to the radio audience of Frederick William Wile, political analyst and newspaper writer.

PATRIOTIC ADDRESS

The California Society, Sons of the American Revolution, is to be responsible for the Washington's Birthday talk over KNX, during its 6 to 7 p.m. program.

The society has delegated the talk to Prof. Walter Sylvester Hertzog, director of the American historical research division of the Los Angeles city schools.

His voice already is well known to radio fans for his history chats over KHJ for several years when that station was owned by The Times.

NETWORK SPEECH

Another broadcast of interest tomorrow will be that of the exercises at George Washington University, Washington, when President and Mrs. Coolidge will be granted honorary degrees as doctors of law. The midwinter convocation will be presided over by the institution's president, Dr. Cloyd Heck Marvin, graduate of U.S.C., Stanford and Harvard.

This probably will be the last broadcast of Mr. Coolidge as President of the United States. However, it will not come directly to the West Coast. The nearest point will be KOA, Denver. The time is 5:15 p.m., Pacific time.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE TALKS

Christian Science lectures, free to the public, will be delivered by Mrs. Nelvia E. Ritchie, C.S.B., of Sewickley, Pa., as follows: Thursday, the 21st inst., at 8 p.m., in Ninth Church of Christ, Scientist, 433 South Normandie avenue; Friday, the 22nd inst., at 8 p.m., in Sixth Church of Christ, Scientist, 4200 South Flower street. # TIRE MAKER LAUDS CITY FOR GROWTH

Eight Years of Progress Amaze Firestone Man on Visit After Long Absence

E. B. BE SAW

Los Angeles has unquestionably established the greatest rate of development in an eight-year period of any city or section of the world, says E. B. Be Saw, vice-president and general manager of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, Ltd., of Hamilton, Ont., Can., for years an important figure in the tire industry. Mr. Be Saw came to Los Angeles primarily to inspect the new $7,000,000 western Firestone plant recently opened here.

"It was just eight years ago when I was in Los Angeles last, and it seems hard to believe that in such a comparatively short space of time such tremendous progress could be made," said Be Saw. "Then the main asset of Los Angeles was her climatic and scenic appeal. Today I find an industrial and commercial development that is truly amazing. I am inclined to join with others in predicting that your greatest industrial development is yet to come.

"With your natural advantages, your markets, your rapidly expanding population, and your 'go-get-there' spirit, there is no limit to the possibilities for your continued expansion."

Whirling Belt Kills Workman

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Feb. 20.—Caught in a pulley conveyor belt tonight, Ervin T. Russell was whirled to death in the Graham Brothers rock and gravel plant, 1512 West Seventh street. One of Russell's arms was caught in the belt on top of the rock bunkers. His body was flung to the ground. He was pronounced dead by Dr. Frank Chasee on arrival at the Seaside Hospital.

In the same hospital was a cousin, Cecil Sage, who was employed at the same rock plant and who was injured in a similar manner this morning. He escaped without grave injury. Russell was 35 years of age and lived at 1906 Junipero avenue. He leaves a wife and one child.

Dr. Briegleb Convalescing

It was reported at the Hollywood Hospital yesterday that Dr. Gustav A. Briegleb, pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, who underwent an operation for chronic appendicitis Tuesday, is getting along as well as can be expected for the first few days following the operation. His nurse said his condition is good and that no complications have developed, although for the past twenty-four hours he has not been resting very comfortably.

Dr. Briebleb was taken ill Sunday just before church services and his condition was such that an immediate operation was considered advisable

INTEREST KEEN AT HORSE SHOW

Competition for Large Stakes Stirs Banner Throng

Portland Entrant Captures $2000 Kellogg Purse

Irving H. Hellman's Rosewall Takes $1000 Prize

Competition in the two largest stake events yet offered by the eighth annual Los Angeles national horse show developed keen interest of the largest crowd to attend the equine exhibition at the Ambassador Auditorium last night.

Loughspring, handsome bay gelding from the Aaron M. Frank Farms of Portland captured the feature $2000 W. K. Kellogg stake offered for all hunters after two judges had spent an hour attempting to select winners from the field of fourteen.

Holding interest second only to the Kellogg stake was the $1000 championship stake offered by Charles H. Christie for harness horses to four-wheeled vehicles. Irving H. Hellman's Rosewall, a chestnut gelding, was declared the victor in this with Mr. Hellman exhibiting.

Artifacts May Link America and South Sea

The possibility of cultural traces between American Indians and South Sea islanders was discussed last night by Sinclair MacKay, English explorer, speaking before the University Club.

MacKay asserted that the time may not be far away when this question will be definitely settled in the affirmative. He expects material and data collected by him, which will be presented to the National Geographic Society shortly, to be instrumental in establishing this fact beyond doubt.

Implements found in the islands, according to MacKay, are proofs of cultural relationship which he believes existed between this continent and the islands in the South Seas. A. G. Begman presided.

Bessie Love to be Hostess

Bessie Love, film actress, was announced last night as elected by popular ballot to be hostess at the motion-picture mechanics' ball to be held Saturday night in the Bon Ton Ballroom, Ocean Park. The same balloting selected Anita Page as mascot of the baseball team, which will be a feature of the event. Both actresses promised to be present.

Entertainment will include such vaudeville artists as the California steppers, Mary Jane Dunlap, Helen Burke and Charles Cunningham. The show is to be staged by George Cunningham, the Bon Ton Blue Orchestra will provide the music and Otto K. Olsen the lights. Hollywood merchants have donated a number of prizes.

INA CLAIRE WILL COME WEST

Glazer Announces Her Picture—Signs Many Writers; Lewis Stone Plays Lead in "Wonder of Women;" Lasky Gets Original Players for Cast

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

That noted Broadway actress, Ina Claire, who recently signed with Pathe, will soon be among us.

The star will make the first of three talking pictures for which she is signed in California instead of in New York as was first intended.

The picture she will make will be a talking version of "Paris Bound," Philip Barry's current New York success, in which Madge Kennedy is starring at present.

Miss Claire will arrive here in time to start work in the picture April 15, next. So far no director nor leading man has been definitely chosen, although as to the latter it is known that a Hollywood actor will be chosen.

Benjamin Glazer, head of production at the Pathe studios, who has just arrived from New York, let us in on this information yesterday. He will have other important announcements to make within the next week or two.

Bearing with him a sheaf of contracts with noted directors and writers, Glazer came home from the East following a lengthy stay in New York, where he conferred with Pathe heads and shopped for stars, plays, stories and directors.

Rollo Lloyd, well-known New York stage director, has been signed by Pathe to direct talking pictures and will shortly arrive. "Stolen Fruit," a Broadway play, is his production. It is quite possible that he may direct Miss Claire.

Writers signed include Kenyon Nicholson, author of "The Barker" and of "Eva the Fifth," both New York hits.

He will write original talkers directly for the screen. Frances Faragoh, Hungarian playwright, whose drama, "Pin Wheel," was presented on Broadway, is another writer contracted by Pathe, and shortly to join the movie colony in the West.

Still another noted writer signed is A. A. Kline, youthful author of "Out of Step."

LEWIS STONE HEADS BROWN'S NEXT CAST

When Clarence Brown started casting about for a leading man for "Wonder of Women," which is to be his next Metro - Goldwyn - Mayer directorial effort, he shrewdly decided that he must have a stage actor of experience, as well as one who knew the screen, since the production is to be a talker.

Lewis Stone

So we aren't surprised to learn that Lewis Stone has been chosen for the part in the picture, the story of which is adapted from Hermann Sudermann's famous romance, "The Wife of Stephen Tromholt." He will fill the role of a German composer who achieves fame as a creator of symphonies, while his private life is a strange succession of romances.

An interesting detail of the new picture will be a series of specially composed musical airs, each of which, as the composer's brain children, have an actual part in the dramatic twists of the story.

"Wonder of Women" will be the first talking picture to be directed by Brown, who is especially remembered for "The Goose Woman," starring Louise Dresser, and for "Flesh and the Devil."

Stone is now finishing his role of Floriot in the talking version of "Madame X" with Ruth Chatterton, under Lionel Barrymore's direction.

Lasky Signs Two From Stage

I don't see how Los Angeles is going to be kept from becoming the theatrical center of America, so fast are all the Broadway stage actors of New York being signed for talking pictures to be made in Hollywood.

The newest emigrants from the New York stage are Oscar Levant and Charles D. Brown, who are to play in the Paramount talking version of "Burlesque," the same roles which they created on the metropolitan stage. The roles are respectively those of Jerry Evans and Lefty, and both players are now on their way to Hollywood, where they will start rehearsals under the joint direction of John Cromwell and Edward Sutherland.

Curiously enough, Oscar Levant was a concert pianist at the time he was prevailed upon to play the role of the ivory-pounding Jerry Evans.

Nancy Carroll, May Boley and Al St. John are the other members of the cast so far selected, all the three, of course, in star roles.

They Really Fly

If you have been doubting that those aviators, Frank Clarke and Roy Wilson, playing in Howard Hughes's production of "Hell's Angels," really do all the air stunts they are supposed to do, all you have to do to be persuaded will be to attend the special exhibition of daring stunt flying which they are to give at the opening of the Grand Central Air Terminal at Glendale tomorrow.

The pair are to reproduce a battle between two war-time planes as it is staged in the picture. Clarke will fly a German Fokker and Wilson will pilot a British S.E.5.

Louise Fazenda With Christies

I met Louise Fazenda tearing away from a nice luncheon given by Mrs. William Fawcett at the Montmartre yesterday. She was on her way to the Christie studios to try on wardrobe, in order to start work today on the first of her talking shorts. The shortie in question is titled "Hot Lemonade," and while the "lemonade" part may be a bit mild for the current taste, the "hot" part is sure to lure them in.

LOUISE FAZENDA

Claire Windsor to Travel

The fair Claire Windsor, feeling the wanderlust assailing her during these almost spring days, has accepted the very pleasant invitation of William Fawcett, co-head with his brother, Roscoe Fawcett, of the Fawcett publications, and of his wife, to travel south with them.

CLAIRE WINDSOR

The party will leave Monday, via the Panama Canal, for Havana, after which the travelers will go to Florida, and thence to Mrs. Fawcett's home in South Carolina, followed by a trip to the Fawcett home in Minnesota.

Fox Signs Two

Two well-known players were signed yesterday by Fox to play featured parts in Berthold Viertel's current picture, "The One Woman Idea," in which Rod La Rocque and Marceline Day have the leading roles.

The players are Ivan Lebedeff and Douglas Gilmore, who are to have characterizations bordering on the heavy.

Chester Morris Welcomes Family

Chester Morris, who comes from a family of troupers and who says that he is one of the trunk-born ones, expects to have a grand reunion here with several members of his family within the near future.

These members of the family are now en route to Los Angeles over the Orpheum circuit in their popular sketch, "All the Horrors of Home." In the act are Mr. and Mrs. William Morris, Chester's parents, his sister Willie and his kid brother Adrian.

Young Morris has just finished his role with United Artists in "Alibi," and it is said that he made such a favorable impression in the part, for which he was especially engaged by Joseph Schenck after the producer saw him on the stage in New York, that it is likely that United will take up his option for a year.

Pat O'Malley Replaces Karns

Pat O'Malley has left off his prize fight training. The reason is that Paramount, who engaged him for the prize fight manager in "The Man I Love," has given him the featured role of the newspaper reporter in the film. He replaces Roscoe Karns, who at present is playing the star newspaper reporter role in "The Front Page downtown at the Belasco. Karns was forced to retire from the cast of "The Man I Love," which is a talking picture, due to the fact that the dialogue had to be recorded at night.

HARDWARE SESSION OPENS

More Than 100 Delegates Hear Speakers Discuss Their Problems and Offer Solutions

Lower distribution cost, the budgeting system and modern display of goods were problems discussed yesterday at the opening session of the twelfth annual Southern California Retail Hardware Association convention in the Southwest Building.

More than 100 delegates from various points of Southern California attended a series of meetings in the afternoon. H. P. Sheets, managing director of the national association of Indianapolis, and George M. Gray, past president of Coshocton, O., will address delegates during the three-day session.

The problem of buying right was discussed by Sheets last night.

TWOFOLD PROBLEM

The selling problem is considered a twofold one, speakers stated. Retailers must arrive at the lowest possible distribution cost, it was pointed out and they must modernize their stores. The old country hardware store, where customers stumbled over a keg of nails to buy a nickel's worth of lamp wick are over, speakers declared.

Fred M. Gazlay of San Diego stressed "buying concentration" and Howard P. Meyer of El Centro spoke on "Merchandise Selection," which, he said, should be governed by a definite knowledge of community requirements and changing trends. Jay Schulte of Pasadena warned against buying from every salesman "just because he is a good fellow."

DANGER SHOWN

John B. Rogers of Los Angeles stated that most retailers' problems are those of having too large a stock.

Today three Los Angeles men will address the convention. They are: E. L. Harter, on "Pricing Merchandise;" J. L. Belt, on "Reducing the Force," and C. P. Messman, on "Eliminating Waste Effort." Harrison Crawford, manager of the Hollywood Credit Association, will speak on "A Definite Credit Policy." The convention will come to a close tomorrow with the selection of officers.

"Burning midnight oil" for a cold

No, burning midnight oil is not a new remedy for colds; although very frequently it is made necessary by a cold.

When white snow brightly blankets the quiet streets, and student lamps shine nervously far into the night, many times it means that some tortured student is making-up class work which his winter illness made him miss.

Most boys at school now realize that burning midnight oil is not fair to themselves or their work. They have learned the wisdom of safeguarding health, of treating colds promptly, vigorously, and completely. And the prescription they use is the old reliable, recommended by millions for nearly 40 years: GROVE'S BROMO QUININE.

The tiny tablets are easy to take. But how powerful in preventing and correcting colds! Gently laxative, they rouse sluggish bowels and rid the body of wastes and cold poisons. The dynamic benefits of quinine tone the system and build up nature's defenses. So the cold is frequently nipped while it merely threatens; or is thrown off quickly. . . . Emphasize GROVE'S, when asking the druggist for GROVE'S BROMO QUININE. Price 30c.

MYSTERIOUS SHIPMENT DELIVERED

'Strange Cargo,' Unloaded at United Artists, Proves Surprise Package

BY MARQUIS BUSBY

"Strange Cargo," an all-talking Pathe production, which was delivered at the United Artists Theater yesterday, is a shipment of thrills for that not inconsiderable army of people who prefer their film dramas enlivened with weird, baffling mystery.

A yacht, sailing from India to England, is limping toward the nearest port in the Azores. The electrical apparatus of the big boat is acting strangely, lights mysteriously being turned off and on. After dinner, as the owner and his guests are assembled in the lounge, the lights are turned off. When they flash on again the owner is missing. The guests are so situated in the lounge that it would have been impossible for anyone to enter or leave the room without detection. In unraveling this mystery a strange human cargo is found aboard. There is a renegade doctor, a hot-blooded Spaniard who had every reason to hate the owner, a Bolshevistic stoker, a thieving steward, a Yogi in pursuit of certain treasures stolen from a Hindu temple and a guest who in a moment of anger had threatened the life of the owner. Clews? Oh, yes, too many clews.

It is a good mystery story, as mystery stories go. There are some amusing highlights, notably the seance between the badly frightened mate and a serious psychic lady in the lofty and eerie "crow's nest" of the yacht. More imaginative photography, such as distinguished "The Cat and the Canary," would have added to the mystery effects. Here is a story, too, that needs an appropriate musical score.

R. C. A. Photophone, by which the conversation is recorded, reproduces to a high degree of perfection the voices of the cast. Certain background noises prove annoying at times, and sound breaks in the reels do not make for perfect dramatic continuity. To what degree theater projection may be at fault I do not know.

There are splendid performances from the large cast, and some of the voices take place among the best yet heard on a sound device. George Barraud, remembered for his sterling work in the stage production of "Interference," again scores decidedly, as one of the suspects in "Strange Cargo." His voice is exceptionally fine, and there can scarcely be any question as to his success in talking pictures.

Lee Patrick, another stage recruit, gives a poised performance as Diane, one of the guests. Her voice also records most effectively.

Among those who contribute excellent work are Otto Matiesen, fine as the mystic Yogi, the central figure of the most climatic scene; Kyrle Bellew, the owner of the yacht; Frank Reicher as the doctor; Josephine Brown as the psychic lady; Ned Sparks as the mate, who has a healthy regard for spirits from the world beyond; Andre Beranger as the Spaniard; Warner Richmond as the stoker, and Claude King as the captain. Others in the cast are Russel Gleason, son of that clever comedian-playwright, James Gleason; June Nash, Charles Hamilton and Harry Allen.

Benjamin Glazer's direction is good. Less rigid adherence to stage technique would have speeded the action of the drama, however. Glazer also aided in the adaptation of the screen story from the stage play, "The Missing Man."

"A Bird in the Hand" is an amusing all-talking Christie comedy, featuring Lois Wilson, Jason Robards, Dot Farley and Roy D'Arcy. The plot of the playlet is novel, but lines lack brightness. The cast is very good.

A review of the United Artists program would not be complete without mention of the Fox Movietone News. Thomas Edison tells of discovering rubber in the modest golden rod, Sharkey trains for the Stribling fight, and George Washington is administered the oath of office as the first President of the United States, with settings duplicating the actual event in New York. It is most interesting and informative but a better actor might have been found for the role of the Father of Our Country.

VAUDEVILLIANS TO ATTEND LATE SHOW

Pat Rooney II

In addition to being a guest artist with the members of his vaudeville headliner family the role of master of ceremonies will go to Pat Rooney II, at the third of the special midnight matinees of "The Broadway Melody," Saturday night at Grauman's Chinese Theater.

On the heels of delegating the honors of guest artists to the Rooney family, including Pat II, Marion Bent, his wife, and Pat III, Sid Grauman drafted Pat II, as the head of the group, to conduct the extemporaneous festivities of the late-hour show.

Java Casts a Potent Spell

Greta Garbo and Nils Asther
Enact a dramatic crisis from "Wild Orchids," the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture which will be featured today and for a week at Loew's State Theater.

"DUMMY" ACTS AND TALKS

The Paramount Theater presents its program for the National Publix Theaters birthday jubilee program, starting today.

"The Dummy," Paramount all-talking melodrama, heads the list of attractions. Ruth Chatterton, John Cromwell and Fredric March, all well-known stage players in New York and Los Angeles, have the leading roles, with a cast of supporting players including Jack Oakie, Zasu Pitts, Mickey Bennett, Vondell Darr, Fred Kohler and Richard Tucker. The film is described as a "talking picture with action."

"Blue Revue" is promised as one of the most outstanding Publix productions ever sent to Los Angeles. Doris Petroff devised and staged the presentation, and has selected Irene Taylor, Frank Stever, Bob La Salle, Pelle and Cola and Gamby-Hale Girls for the principal roles. The production includes novel arrangements of almost every "blue" tune ever written, from the reliable "St. Louis" to a classical arrangement of "Rhapsody in Blue," with Henry Busse conducting.

Paul Oscard has staged "Jubilee," a special orchestral production in celebration of the week. The Paramount Ensemble of singers and dancers, and the Paramount augmented concert orchestra, under the direction of Raymond Paige, are featured.

Milton Charles will again play and sing late popular selections on the organ, and a Paramount news reel will complete the bill.

BROMFIELD OPUS WILL BE STAGED

'House of Women' Named by Repertory Theater as Next Production

Directors of the Los Angeles Repertory Theater announce today that, by special arrangement with Arthur Hopkins, New York producer, they will offer as their fourth presentation at the Figueroa Playhouse Louis Bromfield's intimate drama, "The House of Women." The play will commence an engagement March 5.

John Galsworthy's drama, "Escape," the present attraction at that theater, which has an all-English cast, headed by Vernon Steele, concludes its run March 2.

"The House of Women," which Bromfield dramatized from his own novel, "The Green Bay Tree," again proves this promising young author's flair for the unusual. "The Green Bay Tree" started Bromfield off on a spectacular climb to one of the topmost rungs of the literary ladder, and his novel is now in its twelfth printing.

"The House of Women" was produced last season by Hopkins at the Maxine Elliott Theater in New York. This will be the play's first presentation west of Chicago.

The story—rich in forceful dialogue, colorful, sharply delineated in its characterizations—describes a family of strongly varying types. The setting is the House of Shame—of Julia Shane and her daughters, Irene and Lily.

The Messrs. Behymer, Gest and Reed, co-directors of the Repertory Theater, promise to supply this production with an unusually brilliant cast, now in process of selection. In the New York presentation there appeared Nance O'Neill, Elsie Ferguson, Helen Freeman, Walter Abel, Julia Jackson, Roberta Bellinger and Curtis Cooksey.

Cannon Praises New Dance Step

Even the dancing masters are looking to the movies these days for inspiration. Lois Moran and Rex Bell, two of the leading players in "Joy Street," Raymond Cannon's current production for Fox Films, have evolved a new "step," which is being used extensively in the dance sequence of the picture. This number, entitled the "Joy Street" in honor of the film, is expected to prove a hit among terpsichorean enthusiasts when the film is released, as it embodies a number of new movements which are as distinctive as they are easy to perform.

Although the dance is timed to the catchy rhythms of the theme song by the same name, it is entirely "danceable" to any of the modern tunes, according to its inventors, and Director Cannon predicts it will soon become as popular as the customary one-step.

Nick Stuart, Jose Crespo, Ada Williams, Maria Alba, Dorothy Ward and Florence Allen also have prominent roles in the new picture, a daring story of modern youth and its "whoopee-making" proclivities, which will be released some time this coming spring. Incidentally, the director's first "whoopee" film, "Let's Make Whoopee," opens tomorrow at the Uptown for a three-day run.

MATINEE AT LINCOLN

A special Washington's birthday matinee will be staged at the Lincoln Theater tomorrow afternoon where "The Whole Town's Talking," the John Emerson-Anita Loos mirth-provoker is being presented by the colored Lafayette Players.

'Good Trouper' Vanishing, is Dawson's View

What constitutes a good trouper?

The question came up among a group of members of the Henry Duffy Players, who are appearing with May Robson in "Mother's Millions" at the Hollywood Playhouse.

"A good trouper" was defined by Frank Dawson as one who accepted things as they came, played for the play instead of merely for himself, was entirely free from complaining—in fact, was a normal, reasonable and helpful human being.

"Without wielding the hammer too hard, I am inclined to think that the number of 'good troupers' is proportionately smaller now than it was in the good old days (which weren't so good at all)," says Dawson. "The troupers of earlier days had to be regular gypsies to hold up under the strain that was imposed upon them. Do you suppose there are many of our players today who would pursue their art by driving over rough roads through wilderness to play engagements as did many actors not so long ago? Or would they travel by flatboat or by canoe, as did the Ludlows 100 years ago? Or would they spend half of every day riding horseback between cities fifty miles apart to give performances on alternate nights? Or would they brave blizzards on muleback to fill engagements as did Edwin Booth in the fifties?

"It required real love of the theater to go trouping in those days. How many of us today could stand the strain of such demands and experiences?"

Old Standards of Acting Pass

That the advent of audition in pictures will indirectly be responsible for a new type of acting is the declaration recently made by Richard Wallace, director of "The Shopworn Angel," which opens at the Million Dollar Theater tomorrow.

Wallace, having devoted the past ten years to analyzing and thoroughly familiarizing himself with every phase of screen acting, claims that the actor of the future will gradually find a third figurative dimension in his computation of acting. The use of the voice in synchronization with the action, he asserts, will naturally compel this.

The premise upon which Wallace bases his contention is apparent in the forthcoming attraction. Critics throughout the country have enthusiastically greeted this picture as one of the outstanding ones of the past year, praising in no uncertain terms the performances of Nancy Carroll and Gary Cooper, who share honors. Their work, it was claimed, is an indication of the more subtle and human type of acting referred to by Wallace.

FEMININE MUSICIANS IN CONCERT

Woman's Orchestra Shows Progress; Parrish Pleases Large Audience

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

The Woman's Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Henry Schoenefeld and assisted by John Parrish, tenor, gave a concert at the Philharmonic Auditorium last night which was well attended and demonstrated this organization's progress toward a broadened repertoire. The program included the Symphony in G minor by Mozart, shorter pieces by Wagner, Jaernefelt Schoenefeld and Schubert and Mr. Parrish delighted his audience with Beethoven's "Adelaide" and Lalo's "Aubade," accompanied by the orchestra and a group of songs made famous by John McCormack with Raymond McFeeters able assistance at the piano.

The Woman's Symphony is difficult to classify because it is made up of professionals with a commendable and helpful amateur spirit and amateurs with professional ambitions. Mr. Schoenefeld, good musician that he is, accommodates himself to the requirements of his position as conductor of this interesting assembly. A certain amount of sentiment surrounds this orchestra like a halo, the group having been organized thirty-five years ago for the purpose of giving women musicians an opportunity of study and presentation of the better orchestral works. It has filled a unique place of usefulness in the music life of the city.

The singing of the young American-English tenor, John Parrish, was especially well received on this program. His voice is of attractive lyric quality and his work is commendable for style and fidelity to pitch. His phrasing suggests the solid training of a schooled oratorio singer and he is altogether one of the most promising young musicians the National Music League has sent West. Were he to guard against dragging his tempos and forget the successes of McCormack in developing his own personality, his future would be assured.

Varconi Talks to Gathering

Victor Varconi, young screen actor now appearing in the role of Lord Nelson opposite Corinne Griffith in "The Divine Lady," at the Carthay Circle Theater, has accepted an invitation to address the conference of the motion-picture division of the California Federated Women's Club tomorrow morning at 10 at the Circle.

Frank Lloyd, director of this spectacle, will also address the gathering, which it is estimated will include about 800 of the leading lights of clubdom of the Southland. Miss Griffith, Marie Dressler, H. B. Warner, Ian Keith and Montagu Love will also be present if their production schedules do not interfere. Elizabeth Packer, writer, connected with the Douglas Fairbanks organization, has promised to be present to give a little talk on Fairbanks's "The Iron Mask," which is soon to be shown at the Carthay Circle. Following the conference and a luncheon, the ladies will attend the matinee performance of "The Divine Lady."

"Dybbuk" Runs Fourth Week

Even as the Ansky play, "The Dybbuk," now current at Pasadena Community Playhouse, is announced for a fourth week at that theater, it develops that preparations are being made for the staging of William Pratt's good old melodrama of pre-Volstead days, "Ten Nights in a Bar-room." The grave Pasadenans will frolic a bit with this precious bit of pre-historic dramaturgy, which has been substituted for the Dorothy Heyward comedy, "Nancy Ann."

This may preface a revival of the Eugene O'Neill play that created such a sensation at the Playhouse some time ago, when "Lazarus Laughed" was staged. Popular demand, the fitness of the season and the interesting contrast presented by O'Neill's other play, "Strange Interlude," at this time, may sway the decision of Gilmor Brown and associates in favor of this record-breaking play for the playhouse.

Jane Laurell Assumes Lead

Jane Laurell, pretty ingenue who bolted southern society for a career on the stage, has been selected for the feminine lead in "Squawk," John McDermott's new farce comedy to be introduced at the Mayan Theater March 2.

When the thrill of being a debutante in Houston, Tex., lost its novelty, Miss Laurell heeded the urge of her dramatic inclinations and stormed the Great White Way. The dream of appearing on Broadway had an unhappy awakening when the first production collapsed on the "dog tour." The second folded in a fortnight, but a playlet kept her occupied for a season in eastern vaudeville.

BAIL PLEA MADE BY WICKERSHAM

Liberty Wanted Pending His Appeal Hearing

Judge Signs Order So He Can Go for $65,000

Another Grand Theft Trial Faced on March 4

The first step in a fight to gain his liberty temporarily on bond pending the hearing of his appeal from a sentence of from two to twenty years on charges of grand theft, was taken yesterday by Sam Wickersham when he appeared before Superior Judge Shaw.

After Paul Schenck and C. E. Heidingsfelder, Wickersham's attorneys, produced several witnesses supporting the contention that his health is failing in the County Jail and that his business affairs are suffering, Judge Shaw made an order permitting him to be released under an appeal bond of $15,000.

LARGE SUM URGED

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Crail urged the court to fix the amount of the bond at a minimum of $25,000.

At his first trial Wickersham was convicted of bilking Mrs. Frank E. Neuman of 840 Burnside avenue out of several thousand dollars by representations that he wished to invest the money in a gold mine near Glendale.

Wickersham also is facing trial in Department 21 of Superior Court March 4, on charges of conspiracy to commit grand theft, and grand theft. James McEntry and John S. Fisher are co-defendants with him.

CONSPIRACY CHARGED

The bond in this case is fixed at $50,000 so if Wickersham succeeds in obtaining his release under present circumstances he must furnish a bond of $65,000.

In the case now pending, Wickersham, McEntry and Fisher are accused of conspiring and obtaining $21,500 from Mrs. Neuman representing to her that they would use the money to construct a large lens factory in Los Angeles. A painting valued at not more than $750, but represented to be worth more than $22,500 was offered as security for the loan, according to the indictment.

BUS LINES' EXTENSION APPROVED

Utilities Board Passes on Motor Coach and Railway Companies' Applications

An application of the Los Angeles Motor Coach Company for permission to extend the Wilshire boulevard bus line to the University of California, and one by the motor coach division of the Los Angeles Railway for extension of its Beverly Boulevard bus line as far west as La Cienega Boulevard, were approved yesterday by the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation. Both applications are before the Railroad Commission.

The Wilshire Boulevard bus line at present terminates at Wilshire and Santa Monica Boulevards. The route proposed under the extension is on Wilshire to Warner Drive, along this drive to University Drive, thence southerly to Strathmore, easterly on Strathmore to Warner Drive, and along the drive to Wilshire. The change proposed is temporary, according to the application, and is in response to requests from the university authorities.

The Beverly Boulevard bus line extension provides for routing from the intersection of Bonnie Brae street at Beverly Boulevard, along Bonnie Brae to Second street, thence to Westlake, Beverly Boulevard and La Cienega for the turnaround.

Athletic Club Would Reopen Harbor Lease

Request of the Los Angeles Athletic Club to the Harbor Commission for reconsideration and withdrawal of notice of termination of the club's lease of forty-five acres on the south shore of Terminal Island was filed yesterday by the commission.

The request included a suggestion that the club officials thresh the matter out at a general conference in order to secure an adequate and permanent solution of the problem. President Allen, however, suggested that the conference could be held without the board reconsidering its action and Secretary Rouse was directed to so notify the club.

The lease was terminated on the ground that the club had failed to put up a building as provided in the agreement.

Beating Story Brings Divorce

Mrs. Marie Lillian Slaker stood for considerable nagging from her husband, Louis Frederick Slaker, Jr., bank employee, but she hurried to get a divorce when he quarreled with her and beat her on a trip in from the beaches, she testified yesterday before Superior Judge Hazlett when asking for a divorce.

Mrs. Slaker declared that her husband was exceedingly ardent in his love making and then quarreled with her. She mentioned the occasion of the beach trip.

The decree was granted.

CITY EMPLOYEES TO MEET

Members of the City Employees' Benevolent and Protective Association will hold a public meeting Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Knights of Pythias Hall, 230 South Spring street. Hugh J. McGuire, member of the Board of Public Works and candidate for Mayor, is announced as the speaker of the evening.

PRAISE WON BY CRIPPLE IN THEATER

San Pedro Janitor Lauded for Keeping Show House in Perfect Condition

Spurgeon's comment that "Many great men owe the grandeur of their lives to their tremendous difficulties," has a shining example in the case of a janitor at San Pedro, a cripple from infancy, who walks only with the aid of a crutch.

He is Ted R. Blake, whose job is the nightly refurbishing of the Cabrillo Theater, which has been awarded commendation as the cleanest, best-kept theater of the more than 150 showhouses making up the West Coast Theater circuit. Manager C. S. Crews, however, gives all honor to young Blake.

Despite his physical handicap, he has kept the varied sections of the theater in such excellent condition for five years, that the official letter of commendation says, "we found the equipment in wonderful shape, immaculately clean and painted. The stage was like a mirror."

ARGUMENTS DUE ON BREAKWATER

Harbor Board Gets Notice of Hearing in Washington

Port Manager and Committee to Confer on Campaign

Adverse Federal Report on Project Being Studied

Notice was given the Harbor Commission yesterday that there will be a public hearing on the greater breakwater project by the Board of Rivers and Harbors at Washington on April 16, next. The information was furnished in a communication from Maj. Dan I. Sultan of the United States Corps of Engineers.

The communication was received without comment, the board referring it to the attention of General Manager Edwards, who is expected to take up with the Los Angeles Greater Breakwater Committee the question of what action will be taken.

The committee's representatives have made an inspection of the confidential report of the three army engineers who had filed with the War Department an adverse recommendation of the greater breakwater plan because they declared the conditions, providing for a joint district port for Los Angeles and Long Beach, had not been carried out.

The digest of this report, it is understood, will be submitted to the Greater Breakwater Committee, which in turn is expected to meet shortly to formulate its arguments for presentation at the hearing and to appoint representatives to go to Washington.

The Harbor Board yesterday received word from United States District Engineer Gross recognizing that the former had withdrawn its application for change in the pierhead lines in the west basin.

The board had contemplated two long piers jutting into the basin from its north side. It was decided that the request for changing the pierhead lines to allow for the improvement should await action of Congress on the dredging appropriation.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil as a substitute for calomel to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Brother and Sister Collapse at Doheny Aide's Grave

Among Those at Funeral of T. H. Plunkett

PLUNKETT LAID TO REST

The ill fate that so tragically climaxed the young and promising career of Theodore Hugh Plunkett followed his body even to the grave yesterday. They had just placed his coffin in the earth in the very shadow of the magnificent mausoleum wherein the body of his employer, Edward L. Doheny, Jr., son of the multimillionaire oil magnate, whom he had slain, was placed the day before when Isabelle Plunkett, his young sister, swooned and fell to the ground. A moment later her brother, Robert, also collapsed in a faint.

The two piteously had been consoling each other throughout the burial service. An hour before, D. G. Rinehardt, a friend, fainted and fell to the sidewalk as he left the funeral service. There was not the slightest commotion on either occasion and relatives and friends of the three revived them and took them quietly away.

MANY FLOWERS

The funeral service began at 11 a.m. in White Company's mortuary, 664 West Washington street. As if to recognize that young Plunkett, who for seventeen years faithfully had served his employer as secretary and companion, was not accountable for his insane action Saturday night when he killed his employer and then himself, the Doheny family sent flowers to the funeral, and two brothers of the widowed Mrs. Doheny acted as pallbearers. It was as an employee of their father and the father of Lucy Smith, whom Doheny married, that they first knew Plunkett.

Services at both places were private but a crowd of several hundred persons was at each place. A truck was required to transport the profusion of flowers at the mortuary from there to Forest Lawn Cemetery, where the body was laid to rest on Sunrise Slope. The slope is crowned by a graceful olive tree beside the dazzling gold and marble Doheny mausoleum, barely 100 feet from the Plunkett grave.

In the white robes of the Episcopal clergy, Rev. Dr. George Davidson of St. John's Church conducted both funeral and burial services. Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Plunkett, father and mother of the dead young man, presented stoic and somber figures, the mother leaning heavily on her mate's arms and he comforting her from time to time. Isabelle and Robert, youngest of the family, were together and wept in each other's arms frequently. Charles A., Jr., and his wife occasionally comforted the younger brother and sister. Mrs. Harriett Plunkett, divorced from Theodore Hugh Plunkett a few months ago, was somewhat with the family but yet was a figure apart. She was accompanied by two friends.

"When man goeth to his long home," Dr. Davidson said in opening the service, "his dust returns to the earth from which it came and his spirit returns to God who gave it. . . . And the conclusion of it is this—to fear God for man's whole duty is to Him.

"We are face to face with one of the great realities of life. We are stunned by it.

"We are here to grow a soul, character, until in a twinkling of an eye we are in the spiritual world.

"I do not think disease, gunshot or accident is the cause of death. They are but the incident. The great cause is in the mind of God. The incident is but the time when it is best. The cause we may not know.

"I was not acquainted with this man, but from persons whom I know and who knew him I can say that he tried to live up to what he conceived to be the great duty in his life.

"This was but the method by which his soul was to be dispatched into eternal life. It is difficult for us to understand why. Perhaps we never shall know.

NOT TO CONDEMN

"It is not for us to condemn another. We know so little about another. Not a ninetieth part. In a moment of fever and excitement, this man was not himself and this moment came. We leave him in God's keeping.

"May God have mercy upon the rest of us that walk humbly before Him."

The service at the cemetery was brief, consisting of but a prayer and farewell.

It marked the end of a tragedy that shocked the country Saturday night. Young Plunkett, suffering from a nervous breakdown, went to Doheny's home that evening and in the midst of his employer's comfortings insanely drew a gun, shot and killed Doheny and then turned the weapon on himself, all for no other reason than because something had gone frightfully wrong within his brain, according to investigators.

DIVORCE TREND DENOUNCED

Passionist Convent Superior Declares False Ideas of Marital Duty Blunt Sensibilities

Severly criticising modern ideas on divorce, Father Edwin, superior of the Passionist convent at Sierra Madre, in an address at the Church of the Divine Savior yesterday declared that "it is a false and evil premise that one can gradually achieve marital bliss by a progressive change of husbands or wives."

"Divorces by collusion, divorces based in flimsy and fictitious grounds must be eliminated from our life," said Father Edwin. "This progressive change of mates does nothing but blunt and extinguish the finest sensibilities. For this reason alone divorce is stupid. And because divorce definitely impairs the welfare of children divorce is criminal."

FATHER EDWIN

TENDENCY FEARED

"Men and women will exercise patience, loyalty and justice in business and in society, but in matrimony the growing tendency is to exercise nothing but the legal right of divorce, and the legal right of getting another husband or wife," said the speaker. "People are segregating their virtues into business and social virtues on one hand, and marital virtues on the other. Society and the church cannot compromise with this fallacy.

"Irresponsibility is the same always. So is disloyalty, so is unsteadiness. In teaching people to carry out their marital contracts with the same faith and courage as they use in their business obligations, the church is leading the fight to preserve the home and civilization."

SERVED IN FRANCE

Father Edwin, who was on the staff of Gen. Pershing in France, is one of the Passionist fathers, preaching missions in the Lenten mission campaign of the Los Angeles-San Diego diocese, which will close March 31. On entering his order he dropped, as is customary, his family name and adopted simply one forename.

He came to California two years ago from Chicago, in which city he was superior of the Passionist Convent.

PYTHIAN DANCE TONIGHT

District Convention No. 30, Knights of Pythias, will give an anniversary ball tonight at the castle hall of King David Lodge, 121 West Eighteenth street.

COLDEN OUT OF RACE FOR COUNCILMAN

Incumbent Keeps Silent on Mayoralty Contest in Lengthy Statement

Charles J. Colden, Councilman for the Fifteenth District, will not seek re-election at the spring primaries, he announced yesterday. The retiring official, in a lengthy statement of his views and experiences as Councilman and former member of the Harbor Board, did not refer to reports that he may become a candidate for Mayor.

CHARLES J. COLDEN

Expressing a hope that Los Angeles will enter a larger sphere of existence in which music, art, commerce and industry will blend, Mr. Colden said in part:

In reply to the many inquiries I have received, I desire to state that I will not be a candidate for re-election as Councilman of the Fifteenth District of Los Angeles.

I would like to further state that for approximately six years, as Harbor Commissioner and as City Councilman, I have to the best of my ability served the city of Los Angeles and endeavored to promote honesty, economy and efficiency in public service. I am aware that I have not been able to please all, but I have tried to support those measures which would bring the greatest good to the largest number.

I should like to mention a few of the problems that have deeply concerned me. My enthusiasm has not been aroused by the unloading of more than $4,000,000 worth of real estate on the taxpayers in the purchase of an airport and the classification yards at the harbor. Those projects might have been promoted by the beneficiaries and by private enterprises.

I have tried to protect the beaches from the pollution of raw sewage, defended district representation, opposed, as vigorously as I could, the allocation of $1,900,000 for Maple avenue while more important major highways received none or but a fraction of such allocation.

The loyalty of both friends and strangers has been one of the cherished events of my life and it is with deep appreciation and satisfaction that I look forward to the end of my term of office and leave to others the duty of carrying on to a more efficient and a happier city administration.

Not only a happier administration of equal justice and official duty but a happier and more contented citizenship. It has been my dream that our city with its unparalleled courage and civic spirit, absorbed in its problems of youth and growth, aqueducts and power plants, subdivisions and streets, its harbor and necessitous dams, its college, ports and drama, its wealth and population, will foster a new era wherein all the arts—the music of Vienna, the galleries of Florence, the civic beauty of Paris, the charm of old California—will be blended and exalted in a greater cultural center of the esthetic world —Los Angeles.

FILM FLYERS TO GIVE MIMIC AERIAL BATTLE

Frank Clarke and Roy Wilson, motion-picture stunt flyers, will participate in a mimic air battle as one of the features of the opening tomorrow of the Grand Air Terminal in Glendale. Clarke will fly a German Fokker and Wilson a British SE-5.

They have been performing for the past eighteen months for "Hell's Angeles," an air picture being filmed by Howard Hughes.

PROTESTS SCHEDULED

The City Council is scheduled to hear today protests against the widening of Council street between Edgemont street and Alexandria avenue and against the installation of sewers in Hoover street between Franklin and Clarissa avenues.

RANCH SUIT AGAIN WILL BE DEBATED

Ejectment Action Aimed at Mrs. Burrows to Come Up in Court March 11

After having his decision under advisement for several weeks Superior Judge Engs yesterday granted a motion of the plaintiff to reopen the ejectment action brought by the Los Angeles Mountain Park Company against Mrs. Francisca Sepulveda Burrows, descendant of the Sepulveda and Verdugo families.

The suit is the one wherein an effort is being made by the company to oust Mrs. Burrows from twenty acres of land in the Santa Monica Mountains, which she asserts is a part of the 16,000-acre Rancho San Vicente y Santa Monica and rightfully hers as an heir of Francisco and Romona Sepulveda, who were given the rancho under a Mexican land grant.

The case was reopened yesterday on motion of Attorney David Sondel, counsel for the company, who said he desires to put in more evidence.

A continuance was taken until March 11, at which Attorney James Westervelt, representing Mrs. Burrows, also will offer evidence.

It is the contention of Mrs. Burrows that she and the other heirs are lawfully entitled to a little better than three-fourths of the great ranch aside from the twenty acres in litigation and that the company now holding it has no clear title to the property.

ALL CEMENT PLANT DATA TO BE HEARD

Hearing to Continue Till Receipt of All Evidence, Commission Decides

Under the procedure adopted by the City Planning Commission yesterday the public hearing on the proposal to open a rock quarry and crushing mill in Santa Ynez Canyon will continue day and night if necessary.

The hearing is set to open at 1:30 p.m. next Tuesday, and to continue until 5 p.m. If the hearing is not concluded at that time it will be continued between the hours of 7 p.m. and 10 p.m. on that day. Should the evidence not be all in at the closing hour, the hearing will be continued until one week from next Tuesday, the same hours holding for that day as on the first day. The program was outlined at the request of Thorwald Siegfried, representing the Pacific Palisades Protective Committee.

Under a proposal made yesterday at the commission hearing, the City Council will be asked to pay the expenses of a court reporter to make a transcript of the hearing, for public records.

Funeral Rites for Mrs. Vogel to be Saturday

Funeral services for Mrs. Louisa Mathilda Vogel, 76 years of age, a resident of Los Angeles for nearly forty years, who died of heart disease Tuesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Amelia M. Salter of 533 North Mariposa avenue, will be conducted from Pierce Brothers Mortuary, 720 West Washington street, at 10 a.m. Saturday. Interment will be in the private Vogel mausoleum in Inglewood Cemetery.

Mrs. Vogel was the widow of the late John R. Vogel, pioneer real estate operator and druggist who died in 1914.

The Vogel family at one time owned the corner of Seventh street and Broadway now occupied by Loew's Theater, and also the present site of the Hall of Justice.

Mrs. Vogel had resided with her daughter since the death of her husband.

Mother of Man Long Missing Wins Insurance

Mrs. Julia A. O'Brien yesterday won out in a suit against the United States government when United States District Judge James decided that she was entitled to $10,000 war risk insurance, taken out by her son, William F. O'Brien, a World War veteran.

It was brought out before the court that the young man enlisted in September, 1918, and was discharged from the Army in January, 1919. He was last heard from in Chicago and was believed to be dead. The court held that as the son had not been heard from since his discharge he was legally dead, so far as the compensation was concerned, and that the mother is entitled to $57.50 a month since, January, 1926. Some evidence was adduced to indicate the death of the son.

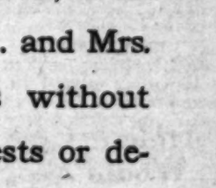
He didn't use Listerine at the first sign of SORE THROAT

MILLIONS recognize that Listerine, full strength, is tremendously effective in checking sore throat and colds.

Because Listerine, full strength, attacks germs—and sore throat is caused by germs.

Even the stubborn B. Typhosus (typhoid) is killed by Listerine, full strength, in 15 seconds. Repeated tests conducted as the U. S. Government conducts them prove it. Yet used this way Listerine is entirely safe in any body cavity.

Gargle with Listerine every day during bad weather. It helps ward off winter ailments. Our great free book, "Personal Hygiene," is yours for the asking. Address Dept. S.73 Lambert Pharmacal Company, 2101 Locust St., St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.



How to escape colds

Countless colds start when germs are carried to the mouth on food. By using Listerine on the hands before every meal, you attack such germs and lessen the risk of cold. Remember this, mothers, when handling baby's food.

MUTED SHAVES PLEASE BRITON

English Journalist Praises Angeleno Barbers

Silence, Not Skill, Excels Over Londoners

Writer Tells of Thriller Not Known Here

[Mr. Perry is an English newspaper man and holder of a Walter Hines Page Fellowship in Journalism, under which British journalists spend several months each year on the staffs of American newspapers for the consequent better understanding between the countries. At home Mr. Perry is one of the editors of Reuter's International News Agency. He will be a guest of The Times staff for a month.—Ed. Times.]

BY ALFRED P. PERRY

I like these Los Angeles barbers. They do not feel it their duty to keep up an incessant chatter while they remove the evidence of tardy rising from your chin. Contrariwise, the London barber is like a babbling brook. He starts flowing as soon as you get into the chair.

His opening gambit is almost always the same: "very wet morning, isn't it, sir?" It probably has been raining steadily for the past three days, and looks like going on for a week. If you are new to the game you assent courteously to this profound observation and get a mouthful of soap for your pains. Then he tries horse racing, of which you probably know nothing and care less; "I see Twinkletoes is odds on for the 3:30, sir." You say "what?" and get your cheek gashed.

ALFRED PATRICK PERRY.

STARTS AGAIN

This seems to discourage him and for a time he relapses into silence. Then the sight of blood revives his memory and he starts off again. "terrible affair this in Chicago, sir!" "Horrible!" you say, having no idea what he is talking about, but hoping for the best. "Yes, sir, I had an aunt by marriage who lived in Chicago for many years." This information thrills you. "She came over to London, but got sort o' lonesome without the bombs. Wonderful how you miss things, isn't it, sir? Talking of bombs reminds me of the war. Terrible affair that, sir—head just a shade more to the right, sir, thank you—yes, I always say that there's many a fine fellow who'd be alive and strong today if it hadn't been for that war—did I nip you, sir? Very sorry, sir."

ONE WAY TO QUELL

There is only one way to quell an English barber. I give the tip free to my American friends. As soon as you settle down into the chair, open a newspaper and meet all his sallies with a grunt. The paper seems to discourage him; or perhaps it is that he no longer feels compelled by good breeding to save you from the perils of introspection.

Why hair cutting should cause loquacity in Englishmen, usually the most tongue-tied of mortals, is a most mystery. Perhaps playing Delilah to your Samson makes him feel that he should strive to rival that famous charmer; or perhaps he thinks that you may feel nervous and tries kindheartedly to put you at your ease, like the dentist.

I suspect that the Greek tyrant who would allow none but his daughters to shave him was really trying to escape the conversation of the court barber rather than the assassin's steel. True, his insistence that the young ladies should use a red-hot poker instead of a razor to remove his beard seems strange; but judging from some barbers I have known, he probably did not notice the difference.

DEMON BARBER

This fear of being slaughtered in a shave recalls to mind the only barber who has figured as a hero-villain on the English stage—Sweeney Todd, the Demon Barber of Fleet street. This gentleman really lived at the beginning of the last century in London, where he had a barber's shop in Fleet street, now the center of the British newspaper world. For many years he talked and prospered, but gradually ugly tales began to get about—how strangers had gone into the shop and never been seen to come out, and how Mr. Todd always kept his blinds drawn close. At last the officers of the law descended upon the house and the dread truth was revealed. In his shop Sweeney Todd had a special chair in which he always shaved strangers who looked as if they had money on them. This chair was clamped to a secret trap-door in the floor which opened when a hidden bolt was drawn and hurled the stranger into a stone cellar twenty feet below, where Mr. Todd could pick his pockets at leisure. Next door was a pastry cook's kept by an aged dame to whom Todd was popularly supposed to deliver the bodies of his victims for conversion into the pork pies for which she was famous. . . .

THEME THRILLS

"Shave, sir? Certainly, sir. Take this chair please. Lovely weather we're having now; looks as if it will get hotter soon, ha! ha! . . . head just a leetle further back, please—thank you, sir—now I'll soon polish you off, ha! ha!" . . . Swish!—and the victim woke up to find himself a corpse.

Such a theme was too good to be overlooked by writers of melodrama, and many a London audience has shuddered joyfully at the fiendish chuckle of the Demon Barber and his "I'll soon polish you off!"

I do not know whether Los Angeles has ever had a Demon Barber. The fact that they seem here to do their work in glass-fronted saloons looking straight onto the sidewalk makes me doubtful; it is so difficult to avoid gossip if you cut a man's throat while a lot of newsboys and peanut vendors are gaping through the window. But anyway, I would rather have my throat cut by a Los Angeles barber than by any other; for at least, I would not have to listen to his chat about the weather before he dispatched me to a warmer clime!

CLUB GUEST PLEADS FOR DAM AMITY

No Petty Interests Will Block Project, Utah Man Tells Breakfasters

The Boulder Canyon dam project, in the opinion of former Gov. Charles R. Mabey of Utah, belongs to the nation and is of such economic importance that no individual State should permit petty self-interest to block its development. As speaker at the Breakfast Club yesterday morning he evoked a storm of applause when he exclaimed. "California, if she would, cannot steal it; Utah cannot control it; Arizona cannot stay it. It is a tremendous economic unit that abolishes State lines and as such it must be developed."

Commander Donald B. MacMillan, polar explorer; Francis Frederick, Count Treuberg and Duke de Goyaz, visiting Hollywood on leave from his cavalry regiment in Spain; Dr. Y. C. James Yen, director of the Chinese Association for Mass Education; Geoffrey Cunliffe, British financier and Bank of England representative; Charles Gos, French author and lecturer; Arthur and Charles Warner, speedometer inventors, and judges and exhibitors of the Los Angeles National Horse Show were among the other guests introduced.

A short memorial service for Edward L. Doheny, Jr., and also for Nat Parmum, a member whose death occurred last Friday, opened the program.

ARTIC EXPLORER
THETA DELTA CHI GUEST

Donald B. McMillan, Arctic explorer, last night was the honor guest at a dinner given by the Southern California Graduate Association of Theta Delta Chi Fraternity at the University Club. Mr. McMillan, who was a member of the Peary Polar Expedition of 1908 and 1909 and head of the McMillan Arctic expeditions of 1915, 1921 and 1927, lectured on his experiences and exhibited several hundred feet of film taken on his exploration trips. He is a member of the fraternity and an alumnus of Bowdoin College, Maine, of the class of 1897. The dinner was attended by several score members of the fraternity and their wives and families.

Mr. McMillan, who is in Los Angeles for a short visit before making final preparations for another expedition into the Arctic next May, was a guest of the Breakfast Club in the morning and later in the day flew by plane over the Westwood site of the University of California at Los Angeles, where the fraernity contemplates establishing a chapter home on the campus.

Aviatrix to Race Bobby Trout at Airport Today

Bobby Trout will have at least one competitor in her challenge air race to be held tomorrow as part of the celebration opening the Grand Central Air Terminal. Margaret Perry, 22 - year - old aviatrix of Beverly Hills, accepted the former's challenge yesterday and will race against Miss Trout's time from Grand Central to Metropolitan Airport and return to the starting point, she said.

ANDREW J. COPP, JR.

Miss Perry will pilot a three-place Sparton biplane powered with a Walter 120-horsepower motor. She has had 140 hours in the air and is said to be ranked among the best women flyers in Southern California. The race will start at approximately 3 o'clock with Miss Trout leaving the field first and Miss Perry racing against the time of the former.

Chevrolet Official Sees Prosperity's Continuation; Will Address Meetings

"The first weeks of the new year have been marked by almost universal prosperity in all parts of the country, and there is every evidence that this era of good times will continue throughout 1929." Such was the statement made yesterday by R. H. Grant, vice-president in charge of sales of the Chevrolet Motor Company, who is here to preside over a general sales meeting of the organization in Southern California.

"Five and one-half million cars will be produced and sold by the automotive industry this year. We, of course, expect to share heavily in what promises to be the greatest year the automotive industry has ever known. Our schedules are tentatively set at 1,250,000 cars and trucks for the year. Chevrolet sales last year in California were very satisfactory," continued Grant.

"The introduction of the new six-cylinder Chevrolet has brought tremendous pressure on the assembly plant in Oakland, which is running at capacity. Opening of new assembly plants at Kansas City and Atlanta last year added production facilities of more than 200,000 cars per year and they will be needed this year to the utmost."

More than 1000 Chevrolet dealers and retail salesmen will attend the meeting this afternoon in the Philharmonic Auditorium over which Grant will preside. A dinner in the fiesta room of the Ambassador tonight with another talk by Grant will close the day.

Knights Templar Commander Goes on Visit Tonight

R. E. Sir Andrew James Copp, Jr., Grand Commander of Knights Templar of the Grand Commandery of the State of California, officially will visit his own commandery, Los Angeles, No. 9, this evening at 8 o'clock, accompanied by his Grand Commandery suite.

MARGARET PERRY

The drill Corps of Los Angeles Commandery will form a line of march, through which the Grand Commander will be received and welcomed by Commander J. H. Sheridan of Los Angeles Commandery.

At the conclusion of the official reception the Grand Commander will deliver his lecture, "The Trial of Jesus From the Standpoint of an Attorney." Mr. Copp is a well-known attorney of Los Angeles and active in the affairs of the California Bar Association.

Warrant Issued in Alimony Case

Bench warrant was issued by Superior Judge Rosenkranz for George W. Husted, oil man, who is charged by his wife with being $500 behind with her alimony.

Mrs. Husted was granted a divorce a year ago on ground of extreme cruelty after her attorney, S. S. Hahn, had introduced witnesses to prove Husted was a man of considerable means.

"We must put teeth in this alimony law," said Judge Rosenkranz. "It is a man's first duty to provide for his children. If he doesn't, he'll have to go to jail."

PROTESTS LACKING

No protests were made to the City Council yesterday against the ordinance of intention for the improvement of streets in the Beacon-street and Second-street improvement district, so the final ordinance probably will be presented and approved within a few days.

AND ACTIVITIES AT LOS ANGELES HARBOR

ANNUAL FETE OF BILGE CLUB SET

Plans Announced for Dinner Saturday Night

Attendance of 200 Shipping Men Expected

Affair to Have a Distinctly Nautical Flavor

The California Yacht Club, wherein have been hatched many notable marine enterprises, will be the scene of the first annual dinner of the Bilge Club next Saturday night, with 200 shipping men whose business keeps them within the confines of the water front, a qualification upon which membership in the club is contingent, to be present.

Nautical atmosphere, arranged by those men to whom the romance of the sea and ships is everyday business, will prevail. A regulation gangplank will give entry to the club, to be decorated with the house flags of all steamship lines plying out of the port, while hours and half-hours of a landlubber's clock will give way to the bells of nautical time. Seagoing terms will prevail, with "bulkheads" replacing "walls" and "topside" for "upstairs."

As guests of the water-front chiefs there will be present uptown steamship executives and maritime leaders from San Francisco, Portland and Seattle. Entertainment, distinctly nautical in motif, will follow the dinner and addresses.

O. B. Kible, former president of the Board of Harbor Commissioners, is general chairman for the annual dinner. Other committee chairmen include: Program, Harry J. Summers, principal surveyor for Southern California of the American Bureau of Shipping; entertainment, Edwin Nichols, manager of the Marine Service Bureau; refreshments, Charles I. Houghton, marine insurance broker; decorations, J. C. MacQuiddy, manager marine department Standard Oil Company; tickets and finance, Howard H. Wickersham, customs broker; dinner, Don Montague, commission merchant; reception, Jay G Starr, traffic manager Los Angeles Harbor Department.

NEW LASSCO CRAFT TO BE RECONDITIONED

Fifty thousand dollars will be spent in reconditioning the steamer West Lianga, just acquired from the Shipping Board by the Los Angeles Steamship Company, according to Ralph J. Chandler, vice-president and general manager of the latter.

The steamer, a war-time built ship, has been lying at Norfolk and will be reconditioned there. She will sail from Baltimore westward April 25, next, on her first trip intercoastal.

She is the third steamer recently acquired by the Lassco, all of which will be entered in the intercoastal fleet of the Arrow Line, succeeding three taken from that line by K. G. Dawson's new merger. Lassco's other acquirements are the West Haven, which will sail from Baltimore March 28, and the Mursa, reconditioning at San Francisco.

En route from the east coast, the new first-class Coast Guard cutter Tahoe is due here about the 27th inst. for permanent assignment to some California port—probably San Francisco—according to officers of Base No. 17.

She is commanded by Commander L. C. Covell, who was commandant at the local base until a year ago. The Tahoe carries a peacetime battery of one five-inch and one three-inch antiaircraft guns and two six-pounders. She is 250 feet long. Dieselized and cost around $1,000,000.

Apropos of foreign trade week, now under way, invitations went out from Y. Kimura, resident representative of Nippon Yusen Kaisha, for an informal luncheon aboard the liner Tenyo Maru at noon today. Upward of 150 have been invited, including officials of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, foreign traders and other shipping men. The Tenyo Maru, one of the largest liners in the trans-Pacific service, is here on her first regular trip under new schedules, and will sail home tomorrow at 2 p.m. after embarking 150 passengers and loading 1000 tons.

The Pacific Coast's first contribution to international yacht racing, the eight-meter sloop Marin, owned by Commodore Ralph Ellis, of Oyster Bay, N. Y., and designed by Nicholas S. Potter of Los Angeles, will be launched next Sunday at 10 a.m., at the yards of the Wilmington Boat Works, her builders, with several hundred of the Coast's prominent yachtsmen in attendance.

The Marin, being built primarily to represent the United States on Long Island Sound next September when British yachtsmen attempt to capture the historic Seawanhaka Cup, will race first off San Pedro next March 9 to 14, in the national midwinter regatta, for the new King of Spain's trophy.

Forty first-cabin passengers, 15,000 stems of bananas from the Canal Zone and 3000 tons of freight from Europe came in yesterday aboard the Hamburg-American motorliner Seattle. In her cargo from Antwerp and Hamburg were shipments of steel pipe, potash, nitrates, tile, glassware and hardware. Col. George Merz, World War cavalry hero, and now chief of the German cavalry schools at Dresden, was a passenger.

Funeral services will be conducted from Cleveland & Barker's mortuary at Wilmington at 11 a.m. today for Frank Gomez, chief steward on the Isthmian freighter Atlantic, who died of lung congestion between San Francisco and here. The freighter, bound for the Atlantic, stopped here just long enough to remove the body.

Mrs. Myrtle Bryson's motor schooner Sequoia will be chartered out as a fish tender to the Franco Italian Packing Company, and will sail for Cape San Lucas the first of March. Capt. Thomas A. Johnson will command the ship.
